INTRODUCTION

It has been said that the greatest gift one generation can give another generation is a written record. How true. Without the paper of July 20, 1905, by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5), researching the first five generations of the Nicolls family in America would have been much more difficult. This paper, along with a family tree copied from one belonging to Jennie Nicolls Coursen Woodard (6), directed my search of our early background in America. However, it was the stories interestingly told by my father, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls (6), that inspired me with the desire to know more about our family background.

It is fitting, and has been most helpful, that the eldest grandchild of Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5), Edna Nicolls Tyler (7), was interested in family history. She wrote biographical sketches of the children of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls (5) resulting in a good written record of our sixth generation and rural family life in Crawford County, Pennsylvania, between 1860 and 1955.

The first two generations of our family lived in the State of New York. Simon (2) was living in Ulster County, New York, when he was drafted in May, 1775. After the Revolutionary War, they lived in Little Falls in Herkimer County. William (2) and family eventually settled in Locke, Cayuga County, and records reveal Simon (2), when sixty-six years of age, lived in Sullivan, Madison County, New York.

The third generation ventured westward and settled in Crawford County, Pennsylvania, in 1838. Simon (3) died in 1844, and is buried in the Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pa. His son, Seneca (4), and his two sons, Simon Chauncey (5) and Addison Emmett (5), lived on land on Thatcher Road in Spring Township. Some of the land owned by Seneca (4) passed on to the fifth generation and eventually to the children of Simon (5). Still more land was obtained by the sixth generation of brothers and sisters and their families who lived and prospered together in this rural setting.

After World War II, probably partly due to the great improvements in communications and travel, the seventh generation of our family became scattered throughout the country. Because of this, I feel it is an opportune time to record for future generations the known history of the Nicolls family.

This record concerns the known descendants of William Nicolls (1), emigrant from Ireland. It especially concerns the descendants of Simon (3), who was the first known Nicolls in Crawford County, Pennsylvania. Included also is the information available about the family of Catherine Nicolls Greenfield, sister of Simon (3), whose family settled in Crawford County about the same time. Data concerning descendants of William Harrison (4), youngest son of Simon (3), recently received from René Nicolls Birch in Idaho, is also included.

The result, although far from complete and surely not without error, is here presented with the hope that it will find favor with the many scattered relatives, who through its medium may come to know more of each other.

EXPLANATIONS

As will be observed, the following records are arranged according to generations, the Emigrant Ancestor being the first generation, and he is number 1 in the genealogy. His children are the second generation and are numbered 2 and 3, with all descendants being numbered consecutively in this way. A number in parenthesis, (3), following a name indicates the individual's generation; the number to the left of a name is his assigned number according to placement in the Nicolls family, and the i, ii, iii, etc., before a name indicates the place of a person within his immediate family.

The accompanying index is supposed to contain the name of every person mentioned in The Nicolls Family. The figures opposite the name refer to the assigned numbers in the genealogy, not to page numbers.

The names of persons, not descendants, are indexed to the numbers in whose records they are mentioned. Every name is indexed to the number or numbers under which it occurs, whether it be its own or some other number. Usually the first number after a person's name in the index will supply the most information about an individual.

At the end of each of the ten generations in this volume, a page has been provided for your corrections, additions and notes. Hopefully, future historians of the Nicolls family will be able to provide a more complete family history.

NUMBERING FOR ADDITIONS AFTER THE NICOLLS FAMILY BOOK was completed in 1981.

As in the NICOLLS FAMILY book, the following records are arranged ac- cording to generations. The emigrant ancestor being the first generation so he is number one. His children are the second generation, etc. The number in parenthesis, (3), following a name indicates the individual's generation. The number to the left of the name is his assigned number according to placement in the Nicolls family. (Example: 2. Simon Nicolls)

The i,ii,iii,etc., indicates the place of a person within his immediate family. i is the first born, ii the second born, etc.

In the ADDITIONS Records Of the Nicolls family, a child born after 1981 is assigned his Nicolls parent's number +1 to indicate one more generation.
Example:

311+1:i Emilie Bryon Ridge

The 311 is the number for Gayle Jeanne Grover (9), the child, Mother.
The +1 indicates the child, is in the 10th generation. The :i indicates Emilie is the first born.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

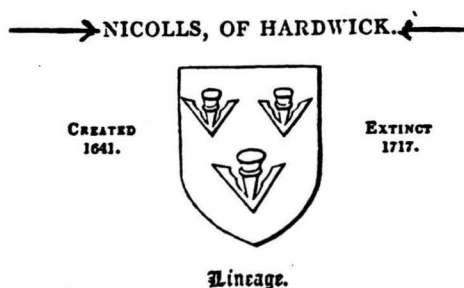

The author takes this opportunity to acknowledge the help and encouragement received from so many members of the family. To my father, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls, for telling such interesting stories about our family; to my mother, Harriet Beebe Nicolls, and Edna Nicolls Tyler for a written record of the children of Simon and Louisa Shaw Nicolls; to Jennie Nicolls Coursen Woodard for allowing me to copy the family tree in the 1930's; to Ethel Lininger Nicolls for the information about her family written to me in her 85th year; to Winifred Tyler Garrigus for sharing information collected by her mother, Edna Nicolls Tyler; to Irene Henretty Freeman for information about the Anna Nicolls Henretty branch of the family; to Wayne Henretty for pictures of past generations and information, too, of the Henretty branch; to Ross and Robert T. L. Graham for information concerning L. C. Nicolls Vapner and the Q. V. Nicolls Graham family; to Christine Greenfield for information regarding the Greenfield family; to René Nicolls Birch for information about some of the descendants of William Harrison Nicolls (4); to Mary and David Nicolls for sending the random memories of Ethel McCoy Nicolls; to Karen Cody-Hopkins for the WILL of William (2); to Rebecca Nicolls Grieser for the written record of the family of Arthur Jay Nicolls; to Jennie Nicolls Stake for helping research the records at the Crawford County Court House and for her thoughtfulness in sending me a subscription to the Conneautville Courier from which I gathered much information about the family in that area; to my daughter, Carol Ohl Hudson, and her family, for their interest, encouragement, and subscriptions to The Genealogical Helper and The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, which were most helpful; to my husband, Wilton John Ohl, for his interest, help and understanding while ten generations of the Nicolls family lived with us in our family room; and to each of you who took the time to complete and return to me the form requesting information.

Acknowledgement of help is also accredited Mrs. Harold Schambach, who presently resides near the "old Shaw homestead", for sharing information about the Shaw and Nicolls families taken from a book of newspaper clippings kept by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Havens, and to Madeline H. Carey, Town Historian, Locke, Cayuga County, New York, for information about the Nicolls family in Locke. To Violet Fallone, Historical Archives, Montgomery County History and Archives, Old Court House, Fonda, New York, for information about the wives of Simon (2) and William (2), Annatache and Catharina Reay.

COAT OF ARMS

William Nicolls, who was born in the reign of Edward IV, bore the arms, "sa. three pheons arg", which were created in 1641 and became extinct in 1717. William of Hardwick, Northamptonshire, died at the age of ninety-six in 1575 and was buried in Hardwicke Church.

Francis Nicolls, Esq. of Hardwick, a grandson of William Nicolls, had a confirmation of these arms, with the addition of "a canton arg".

The same coat of arms was also used by the Nicholls of Cornwall and by the Nicholls, of Llantwitt Major, in Glamorganshire, who probably descended from a common ancestor with the Nicolls family of Northamptonshire.

Thomas Nicolls, Esq. sergent-at-law, son of William Nicolls and father of Francis Nicolls, purchased a third of the manor of Hardwicke, Northamptonshire.

Augustine Nicolls, Knight of Faxton and second son of William, was a member of the legal profession. He entered himself at the Middle Temple and was reader in the last year of the reign of Elizabeth. He obtained the coif during her majesty's reign and was made king's serjeant by James I and eventually became one of the judges of the court of Common Pleas. After his decease in 1616, the manor of Faxton with its appertinances became the property of his nephew and heir, Francis Nicolls.

Sir Edward Nicolls, son of Francis Nicolls, died February 28, 1682, whereupon the estates of Hardwick and Faxton went to his son and heir, Sir Edward Nicolls, who died in 1717, when the Baronetcy became extinct; the estates went to his two sisters, Lady Danvers and Mrs. Kemsey.

This coat of arms may, or may not, pertain to our family background. My study of our family history has been limited to the ten generations in America during and since the Revolutionary War. However, I have encountered many references prior to 1775, of many people in this country with the name of Nicolls.

Emigration

William Nicolls, wife and two sons came from Ireland. (Paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls, July 20, 1905) According to my father, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls (6) and Edna Nicolls Tyler (7), our Nicolls ancestors were Scotch-Irish. The Scotch-Irish were referred to as Irish when they immigrated in the 1700s. The hyphen was used later to distinguish them from the Catholic Irish who immigrated in the nineteenth century.

The causes of emigration from Ireland at that time were the usual ones of religious persecution, economic oppression, and civil restrictions imposed by the government upon a conquered, unhappy people. During the colonial period, most of the emigrants from Ireland to America were descendants of early Scotch Presbyterians who settled in Ulster (Northern Ireland) in the seventeenth century. They represented a rough, turbulent group from the Lowlands of Scotland. A minister of that day proclaimed that going to Ireland was looked upon as a miserable mark of a deplorable person. However, in 1663, the Reverend Robert Blair, stated that "Divine Providence sent over to Ireland some worthy people of birth, education, and parts". Because of the causes of emigration stated above, many of the offspring of these Scotch Presbyterians who settled Ulster in the seventeenth century departed for America in the eighteenth century.

The population grew rapidly in Ulster. Both the native and recently settled newcomers from Scotland multiplied rapidly so that by the middle of the seventeenth century there were about 100,000 Scotch and 20,000 English in northern Ireland. There was much intermarriage between the Scotch and Irish and Presbyterianism became a strong religious bond for the "Scotch-Irish". Religious persecution of the Scotch-Irish took place in the later part of the seventeenth century when the Episcopalian authorities tried to impose their religious beliefs throughout the land.

The English commercial system, mercantilism, which England applied to her colonial holdings at that time was an important reason for the emigration of the Scotch-Irish, too. Irish ships and produce were shut out of England and impossible restrictions were placed on the manufacture and trade of Irish woolens. It is interesting to note that according to the paper of June 20, 1820, Court of Common Pleas, County of Madison, N. Y., our Simon Nicolls (2) was a weaver by trade. (See paper, page 32)

The nearest port of embarkation for the Scotch-Irish leaving for the American colonies was Londonderry. Heavy emigration began about 1720. The first ship loads of Scotch-Irish went to New England where they were not welcomed by the Puritans, who could not overcome their national hatred for all the people of Ireland. Hence, the Scotch-Irish went to Pennsylvania, where land could be acquired on easy terms and religious differences were tolerated.

