Mary K. Carr
(part of the co. above)

Wed,

Glad to see you back on your feet. Gettysburg was terrific and stopping here made the trip just that much nicer (since I haven't seen you since last year). If you ever go to Gettysburg again give our regards to Jenny Wade. Thanks for the hospitality. Love Janet (another part of the Co. above) PS Sorry about the rules

Gram -

OK - which one of you wants to go out for a drink? What's a wutzie? Gettysburg will never be the same. Saw the battlefields, cemetaries, museums, memorials, Electric map, Cyclorama, stores RESTAURANTS - but the high point was certainly the house where Jenny Wade's young life was snuffed out! We left sick - return broke. Thanx for the use of your beds and the food - and chocolate cookies See ya Thanksgiving

Pattye

Sorry about mile #2 Gramma - we're too broke to pay it.

Happy B-Day Uncle Don.

Hi,

Although I've only met you once and have never been to your house, I felt so much at home. It was a great way to begin and end our trip to Gettysburg. Thankyou for the fantastic meals (you make great sloppy joes) and your company

Lynne R. Pollard

(I must admit I'm also one of the crazy people from the company above!)

Enjoyed having this "Co." very much.

New experience - writing in this thing (except for my scribbly signature at the innocent age of two). Had fun seeing you again and seeing everyone! It's not going to be six yrs. next time - I'm coming back as soon as I get my license and can grab a car. Poland is a nice change - gives you a piece of a peaceful mind. I will return! Say "hi!" to Annie cover for me. Forgot the dog this time (Rule #6). Love xxooxo...

Dear Ethel

It was so nice to hear from you. Thanks so much for the clippings, it's always interesting to see what they are showing at the Youngstown Gallery.

Chester is having a show at the Huntington Bank here with Robert Chadeayne the painter that he went to the East with, (mountain hiking).

Jim much better - I guess Christmas got me (blood-pressure up) and I was having a little trouble
Jim sure it must be down

Sugar and Spice . . .

My grandmother's cookies taste of sugar and spice and chocolate chips
But the sweetest taste of all in granny's cookies
Is the love
That is baked in.

From Gayle -1977

Did You Bake Today, Grandma?

I'd rather eat spaghetti with you
Than chateaubriand with a king.
Of course, no king
Has invited me for chateaubriand lately.

Thanks, Grandma, for Not Telling Me My Face Is Dirty, My Hair Is Too Long, and My Jeans Are Torn

It takes a special grace
Not to say the obvious.

Call That Love

I have been taught
All homage is due
Those much older than I,
And so I respect you, Grandmother dear.

Call that manners.

But I have not been taught
The heart must fill and feel
Such tenderness for you.
And yet it does.

Call that love.

Merry Christmas
