TURKEY BOWL CONSPIRACY REVEALED

by Poison Pen Pattye

WikiLeaks has reported that among yet another pile of Hillary Clinton's e-mails that have just come to light, there is indisputable evidence of sports fraud. The Clinton Foundation used contributions to bribe officials to rig the outcome of the upcoming Turkey Bowl Game in the Silver Bucks favor. This was in response to the efforts of Donald Trump to take control of the Nicolls Football League Young Bucks team and rebrand them as the Trump Turf Trouncers. Trump outfitted the Youngs in new Nike uniforms of Gold and Green and offered them scholarships to Trump University where they would study the fine art of turning bankruptcy into a benefit. One has to wonder what the outcome of the Presidential election would have been if this information would have appeared before now.

In the meantime, the Clintonites and Trumpistas are in for a long, litigious slog through the court system to sort it all out. Clinton says: "Bring it on! I've already gone through over 1,000 investigations. What's one more?" Trump stated: "This is going to be HUGE! We finally have the 'smoking gun' that will lock her up and throw away the key." That "smoking gun" referred to by Trump is the photo that shows two corrupt Silver Buck players offering the Clinton lucre to Turkey Bowl Head Referee Hank Grover of Poland, OH. The credit card offered by one player is a personal one belonging to Hillary Clinton which her Foundation pays. The cold cash offered by the other player was gleefully accepted by Mr. Grover who appears to be gesturing that the player needs to empty out more of his pockets. Your intrepid reporter has found that Mr. Grover wasted no time cashing in. He, along with his wife Monica, will be spending this and all subsequent winters in Key Biscayne, Florida aboard his new $7 million yacht. Meanwhile, the FBI, under Director Comey, has been tailing Mr. Grover on his shopping sprees and have obtained some specimens of the large denomination bills. After dusting for prints, the money was found to have Bill Clinton's digits all over them. No doubt, there will be more of this sordid tale to tell in the coming days leading up to Turkey Bowl XXXIV.

From the police files of New Castle, PA, we see the Notorious B.I.G. (Bakery Ingesting Gastro-nomes) as they did their perp walk for the suspect line up at police headquarters. Members of the Nicolls clan identified all four suspects as responsible for the sudden disappearance of a majority of the items on the famed Nicolls Dessert Table. The well-known "sweet teeth" of the Nicolls family were aching that day for lack of sugar. The teen-aged "posse" showed absolutely no remorse. The street sale value of the goods would have netted them $75. The judge was lenient when it was found that they ate the goodies themselves rather than sell it to sugar fiends on the street.

Silver Bucks Get Lesson in Perseverance at World Series. Vow to Prevail in T-Bowl

Bob and Bill Nicolls, senior members of the Silver squad had the good fortune to attend Game 7 of this years' MLB World Series. Two of the eldest members of each league went mano-a-mano and showed that old franchises do indeed, have a lot of life left in them. Both the Scrubs and the Indians showed their mettle in this titanic battle. (Speaking of Titanic, even THAT was more recent than the Scrubs previous championship.) Bob the Bill were so invigorated by the experience, they figure to be an unbeatable force against the Youngs this year.