It was not long before the Scotch-Irishman in the American colonies was known as the best of the frontiersmen. He was always ready and prepared to fight the good fight. His ever-ready knife, gun and quick mind allowed him to 'squat' on land whenever he found it for the taking. He loved whiskey, weddings and wakes. Most of all, he felt at home in this new, unsettled, boisterous land that, with his help, was destined to become the United States of America.

VARIED SPELLINGS OF "NICOLLS"

Some of the different spellings of our name are Nicolls, Nicoll, Nicols, Nicol, Nichols, Nicholls, Nichol and Nickels. Many indexes use "Nichols" with all the varied spellings of the name referenced thereunder. This hampers and prolongs one's research efforts somewhat, although, sometimes it produces desired information.

The national origin and the meaning of the name in various spellings follows:

Nicol	}	Descendants of Nicolas. Scottish form of Nicholas meaning people's victory. Scotland
Nicoll

According to the paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5), dated July 20, 1905, William (1), wife, and two sons, Simon and William, came from Ireland. William (1) and sons were in the army when Howe took possession of New York in the summer of 1776. Leaving his wife in New York City, William (1) and sons went up the Hudson River to Stony Point, New York.

There are two Stony Points in the State of New York; one in Clinton County and one in Rockland County. The one in Rockland County was the scene of heavy fighting during the Revolutionary War and the one famous for the surprise attack led by General Anthony Wayne when he recaptured the post and made prisoners of the entire garrison. (The Bicentennial Almanac, p. 26) In all probability the Stony Point in Rockland County was the destination of William and sons.

I have been unable to get the military records for William (1) and his son, William (2). The New York State Archives informed me that many records were destroyed or damaged in a fire in 1911. The documents pertaining to the two Williams are believed to have been destroyed.

According to James A. Robert's book, "New York in the Revolution as Colony and State", a William Nicolls from Ulster County, N. Y., served in the 4th Militia; a William Nickoll, Sr., with the rank of Private served in Col. James McClaughrey's Regiment of Militia at Peenpack, in Ulster County, N.Y., and still another William Nichols served in Col. James McClaughrey's Regiment in June, 1779, at Fort West Point. Despite the different spellings of the last name of the two Williams who served in Col. James McClaughrey's Regiment, it is possible that they may have been our William (1) and his son, William (2).

Children: None

Simon came from Ireland, along with his parents and brother, William (2). The father and two sons were in the army when Howe took possession of New York in 1776. According to the New York State Roll, Simon's service in the Revolutionary War started in 1775. He was discharged at Fort Plank, February 5, 1779. The discharge paper states that Simon was from Ulster County, New York. He served under Captain Israel Smith in the 4th Battalion of the New York Forces, commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston, and later by Lt. Col. Pierre Regnier, the signer of Simon's discharge paper.

During 1778-1779, Simon was on the Roll at Camp Valley Forge, Camp White Plains, Camp Continental Village, and Camp Fort Plank. The letter by George Rannier of Onondaga County, N. Y., states that Simon was in the service a short time previous to the Battle of Monmouth in June, 1778. However, his pension certificate, No. 4582, reads as follows: Simon Nicolls, Colonel Clinton, 4th Reg., New York Line, Private, 1775, 3 years.

His records received from the National Archives in Washington, D. C., account only for the years of 1778 and 1779. Probably some of his records were destroyed in the fire of 1911.

Two references found in the Library, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Raleigh, N. C., were a great help in my search for information about Simon (2). They follow:

1. Simon Nicolls had his thigh broken by a baggage wagon going over him on a march, June 1776. (S43077) (I was told the "S" preceding the number indicates he was a survivor.)
2. Simon Nicols, (note spelling, single l) enlisted man in "The Line" of the 4th Regiment, Colonel James Holmes. (New York in the Revolution)

As you will note in Simon's discharge paper of February 5, 1779, he was drafted for only nine months. During the Revolutionary War, men were called into service as needed, sometimes for only a few days to combat the English in a crucial battle. Often after the battle, they were allowed to return home to their usual work until needed again. There were few trained soldiers and as a result many were in and out of the service several times during the duration of the war. Even General George Washington had trouble keeping the cold, hungry, poorly equipped men in his command from deserting.

According to the records of the Lutheran Trinity Church, Stone Arabia, Town of Palatine, Montgomery County, N. Y., Simon Nicols and wife, Annatche, sponsored the baptism of Annatche, born August 2, 1798, a child of Peter Von Sleik and wife, Gertraut.

The records of the Dutch Reformed Church, St. Johnsville, Montgomery County, N. Y., reveals that Simon Nicols and Anna Nicols sponsored the baptism of their nephew, John Nicolls, whose parents were William and Catharina Reay Nicolls. Simon Nicols and William Nicolls were brothers and their wives, Annatache (Anna) and Catharina, were sisters.

support; and that he has no other evidence now in his power of his said services.

Sworn to and declared before me, the day and year aforesaid. Simon Nicolle

John Stocking Judge

I, John Stocking

Judge, &c. as aforesaid, do certify, that it appears to my satisfaction, that the said Simon Nicolle did serve in the revolutionary war, as stated in the preceding declaration, against the common enemy, for the term of nine months, on the continental establishment; and I now transmit the proceedings and testimony taken and had before me, to the Secretary for the Department of War, pursuant to the directions of the aforementioned act of Congress.

Dated April 28th 1818 John Stocking
State of New York Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas in & for the County of Madison on the 28th day of April 1818 duly qualified also that the signatures to the above appear to be in his own proper hand writing. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand & affixed the seal of said Court the 6th day of May 1818 John H. Hume Clerk

State of New York

Madison County, I John Keller being duly sworn says that he is well acquainted with Simon Nicolls the person to whom the annexed certificate of discharge was given - that he is the same person who is in the annexed papers - applies for the provision contained in the act entitled "An Act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land & naval service of the United States in the revolutionary war" that he knew the said Nicolls when a private soldier in the Regiment commanded by Lt. Col. Rogers in the service of the United States in the years 1778 and 1779. that this Defendant was present when said discharge given that said Nicolls was quartered during the winter in the house of this Defendant's father - he thinks the name of the Captain of the company in which Nicolls served was Israel Smith

I Subish Nicoll Clerk of the county of Madison, do hereby certify, that the foregoing oath and the schedule thereto annexed, are truly copied from the record of the said court, and I do further certify, that it is the opinion of the said court, that the total amount in value of the property exhibited in the aforesaid schedule is forty eight dollars and 17 cents. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the said court, on this 24th day of June 1820

J. M. Hura
Clerk of the court of the county of Madison.

Prof. Sir
 Simon Nicolls was a soldier in the Revolution in the state of N.Y. and drew a Pension. It is said there was a balance undrawn at the time of his death (which occurred about 18 years since). He left a widow who died about 10 years ago, and left no children and no heirs but nephews. Is any one of so who entitled to the balance in arrears (if any)?

The soldier never drew any land - Are his nephews entitled to any by virtue of his services? Or any other persons and if so who?

I am requested by one of the nephews (who is a remote connection of our worthy President) to make these inquiries & desire your answer as soon as convenient.

Yours &c

- b. Date unknown. Probably in Ireland.
- d. 1814 WILL proved February 23, 1814, Cayuga County, New York.
- m. Date unknown. To Catharina Reay, sister of Simon's wife. Marriage probably took place in the Little Falls/Mohawk Valley area after the Revolutionary War.

William, his father, and brother were in the army when Howe took possession of New York in 1776. He settled in Little Falls, N. Y., after the war. Later he moved his family to the town of Locke, Cayuga County, N. Y., where according to his WILL, he owned land and was engaged in farming.

The following is part of a letter from Madeline H. Carey, Town Historian, Locke, N. Y.:

Locke was formed in February, 1802, from Milton. I have never heard of the Cayuga Canal, but part of the Erie Canal did go through the northern end of our County over thirty miles from Locke. It is doubtful Locke residents worked on the Canal, but this may have been one reason people came to this area. Farming is the main livelihood.

From the records I have collected, I have found several references to the Nicolls, but nothing on Ray (Reay) and only one on Glessen (Gleason), Abner, in the 1810 census. (Abner Gleason was the father of Polly Gleason, who married Simon Nicolls, son of William.) In the Earmark Index there is a John Nicolls, p. 32, and a Simon Nicolls on p. 16. Revolutionary War soldiers include a John Nichols buried in Old Locke Cemetery, dates unreadable. Early WILLS for Locke include William Nicolls, 1809, who happens to have the earliest WILL for the town. It is filed in the Cayuga County Court House, Auburn, N. Y. The 1810 census gives a John Nicolls with a household of 2 males ages 16-26, 1 male 10-16, 1 female 10-16, 1 female 16-26; a George Nicolls with 2 males under 10, 1 male 16-26, and 1 female 16-26. My 1828 map shows S. Nicolls in Lot 24 and a George Nicolls in Lot 25. That would be on what is presently Erron Hill Road and Hoag Avenue, one of the very earliest roads in Locke, and only a short distance from where I live. That area proved to have unproductive land and some of it has been reclaimed and reforested by the state. My neighbor remembers a house site in the vicinity of the land that belonged to your family. There is still a patch of daffodils growing by the house site. Signed, Madeline H. Carey, March 3, 1980.

The John, George, and Simon mentioned in the above letter are the three eldest sons of William (2). The WILL of William (2), stated to be the earliest WILL for the town of Locke follows:

Surrogate's Court Clerk
Cayuga County, New York

WILL BOX A: 319, Box 6

The last Will and Testament of WILLIAM NICOLLS of Locke, County of Cayuga and State of New York made and signed and sealed at Locke, this twenty-third day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and nine, I, the sd William Nicolls being sick and feeble as to bodily health, but of sound memory, first I do bequeath and will to my Eldest Son, George Nicolls, being in his twenty-sixth year of his age, fifty acres land being part of Lot Number twenty-four, in the town of Locke lying in the North West corner of sd lot, thence south to the middle of the west line of sd lot, thence East so far as to contain Fifty acres. Second, I do will and bequeath to my Son, Simon Nicolls, aged seventeen years the twenty-third day of February, fifty acres of Land, being part of Lot Number twenty-four in the town of Locke bounded half the distance of sd Lot north and south, and north on the north line of sd lot, west of Land willed to George Nicolls, and so far east as to contain fifty acres, and it is further my will, that my son, Simon Nicolls, have his time for his own benefit until he is of age, likewise that he the sd Simon Nicolls pay one hundred dollars as soon as he is of the age of twenty-one years to my son, John Nicolls, who is the sole executor of my estate towards paying debts and performing other parts of this Will. Third, I do will and bequeath to my Son, William Nicolls, aged twelve years the fourth day of September last, fifty acres of Land being part of Lot Number Twenty-four in the town of Locke, bounded on the North line of sd lot south, half the distance through the sd lot, West on land willed to my Son, Simon Nicolls, thence East so far as to contain fifty acres. Fourth, I do will and bequeath to my Daughter, Catherine Nicolls, aged nineteen years the eighteenth day of last May, two cows and half of the housing furniture, and five sheep and two hundred dollars. Fifth, I do will and bequeath to my daughter, Anna Nicolls, aged fourteen years the twenty-sixth day of November Last, one year old heifer past, five sheep, and half the housing furniture except one feather bed and bedding and two hundred dollars. Sixth, I do will and bequeath to my Son, John Nicolls, aged twenty-one years last May the twelfth, fifty acres of land being part of Lot number twenty-four in the town of Locke bounded north and east by lines on Plot, and south by Patrick Monighan, west by land willed to my Son, William Nicolls, containing fifty acres and all the residue of my personal estate and credits that are standing out, on his paying the several legacies herein after mentioned and before mentioned in this Will, and also to pay all debts due from the estate. I do further will, constitute, and appoint my Son, John Nicolls, the sole executor of personal estate and lands as far as the law permits. First, I do will that my sd Executor pay all debts due from my estate, Second, that my sd Executor pay to my Daughter, Catherine Nicolls, the several sums mentioned in this will; viz, two cows and half the housing furniture, within one month after my death if she wants it, and five sheep the first day of September next, and one hundred dollars at the expiration of three years and one hundred dollars at the expiration of four years. I do further will that my sd Executor pay the several sums willed to my Daughter, Anna Nicolls; viz, one yearling heifer and one half of the housing furniture except one bed and bedding within one month after my death, and five sheep the first day of September next, and one hundred dollars eight years after my death. I do further will that my sd Executor furnish my Son, Simon Nicolls, his winter cloaths (clothes) and living cloaths next summer, and to let him have his home at my now dwelling house, when he comes from his labors, and let him have a colt, if the mare has one, when it is fit to wene (wean); I do further will that my sd Executor take charge of my Son, William, and provide for him in victuals and Cloths and Cehooling (schooling) as long as they can agree, and if it should so happen that William lives with my sd Executor until he is twenty-one years old, it is my will that my sd Executor furnish him a shift of cloaths and one yoke of oxen.

It is interesting to note that since Simon Nicolls (2) and wife, Annatache Reay Nicolls, were childless, all future generations of the Nicolls family in America are descendants of William Nicolls (2) and wife, Catharina Reay Nicolls.

On page 1037 of The History of Crawford County, Pa., further proof that William Nicolls (2) served in the Revolutionary War is found in a biographical sketch of Seneca Nicolls (4). It states, "Simon Nicolls was a soldier in the War of 1812; his father in the Revolutionary War".

Simon Nicolls (3) was the father of Seneca (4); William Nicolls (2) was the father of Simon Nicolls (3), the father stated to have been in the Revolutionary War. See Seneca Nicolls (4), number 28, for the complete sketch.

Simon Nicolls was the fourth child of William and Catharina Reay Nicolls.

Simon was probably born in Locke, Cayuga County, New York. His second wife, Polly Gleason Nicolls, from whom we are descended, died in Locke, N. Y., in 1821. Simon and family moved to Crawford County, Pa., in 1838.

He was a volunteer in the War of 1812, serving under Captain John Cantine's Co. of Artillery, Detached Militia, 3rd Regiment, New York State Artillery and Light Infantry. He was in the battle of Fort George, Upper Canada.

According to a paper by Edna Nicolls Tyler (7), Simon was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and his wife, Polly Gleason Nicolls, was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

From Conneautville Courier December 20, 1877

"The M. E. Church" History as presented by Hon. W. S. Crozier at the last service in the old church, December 16th, 1877. (Church was on corner of Walnut and E. Main)

July 1844.... James M. Plant and Richard M. Bean, C.P. At the last Quarterly Conferences, the records show that eight Local Preachers and ten Exhorter's licenses were granted. Six Stewards and seventeen Class Leaders called and character passed. Our Sunday School had the usual number of officers, thirteen teachers and sixty-five scholars. Simon Nichols, rather of Seneca Nichols, died Sept. 16th, 1844 aged 54 years. He filled the position of Class Leader, and was a faithful Christian.

In place of a Will, Simon left the following Letter of Administration:

December 28, 1844

Letter of Administration in the Estate of Simon Nicolls late of Conneaut Township. Deed Letter granted and issues Mary Nicolls and Seneca Nicolls and Bond taken for three hundred dollars with Charles A. Hammon and Archibald Greenfield Surities.

Inventory filed January 7, 1850.

Note: Mary Nicolls was Simon's youngest daughter by Gibbs; Seneca Nicolls was Simon's second son by Polly Gleason; Archibald Greenfield was Simon's brother-in-law, husband of Catherine Nicolls Greenfield.

On this 26th day of July A.D. 1858. personally appeared me a Justice of the peace in and for the County and State of said Elizabeth G. Borohn and Mary A. Heille both residents of the County aforesaid and Minor heirs of Simon Nicolls deceased, who being duly sworn according to law declares and says that they were the only minor ^{or children} heirs of of the said Simon Nicolls deceased, who was a private in the Company commanded by Capt. Bentine in the regiment commanded by Col George Fleming in the war with Great Britain declared by the United States on the 8th day of June 1812.

They further state that the said Simon ~~was~~ volunteered or was drafted from the town of Locke, Cauga County N. Y. in the fall of 1813 and was out about three months in said war and was honorably discharged by Col. Fleming but cannot state at what place but thinks he left home in Sept. 1813 and returned in December after. And they further state that the said Simon is now dead that he died in the town of Conneaut Crawford County Pa on the 16th day of December 1844 and that they were the only minor children of the said Simon, and that they were minors until the month of May 1858. And that the said Simons widow has since his death married again, and is now married. They have made application some time ago but have never heard anything from said application and they ~~will~~ make this application for the purpose of obtaining the bounty land to which they are entitled for their Father's services under the Act approved March 3^d 1855. They also declare that they have never applied for (only as within stated) nor received any bounty land under this or any other act of Congress granting bounty Lands. And they do hereby authorize Erastus Montague of Commauchville Pa. to prosecute their claim and secure their warrant therefor.

Elizabeth E. Brown
Mary A. Hills

We Thomas M. Dean and John M. Gibson residents of Allegany County in the State of New York upon our solemn oaths declare that the foregoing declaration was signed and acknowledged by Elizabeth E. Brown and Mary A. Hills in our presence and that we believe from the appearance and statements of the applicants that they are the identical persons they represent themselves to be and that we have no interest in this claim.

Thomas M. Dean
John M. Gibson

The foregoing declaration and affidavit were sworn to and subscribed before me on the day and year above written, and I certify that I know the affiants to be credible persons, and that the claimants are the persons they represent themselves to be and that I have no interest in this claim.

On this 25 day of January A.D. 1859 personally appeared before me a Justice of the peace in and for the County aforesaid Seneca Nicolls aged 41 years and Archibald Greenfield aged 69 years both residents of Crawford County who being duly sworn declare and say that the circumstances of which they are enabled to fix the age of the child (E. G. Boroire) which was born in 1834 are as follows. The said Seneca Nicolls at that time was an apprentice and was bound out from home to learn a trade, ^{in the year 1833} but during the summer of 1834 his father being in want of help during the harvest time he (Seneca) was sent home to help his father through the harvest. And while at work in harvesting wheat his father was called out of the field to the house, and when the hands with Seneca went to the house his mother had a young daughter which is now E. G. Boroire. And another circumstance is he says after they were in the field again he Seneca had considerable to say in the way of fun about the new daughter which did not suit the father, and for which he gave the said Seneca an exhibition of the powers of his right arm in handling a ree bit of a gad, which he well remembers. They further say that there were two children born between the date of April 1822 and the one born in 1834 and that they both died in infancy hence they cannot give the dates of their births positive as they did not live to any age to speak of and to the best of our knowledge ~~and~~

Children: Three

- 33. i Hiram
- 34. ii Caridan
- 35. iii Simon

William was the sixth child of William and Catharina Reay Nicolls.

William (3) was the only known nephew of Simon (2) who settled in Jordan, New York. Probably he was the nephew referred to in the letter written by Wm. Porter, Attorney, Jordan, N. Y. The last paragraph of the letter states "the nephew is a remote connection of our worthy President". When President Taylor died suddenly of typhoid fever on July 9, 1850, the Vice President, Millard Fillmore, became President of the United States. It is interesting to speculate as to what the "remote connection" was. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, p. 2536, Fillmore's early life sounds similar to Seneca Nicolls (4). Both were born in Locke, Cayuga County, New York, both served apprenticeships, and neither completed the term of his apprenticeship. Seneca (4) ran away, so the story goes, and Fillmore bought his freedom for $30 after threatening his master with an ax. Later Fillmore studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1823; Seneca became a petty fogger (self-appointed) lawyer. The "remote connection" remains a mystery. (See Simon (2) for a copy of entire letter.)

10. PHOEBE NICOLLS (3), dau. William (2), s. William (1)

Phoebe Nicolls was the seventh child of William and Catharina Reay Nicolls.

According to the paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5), Phoebe died young. She is not mentioned in her father's Will.

Harlow J. Greenfield, farmer, P. O. Conneautville, Pa., was born in Cayuga County, New York, October 7, 1823; son of Archibald and Catherine Nicolls Greenfield and half-brother of Dr. R. N. Greenfield. Our subject received a common school training and taught school to some extent. He was married in April, 1849, to Miss Caroline Phelps, a native of Herkimer County, New York, and a daughter of Benjamin Phelps, who settled in Crawford County in 1847, and sister of J. B. Phelps. To this union have been born five children, two now living: Sarah C., wife of P. S. Pease, and Archibald B. Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Our subject came to Crawford County with his father in 1840. He had the misfortune to break his leg when in the saw-mill business, and in 1872 had three barns destroyed by lightning, entailing a loss of over $2,000. Mr. Greenfield has held several township offices; in politics is a Republican. (History of Crawford County, Pennsylvania, published by Warner, Beers & Co., Chicago, 1885, p. 826. Sylvester Nicolls was the eldest child of Simon and Polly Gleason Nicolls. His mother died in 1821, when Sylvester was six years old, leaving the father with four small children.

Sylvester was a soldier in the Mexican War and for a further five years after the termination of that war served in the United States army. (The History of Crawford County, Pennsylvania, p. 1037) The Veteran's Records, Washington, D. C., Entry 47, p. 148, Vol. 42, reveals Sylvester enlisted at the age of 22, on October 28, 1839, which would make his year of birth 1817, the same year his younger brother, Seneca, was born. I believe Sylvester was 24 years of age when he enlisted. He is described as having dark eyes, black hair, dark complexion and five feet seven inches tall. He enlisted at Buffalo, N. Y., for five years and served in the Second artillery, C Company. He was discharged October 28, 1844, at Columbus, N. Y., with the rank of Private.

The Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, states Sylvester lived in Philadelphia, Pa., and his occupation was that of a wheelwright.

Sylvester was one of the more colorful characters on our family tree. My father, Sylvester (6), loved to tell stories about Sylvester (4). According to these stories, Sylvester (4) was known to light his cigars with five and ten dollar bills when drinking. After his service in the army, he operated a hotel in Conneautville, Pa. The hotel burned and the family started west. On the way, as the story goes, his wife poisoned him and married the adopted son. One copy of the paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5) confirms this story while the copy in my mother's hand writing does not have this information.

Seneca Nicolls was the second child of Simon and Polly Gleason Nicolls.

The following was copied from The History of Crawford County, Pa., p. 1037:

SENECA NICOLLS; farmer, blacksmith, and dealer in pressed hay, P. O. Conneautville, was born in Locke, Cayuga County, New York, November 18, 1817; son of Simon and Polly Gleason Nicolls, natives of New York State and parents of five children; the former, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died in 1844; the latter, who was Presbyterian, died in 1823. Simon Nicolls was a soldier in the War of 1812; his father in the Revolutionary War. Our subject's eldest brother, Sylvester, was a soldier in the Mexican War and for a further five years after the termination of that war served in the United States army. The subject of this sketch, Seneca, who is the second in the family, served seven years and two months apprenticeship to the blacksmith's trade. He came to this county in 1838. He was married the following year in Ithaca, New York, to Anna Jane North, a native of Susquehanna County, Pa., and a daughter of Chauncey North, formerly of Conneaut Township, this county. To this union were born ten children, two only surviving, Simon Chauncey and Adis Emmett. Mrs. Nicolls died January 17, 1884. Our subject settled first in Conneautville, where he engaged in the manufacture of wagons and carriages; for some time he had also a livery business. He moved to his present farm, consisting now of 400 acres, in 1856. Besides farming, he carries on a wagon and blacksmith shop located on the farm. Mr. Nicolls has also made a specialty for the past fifteen years of growing, press-packing and shipping hay. He has held several township offices; is a member of the (E.A.U.); in politics is a Republican.

The Will of Seneca Nicolls, recorded May 20, 1897, Will Book "H", p. 714, Crawford County Court House, Meadville, Pennsylvania, follows:

I, Seneca Nicolls of Spring Township, Crawford County, State of Pennsylvania, being in good health and of body and sound and disposing mind and memory do make and declare this to be my Will and Testament in manner following.

I have this 14th day of August, 1896, given to my wife, Cathern Nicolls, all of my household goods of whatever name and nature, and one horse and buggy and one single harness.

I give and bequeath to my son, Simon C. Nicolls, twenty-five dollars and all the rest residue and remainder of my goods, chattles, ready money effects and other of my estate whatsoever and wheresoever, both real and personal, I give and bequeath the same and every part and parcel thereof unto my son, Addis E. Nicolls, and I do hereby nominate, constitute and appoint Addis E. Nicolls executor of this, my Will, hereby revoking and making void all former Wills by me at any time heretofore made and declare this only to be my last will and testament.

In Witness whereof I, the said Testator, Seneca Nicolls, have to this my last will and testament set my hand and seal this 14th day of August, 1896.

Signed: Seneca Nicolls

Witnessed by: Ira Feltermann
J. A. Brown

There were many, many pages in the indexes at the Crawford County Court House, Meadville, Pa., recording the transactions of Seneca Nicolls with his name spelled Nicolls, Nichols and Nickels. Evidently the spelling was written the way it sounded to the recorder.

My father, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls (6), often entertained us with stories of his Grandfather, Seneca (4). I think he admired his Grandfather, loved his treats of peanuts and chestnuts, but I also felt he had a sense of fear as a child when he had to go by his house on his way to town. Seneca and his son, Simon Chauncey (5), were not always on speaking terms so it was Seneca's chance to learn what his son was doing when he saw his grandson on his way to town. Seneca would leave his wagon shop, walk out to the road and offer Sylvester peanuts, or chestnuts, from a bag he always carried in his pocket. With the nuts in sight, Seneca would ply Sylvester for the desired news about Simon Chauncey (5). Then he would slowly pour the peanuts into Sylvester's two cupped hands until his hands were full. Quick as a wink, Seneca's big, calloused hand would come up under Sylvester's full hands and the nuts would fly in all directions. Holding his sides and sending forth gales of laughter, Seneca would go back to his wagon making.

As if offering excuses for his Grandfather's behaviour, Sylvester would go on to tell us that Seneca had no formal schooling and could not read until after his marriage to Anna Jane North. She taught him to read. Eight of their ten children died during an outbreak of diphtheria.

While an apprentice, Seneca fought with an Indian who worked at the same place. Later, he fought with a man who was able to get Seneca's thumb in his mouth and biting hard would not let go. In desperation, Seneca stuck his finger in the man's eye rolling the eye out on the man's cheek. It was such a horrible sight that he vowed to never physically fight again. Henceforth, he argued and antagonized people verbally. If they struck him, Seneca took them to court.

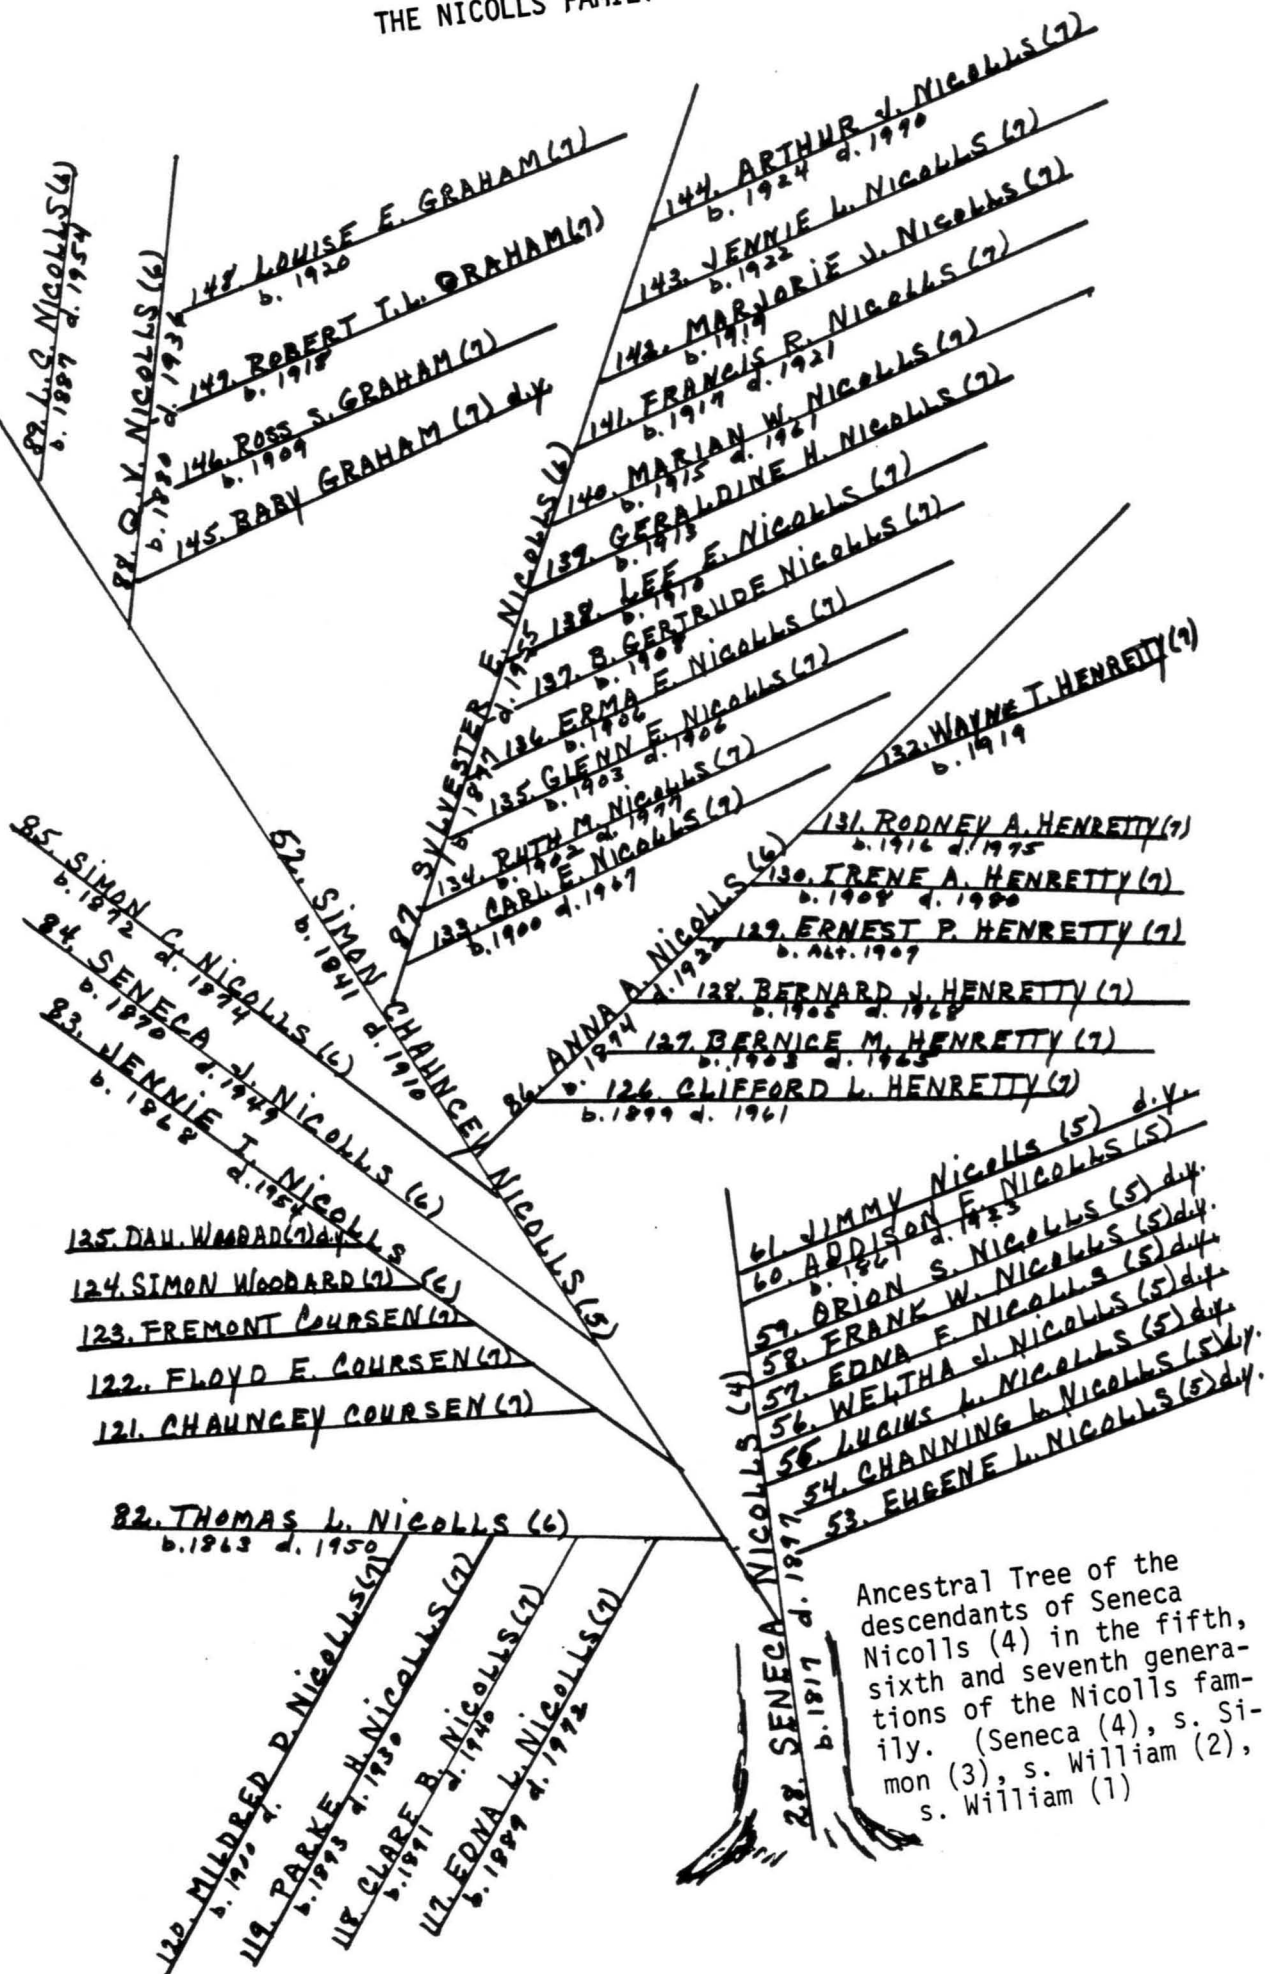

Perhaps this is part of the reason it is said he kept three lawyers employed in the county seat and was a petty fogger (self-appointed lawyer) himself. He was known to outsmart and win cases from some of the best lawyers of his day. One of his more rewarding settlements as a "lawyer" was accomplished when he was called into the edge of Ohio to settle the dispute between three young men and an elderly man they had tarred and feathered.

Seneca could always be counted on to bail anyone in trouble out of jail. They would often repay him by working on his farm located on Thatcher Road about a mile and a half east of Conneautville in Spring Township. All the lumber for the bridges and ties used for the Pennsylvania Railroad between Linesville and Albion, Pa., were cut and hauled from his land. Seneca had two rafts on the Erie Canal that went through Conneautville at that time. His son, Simon Chauncey (5), drove three horses pulling the rafts loaded with freight. During the Civil War, Seneca transported slaves on their way north to freedom. The slaves were moved at night under the cover of darkness usually in a buggy pulled by two fast ponies.

According to information gathered by Edna Nicolls Tyler (7), Seneca owned in addition to the farm and blacksmith shop, a livery stable and the old Opera House in Conneautville and two rafts on the Erie Canal. He built the first house across the railroad tracks on Center Street in Conneautville, Pa., where he lived at the time of his death. After the death of his first wife, Anna Jane North Nicolls, Seneca married a Mrs. Meyers, a widow with three sons. It is said Seneca died of stomach trouble. According to his tombstone, Seneca lived 79 years, 5 months and 23 days.

Sylvester Emmett (6) also remembered this incident that took place the day of Seneca's funeral. In those days, the horse was drawn by well kept black horses and the roads were usually muddy and bumpy. The horses that pulled the hearse the day of Seneca's funeral were in their usual fine shape, but the hearse had seen better days. The latch on the back door was badly worn and when jarred especially hard the door would fly open and swing back and forth with the bumps of the road. Simon's family was in a carriage directly in back of the hearse, jogging through the mud, when the door of the hearse flew open. Simon jumped to his feet and waving to the undertaker shouted, "Shut that door before the old devil gets out".

My father would usually close a session of story telling about Seneca with these words, "Despite his rough, overbearing ways, he had a host of friends and was well thought of by his neighbors". Since working on our history and analyzing the background and childhood of Seneca and his older brother, Sylvester (4), I realize they had to be strong physically and mentally to survive. Life was not easy under the best circumstances during that time in a boisterous America. The death of their mother when Seneca was four years old must have been a devastating blow. Their father married his third wife, of whom nothing is known, and then married again to Gibbs and had still two more children. Perhaps this explains why Seneca served an apprenticeship and had no formal schooling.

For more about Seneca (4), see the Bounty Land Papers of his father, Simon (3). More information about his wife, Annah Jane North Nicolls, may be found at the back of the book under Allied Families - The North Family.

Seneca Nicolls was a member of the E.A.U. According to the Genealogical Helper, May/June, 1983, p. 120, the E.A.U. refers to Equitable Aid Union. This article states that this particular E.A.U. was No. 300 of Oil City, Pa. The organization was chartered on Saturday evening, April 23, 1881, at a meeting held in the Odd Fellows Hall in Oil City. There were 60 applicants for charter membership in this mutual aid society. Membership was open to both sexes. From the list of officers, it seems that the organization might have been oriented to Irish and Scotch-Irish members.

William Harrison Nicolls was the third child of Simon and Polly Gleason Nicolls. According to The Gleason Genealogy, p. 157, he was a farmer near Smithfield, Iowa, and was born in Locke, Cayuga County, New York.

Presently, I am corresponding with René Nicolls Birch of Sugar City, Idaho, a great-great-granddaughter of William Harrison Nicolls. She has been most helpful in sending information about that branch of the family. She, too, is working on the history of the Nicolls family. Thanks to Mrs. Gerald (Mary) Nicolls of Saegertown, Pa., for forwarding to me a letter she received from René asking for information about the family. Contact again after four generations!

William Harrison Nicolls (4) is the first Nicolls in my research of the family to have a given middle name. He was probably named after the popular William Henry Harrison, the hero of the Battle of Tippicanoe. In 1840, Harrison was the Whig party presidential candidate with John Tyler as his running mate. Their campaign slogan was "Tippicanoe and Tyler too".

The Battle of Tippicanoe, fought in 1811 in Indiana, destroyed the Indian confederacy organized by Tecumseh, a Shawnee Chief, and his brother, Tenskwatawa, known as Prophet. (From the American Heritage Magazine, Dec. 1986, p. 24)

When the War of 1812 broke out, Harrison was made a brigadier general in the regular army and was given command of the Army of the Northwest. He was a popular hero at the time William Harrison Nicolls was born in 1820.

Mary Nicolls Hills was the second child of Simon and his fourth wife, Gibbs. This is the Mary Nicolls mentioned in the Letter of Administration in the Estate of her father, Simon (3). See also the Bounty Land Papers of Simon (3).

33. HIRAM NICOLLS (4), s. William (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

I believe this is the Rev. Hiram Nicolls mentioned in Mather's Refugees, p.539. If so, he was born in 1821, probably in Jordan, N. Y., and died in 1890. He was the first child of William Nicolls and wife. William Nicolls was born in 1797 which would make him 24 years of age when Hiram was born.

34. CARIDAN NICOLLS (4), William (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. Probably about 1823 or 1824, near Jordan, N. Y.

Caridan Nicolls was the second child of William (3) and wife.

35. SIMON NICOLLS (4), s. William (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. Probably about 1827, near Jordan, N. Y.

Simon Nicolls was the third child of William Nicolls (3) and wife.

*Did you know that Spring Township was first called Snowhill? It seems this dreary title was displeasing to its citizens, inasmuch as a neighboring township was blessed with the genial name of Summerhill Township. So the citizenry petitioned the Judge of the Court to grant them a new name. He listened kindly to their request and bestowed the genial title of Spring Township upon the area. Simon Chauncey Nicolls was the first child of Seneca and Annah Jane North Nicolls. He was probably named after his two grandfathers, Simon Nicolls (3) and Chauncey North, father of Anna Jane North.

As a very young child, Simon lived in Conneautville, Pa., with his parents.

Later the family moved to a farm a little over a mile east of Conneautville, Pa., on Thatcher Road in Spring Township. (When I was growing up the farm was owned by a family by the name of Bradley.) The farm house and barn was on one side of the road and the wagon shop Seneca (4) built was across the road. Simon attended a one-room country school where he excelled in penmanship. Much importance was placed on beautiful handwriting in those days as evidenced by the hand written documents of that era.

Simon married M. Louisa Shaw, daughter of a pioneer family from Orange and Dutchess Counties in New York. Her father, Moses D. Shaw, moved to Summerhill Township in Crawford County in 1836, where he cleared land for a farm and built a house and the Shaw Church. The Shaw family was very religious and frowned on dancing which the Nicolls family approved and enjoyed. Simon and Louisa's first home was situated on the back part of his father's farm on Thatcher Road. Later Simon bought more land from his father, Seneca (4), plus land known at that time as the Smith farm for a total of over 400 acres. He was a prosperous farmer and in 1877, the year his son, Sylvester (6), was born, Simon built an eighteen room home on a high spot about two miles east of Conneautville, Pa., on Thatcher Road in Spring Township. The Methodist Church in Conneautville, presently known as the Valley United Methodist Church, was built the same year. The cellar of the house Simon built was made of large stones cemented firmly together. Large timbers, measuring a foot square, were cut from the immediate area and used in the construction of the house. The rooms were large with high ceilings and the front porch overlooked a terraced lawn shaded by beautiful maple trees. A huge apple tree at the side of the yard toward Mom's garden not only supplied us with early apples but was perfect for a swing. Originally the house had two sets of stairs, the front stairs and the back stairs, that led to the upstairs bedroom area. The back stairs were used by the hired help that lived with the family. They were removed and an inside bathroom installed in that area. I don't know when the bathroom was installed nor the unique features I recall as a child. A cleverly thought out plan for running water was achieved by installing a large, circular, room-sized, galvanized tank in a bedroom at the back of the house on the second floor. Rain water from the roof of the house ran into the eaves and then into a pipe placed through a window into the tank. There was an over-flow devise for water to run back outside if the tank was full. This water piped to the bathroom and kitchen provided soft water for bathing, washing, and flushing the commode. A couple drilled wells near the back porch provided the drinking water. The other unusual convenience for those days before electricity was available in rural areas was a carbide gas lighting system installed in the cellar and piped throughout the house. A big improvement over the oil lamp!

There was very little farm machinery in those days so most of the farm work was done by hand. Simon hired as many as twenty men during the haying season; some of the hired men lived with the family while those living nearby went home at night. Louisa and daughters cooked for all the family and the hired help.

Even though many horses were raised and used on the farm, Simon took great pride in training and using a team of oxen. While driving the oxen, the whip used to guide and control the oxen broke and a piece of it went in his eye. An eye doctor in Meadville removed the piece from his eye, but his vision was impaired.

Simon enjoyed working with wood, making ox yokes, etc., while his father, Seneca (4), worked more with iron in his trade as blacksmith and wagon-maker. One of the ox yokes made by Simon and later used by his son, Sylvester (6), is one of my treasured possessions. I also have Simon's Log Book published by George W. Fisher, Rochester, N. Y. in 1882, which contains lumber and log tables and many helpful bits of information such as this item about beech tree leaves. "The leaf of the beech tree, collected at autumn, in dry weather, form an admirable article for filling beds. The smell is grateful and wholesome; they do not harbor vermin; are very elastic, and may be replenished annually without cost." (p. 115) The book is worn and the pages brown with age. On the back cover of Simon's Ledger, dated January 1, 1888, he wrote a short account of our ancestors back to William (1) and wife from Ireland. This corresponds with the paper he wrote and dated July 20, 1905. We have Simon to thank for much of the information about our early "roots".

SIMON CHAUNCEY NICOLLS (5) and wife, M. Louisa Shaw Nicolls, attended the Centennial Celebration in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1876, known as the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition. Alexander Graham Bell introduced his new invention, the telephone, to the public at the Exposition. Simon and Louisa bought a violin at the Exposition for their oldest son, Thomas Leroy, I believe Winifred Tyler Garrigus (8) still has the violin. She played it while in the high school band.

Simon and Louisa sold their farm in Spring Township to their son, Sylvester Emmett (6), and bought a large home on east Center Street in Conneautville, Pa. Their youngest daughter, L. C., stayed with them and cared for them in their later years. Simon gave each of his children $2,500 and 50 acres, more or less, when they reached twenty-one years of age. He was an industrious farmer and well thought of by his children, neighbors, and community.

Louisa Mariah Nicolls received from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Shaw, $800.00 which I wish her to have in addition to her share at final settlement. Signed: S. C. Nicolls

Another item from his Ledger shows that in 1888 he paid Dr. M. B. Naramore thirteen cents for extracting one tooth for Sylvester Nicolls. In "the good old days" the "ouch" took place in the dentist chair with little pain to the pocketbook. Labor was cheap in those days, too. Two dollars was paid per day for one man's labor with a team of horses.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping, probably The Conneautville Courier Death Roll:

Simon C. Nicolls died at his home in this place late on Saturday night, of pneumonia, aged nearly 69 years. Deceased was a son of the late Seneca Nicolls, coming here with his parents from near Ithaca, New York, when but two years old. After his marriage he resided in Spring Township, east of town, until two years ago, when the family moved to this place. He was one of our largest farmers, making a specialty of the growing of hay, in which he was very successful. He leaves four daughters, Mrs. George Woodard, of Linesville; Mrs. George Henretty, of Summerhill; Mrs. Robert Graham, of Conneautville, and Miss L. C. Nicolls, at home, and three sons, Thomas L., Seneca J., and Sylvester E., all of Spring Township. One brother, A. E. Nicolls, of Conneautville, is the only living member of his father's family. The funeral was held at the home on Tuesday forenoon. Rev. W. J. Small, of the M. E. Church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating and interment in the Conneautville cemetery. Among the relatives from a distance in attendance at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Shaw, of West Almon, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dorchester, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller and Mr. Moses Shaw, of Linesville, Mr. and Mrs. Seneca Harvey of Pierpont, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Vandervort, of Conneaut, Ohio.

A Sudden Summons: Mrs. Maria Louise Nicolls, widow of Simon C. Nicolls, died at her home in this place on Monday forenoon in the 65th year of her age. She was alone in her room when stricken with heart failure and when found about noon, was sitting in her chair, having been dead but a short time. She had not been well for several weeks, but had been able to visit her daughter in Linesville last week, and was thought to be better for the change. Deceased was born in Summerhill Township, a daughter of the late Moses D. Shaw, one of the pioneer families. After her marriage in 1862, her home was in Spring Township, east of this place, until moving to Conneautville two years ago. They had fairly settled in their new home when the husband died in February of this year. She leaves three sons, Thomas, Seneca, and Sylvester, all of Spring Township, and four daughters, Mrs. George Woodard of Linesville, Mrs. George Henretty of Summerhill, Mrs. Robert H. Graham and Miss L. C. Nicolls of this place. Of her father's family, two brothers, Moses Shaw of Linesville, now in Illinois, and John C. Shaw on the old Shaw homestead, and four sisters, Mrs. Chester Walton, Mrs. Andrew Walton, Mrs. George W. Stevens, all living near the old home, and Mrs. Seth S. Dorchester, of Linesville, survive. The funeral was held at the home this forenoon at 11 o'clock, her pastor, Rev. W. J. Small, of the M. E. Church officiating, and interment in Conneautville cemetery.

Below is a copy of part of the back inside cover of Simon Chauncey's ledger which again indicates his interest in family history and his desire that future generations have knowledge of their ancestry.

Dear Mary and Dave:

We enjoyed seeing you and Carol and her family. I just wrote to Bev and Don and will get a note off to you. What a great day it was for Ben and I.

After the movies of the "old days" and since you asked, Dave, I meant to get back to you about the cost of the Farmhouse. This is what I know. My grandfather, Simon Nicolls, built the house in 1877. The cost was $1100.00. The most expensive part was the slate roof and the wainscot in the living and dining room. I remember Dad and Carl talking one time. Uncle Addis had the feed, grain and coal Grist Mill in Conneautville by creek. He also had a sawmill on what was called Luther Cooper's property (woods). Most of the lumber was cut from Simon's land and sawed at that sawmill. Labor was 60¢ a day for a good man. Then they were talking about your Dad, Carl's home on Delaware Ave. Check this with Ethel, but I remember Carl saying his cost $2100.00 in 1923.

Just to compare the cost of houses over the years. Ben and I bought our first house in 1946, Bradley Woods, Hingham, Mass for $8000.00, a Cape Cod with three bedrooms and only 2 yrs. old. Then in 1957 when we came to Poughkeepsie we bought the house in Red Oaks Mill for $19,500. In 1968 we bought the big lot across the street for $2500.00 and built a $49,500 home and sold it to first buyer looker in 1973 for $70,000 because we were out of town a lot with this company Ben started, RSI. Karen and Jim just bought their condo in Tampa, just built, for $43,900 to get a tax break. Jim Cody is living in a low cost area for everything, Omaha, Neb. His home is real large, and cost was nominal in 1974 and it costs about $21.00 a month to heat it with gas and it includes the cooking. In most areas prices are crazy today and I think New York State is the worst.

Before I got around to call the Linsigs'. Fred was here looking for an apartment. Betty is an invalid, emphysema, can't get enough breathe to talk. Fred has skin cancer and a bad back so he sold the house and hopes to get in our Forbus Hill Apts.

If I didn't write to you now the weeks would go by and I would never get back to our talk about the farmhouse,

The Conneautville Methodist Church was built in 1877, the same year Simon Chauncey Nicolls built his home pictured on the following page and the year his son, Sylvester Emmett (6), was born. Many members of the Nicolls family have been members of this Church.

m. Date unknown. To Myra Milspaw. I've been told Myra was an invalid for many years. They had no children.

Addison (Adis) Emmett Nicolls was the ninth child of Seneca and Annah Jane North Nicolls and was his father's favorite son. He lived across the road from his father on Thatcher Road, east of Conneautville in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

After his father's death, Adis encountered financial difficulties nearly resulting in bankruptcy. There was a scandal involving Mr. J. C. Sturtevant, the local banker, and the local druggist, who was also a director of the bank in Conneautville. The druggist was selling whiskey, which was illegal during the prohibition era, so Adis had him arrested. Mr. Sturtevant got the witness drunk and settled with Adis out of court according to the story as told by Sylvester Nicolls (6). The Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, revealed that Mr. Sturtevant married Sarah Abigail Gleason, December 28, 1850. Sarah was the daughter of William Brown Gleason, a nephew of Polly Gleason, wife of Simon Nicolls (3). Soon after the settlement, Adis hired his nephews, Thomas Leroy (6), Seneca J. (6), and Sylvester Emmett (6), to cut and haul logs to build the Nicolls Hay and Feed Mill, located near the Bessemer Railroad tracks and Conneaut Creek on Mulberry Street in Conneautville, Pa. I believe the mill is presently owned and operated by David Johns.

This entry copied from the records in the Crawford County Court House may be the result of the story above: A. E. Nicolls, re Bankruptcy, Book N°, No. 178, p. 249, February 4, 1907, Certificate of Discharge.

Adis made and sold cement blocks. He built several cement block houses in Conneautville - a four apartment building on the corner of Main and Mulberry Streets known as the Nicolls Flat later owned by Thomas Leroy (6) and then his daughter, Edna Nicolls Tyler (7); a duplex on Mulberry Street in back of the flat, later owned by Thomas Leroy (6) and then his daughter, Mildred Nicolls Johnson Maxwell (7); a large single cement block house beside the flat where Adis lived until his death and three single cement block houses on Main Street near the Conneautville cemetery.

There were many entries concerning A. E. Nicolls in the records at the Crawford County Court House. A couple of special historical interest follow:

A. E. Nicolls to Bruce Ticknow et al, Book N^o, No. 179, p. 698, December 18, 1907, part of land belonging to the Erie Canal in Conneautville, Pa.

A. E. Nicolls to Mary R. Litchfield et al, Book N^o, No. 179, p. 550, Nov. 5, 1907, part of old Erie Canal, Boro of Conneautville, Pa.

The Will of Adis taken from Will Book "R", p. 464, Crawford County Court House follows. The Mrs. Bertha Hill mentioned in the Will was his book-keeper for many years.

I, Addis E. Nicolls, of the Borough of Conneautville, in the County of Crawford and State of Pennsylvania, being of sound mind, memory and understanding, do make, publish and declare this to be my last will and testament, hereby revoking and making void all former wills by me at any time heretofore made.

First: I order and direct the payment of all my just debts and funeral expenses as soon as conveniently may be after my decease.

Second: I order and direct my executor hereinafter named to expend the sum of One Thousand Dollars at the Edinboro Cemetery in providing tombstones and necessary improvements of the Milspaw family lot, and the sum of One Thousand Dollars at the Conneautville Cemetery on the Nicolls family lot in such manner as my executor may think best.

Third: I give, devise and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Myra B. Nicolls, the homestead property in which we now reside, together with the household goods therein belonging to me for and during the term of her natural life, and at and immediately after the decease of my said wife, I give, devise and bequeath the same to Mrs. Bertha Hill, her heirs and assigns.

Fourth: I give, devise and bequeath to my wife during the term of her natural life one-half of the rents collected on the two bungalow properties which I hereby give, devise and bequeath unto my nephew, Thomas L. Nicolls, subject to the condition and charge above imposed.

Fifth: I give, devise and bequeath unto my executor hereinafter named, in trust however, the apartment house on the corner of Main and Mulberry Sts. in the Borough of Conneautville, Pennsylvania, and the unfinished house on Mulberry Street adjoining, which I direct my executor herein to complete in accordance with my present plans explained to him, to hold during the term of natural life of Myra B. Nicolls, collect the rentals received therefrom, setting aside the one-third part thereof for the payment of taxes and repairs, and paying one-third part thereof to my said wife and the other one-third part to Mrs. Bertha Hill; and at and immediately after the decease of my said wife I give, devise and bequeath the properties above described to Mrs. Bertha Hill absolutely, the residuary legatee to pay the mortgage liens now of record against the said property.

Sixth: I give and bequeath unto Charles Wiseman, a faithful employee of many years, the sum of One Thousand Dollars which I direct my executor to invest in a safe first mortgage loan, paying the interest thereon to my wife, Myra B. Nicolls, and after her decease the principal sum to the legatee designated above.

Seventh: All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, both real and personal wheresoever situate, I give, devise, and bequeath unto my nephew, Thomas L. Nicolls, providing he pay, or cause to be paid to my wife, Myra B. Nicolls, annually during the period of her natural life, interest at the rate of six per-cent on the amount of this legacy as determined by my executor's final account.

Lastly: I nominate, constitute and appoint my nephew, Thomas L. Nicolls, to be the executor of this my last will and testament, giving and granting unto him full power and authority to sell and convey any real estate of which I may die seized and possessed not otherwise disposed of.

In Witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this Twenty-sixth day of June, A. D. 1923.

Signed: Adis E. Nicolls

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the above named testator as and for his last will and testament in our presence, who in his presence, at his request and in the presence of each other, have hereunto set our hands as attesting witnesses hereto on the day and date above set forth.

Signed: Irvin Jolly

Thomas Leroy Nicolls was the first child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. He was born on the family farm east of Conneautville in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania. He attended Bolard School, a one-room, country school located on the Nicolls farm. School sessions were held for three months in the winter and three months in the summer. He went to school in Conneautville a year, or two, and then to Edinboro Normal School for a term.

Tommy went to Sunday School at the M. E. (Methodist Episcopalian) Church in Conneautville, usually walking barefoot to the top of the hill going into town where he would stop and put his shoes on.

He helped his father on the farm where they raised and pressed lots of hay. In the spring, he helped gather the sap from the maple trees and take it to the sugar house where it was boiled down into maple syrup; in the winter, they put up ice from the farm pond. When a young man, Tommy had the misfortune of sticking a hay fork in his middle finger causing blood poisoning and nearly the loss of his arm. While convalescing, he read the Bible through and learned to play cards. In 1876, while attending the Centennial celebration in Philadelphia, Pa., his parents bought him a violin which he learned to play with the help of his cousin, Phila Walton Stanley. His father did not want him playing for dances (usually two violins and an organ played at dances held in various homes in the neighborhood) so he refused to give him lessons. His grand-daughter, Winifred Tyler Garrigus (8), played the old violin in high school and I believe she still has it.

When Thomas married Ida Waldo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Waldo, his parents gave him $2500 as they did all their children as they married. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Craighead in Meadville, Pa. They bought the "Dillon Place" on the new road a mile from his parents. Edna Lucille was born there in June, 1889, and Clare Banks in February, 1891. Later, Thomas bought the adjoining farm from William Potter where Parke Hobert was born in February, 1893, and Mildred Doris in March of 1900. He also bought the "Derby lot" on the corner across from his father's farm making about 300 acres in all. The important crop at that time was hay.

While living on the "Dillon place", he was engaged in making bricks with a Mr. Frank Jackett. They "fell out" and the business closed. Later, he operated a creamery and cheese factory at Hickernell. During this time, he continued to operate his farm with the help of his sons and hired help. He had registered Holstein cattle and raised many horses. Usually at least three teams of horses and a team of oxen were used for the farm work and horses were also used for transportation.

In 1921, Thomas sold the farm, stock, and machinery to his son, Parke, and he and Ida moved to Conneautville, Pa., where he bought the feed mill on Mulberry Street built by his uncle, Adis Nicolls. The mill was originally known as the Nicolls Hay Cut Works.

While he was still engaged in the feed business, his wife, Ida, died of a stroke at their home on the corner of Main and Mulberry Streets in Conneautville, Pa. She was buried in the Conneautville Cemetery.

Later, Thomas married Mabel McBride. After Tommy's death, Mabel went to live with some of her family in Grafton, Mass.

Thomas served several years on the Conneautville Borough Council; in politics, a Republican; a member of the Conneautville M. E. Church and the Fellows Club Fire Department; always active in community and civic affairs and a member of Spring Grange for over 50 years. He enjoyed the sports events at Conneautville High School where he seldom missed a baseball or basketball game. He favored the Shaw side of the family and was named for Thomas Jefferson Shaw, his mother's brother, who died in the Civil War. Thomas had the first car in the family, a Ford in 1911, which cost about $700.

Thomas died in City Hospital, Meadville, Pa., where he had been a patient for two weeks. Two sons, Clare and Parke, preceded him in death. Survivors included his wife, Mrs. Mabel Nicolls, two daughters, Mrs. Edna Tyler of Beaver Township, and Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Spring Township; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Woodard, Linesville, and Mrs. L. C. Vapner of San Francisco, California; one brother, Sylvester Nicolls of Conneautville; two daughter-in-laws, Mrs. Ethel M. Nicolls of Spring Township, and Mrs. Louise Nicolls of Pittsburgh; eleven grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren, and a large number of nieces and nephews. Services were held at the Methodist Church at 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon with the Rev. T. E. Spoford officiating, followed by interment in Conneautville Cemetery.

Jennie I. Nicolls was born at the home of her parents in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania, the second child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. She attended the three month winter and summer sessions at Bolard School, the one-room, country school built at the top of "the big hill" on land Seneca (4) gave for a school location. She entered the ninth grade in Conneautville at the age of 13 years.

Jennie favored the Shaw family in looks and was considered very good looking with blond hair, large blue eyes and a fair complexion. She played the organ well and was artistically inclined painting pictures of flowers and nature. Much of her time was spent riding a horse, attired in a complete riding habit, sitting side-saddle as all young ladies did in those days. Being the oldest daughter in the family, Jennie stayed home and helped her mother with the exception of a short time spent in Chicago.

The marriage of Jennie to Elmer Coursen took place at the home of the bride's parents in Spring Township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Douglas. They lived on a farm near Westford, Pa., for several years before owning and operating a store in Westford. They also operated the post office, which as was often the case in those days, was a part of the general store. Later, they bought and moved to a farm near the edge of Linesville, Pa., where they farmed until Mr. Coursen's death, caused from catching cold when he had the measles, April 22, 1902. Three sons were born to this marriage, Chauncey Reid, Floyd Emmett and Fremont. Chauncey and Fremont died in infancy.

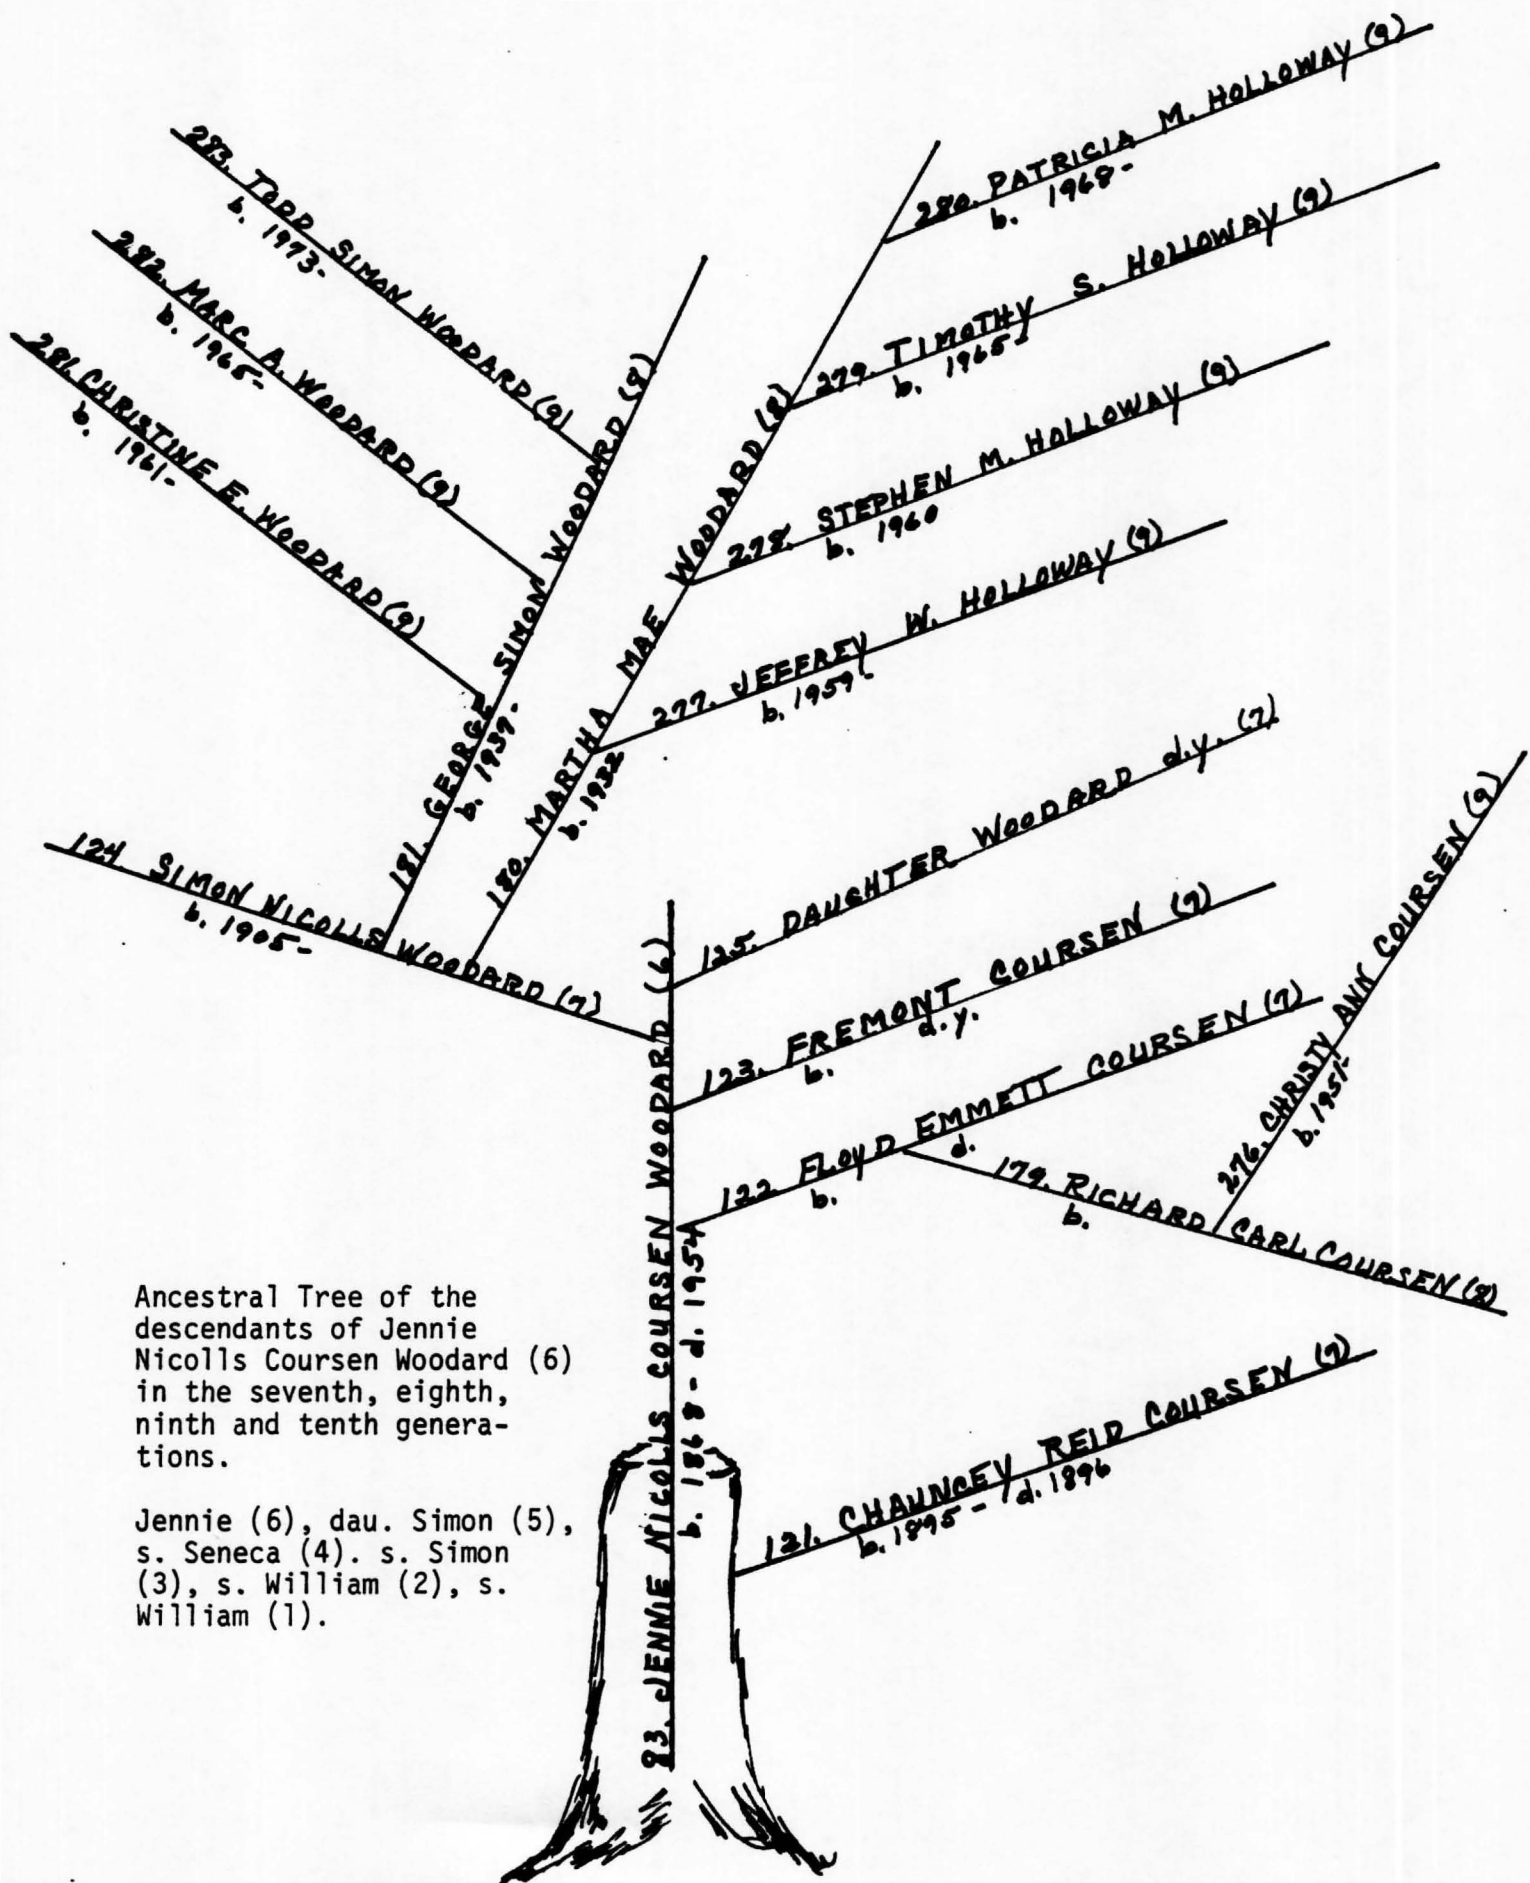

After Jennie married George Woodard, they lived in Ashtabula, Ohio, a few years and then moved to the Linesville farm where they lived for eighteen to twenty years. Two children were born to this marriage, a son, Simon Nicolls Woodard, and a daughter who died in infancy.

Jennie was very active in Grange work holding offices in the subordinate Grange as well as the Crawford County Pomona Grange; a member of the M. E. (Methodist Episcopal) Church and in politics, a Republican.

Because of poor health, Jennie and George sold the farm in Linesville and moved to Andover, Ohio, near their son, Simon Nicolls Woodard. During this time, Jennie was very ill with heart trouble. Later, when her health improved, they bought a home in Linesville where they lived several more years.

Jennie died in May, 1954. She was survived by her husband, George Woodard, two sons, Floyd Coursen and Simon N. Woodard, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, a brother, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls, and many nieces and nephews. Interment in the Conneautville Cemetery.

I remember Aunt Jennie as a very pleasant person, friendly, well spoken, and up-to-date on current happenings. She enjoyed her well-kept home and garden with lots of pretty flowers. She dressed attractively, often wearing a large, picture hat which was very becoming to her. When in her eighties, nearly blind and hard of hearing, she enjoyed visiting with family and friends by telephone. She was able to hear much better by phone. She remained a cheerful, happy person despite these handicaps. Aunt Jennie and Uncle George were both blessed with a wonderful sense of humor and enjoyed each others company to the fullest.

Children: None

Seneca J. Nicolls was named for his grandfather, Seneca (4), and was the third child of Simon and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. Along with the other Nicolls children, he attended the summer and winter three months sessions at the Bolard School. He liked mathematics and studied it to the exclusion of some of the other subjects.

He favored the Nicolls side of the family and was considered a handsome, young man, six feet tall, with dark hair, blue eyes and regular features. He was known for his wonderful sense of humor, very droll and comical, and he loved to tell stories and jokes. Seneca liked music and enjoyed dancing as did all his brothers and sisters much to their mother's dismay. The Shaws were devoutly religious and did not believe in dancing even though they loved music and were musically inclined.

Encouraged by his grandfather, Seneca (4), Seneca left home when he was about sixteen years of age and lived with his grandfather for a short time. (Perhaps this is part of the reason Seneca (4) and Simon Chauncey (5) were not always on speaking terms.) When Seneca (6) returned home, he worked for his brother, Thomas, until his marriage to Ida Hadsell of Hickernell, Pa. They bought a farm known as the Robert Nelson place from his grandfather, Seneca (4), and he built a new house west of "the big hollow" on Thatcher Road in Spring Township. He used "the big hollow" as a pasture area for his horses, cows and sheep. We spent many happy hours bob-sledding and skiing on the hills in his pasture. A stone foundation sometimes hampered our fun when hit with a ski or sled. We were told Indians once lived there. No doubt they did for we found many arrowheads in the pasture.

Seneca worked with leather making fine harnesses for horses and other leather goods. One room in his new house was designed as a leather shop.

Although they had no children of their own, Seneca and Ida raised a boy from about the age of four to manhood. Louis Weston was also known as Louis Nicolls. They also cared for a foster daughter, Pearl.

The families of Seneca and his two brothers, Thomas and Sylvester, all joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Conneautville at the same time. Seneca and Ida belonged to Spring Grange and were active members for many years. In politics, Seneca was a Republican.

Ida died in 1942 after falling and breaking a hip. Seneca sold his farm and moved to the Cribbs Methodist Home for the Aged in Conneautville. Nora Steiger Thayer, to whom Seneca had once been engaged as a young man, lived at the home. They were married and enjoyed each others company until Seneca died of a heart attack in 1949. Seneca and Ida are buried in the East Spring Cemetery by the old Baptist Church near Hickernell, Pa.

Anna Alena, the fifth child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls, was born at the Nicolls farm on Thatcher Road east of Conneautville, Pa. She was probably named for her grandmother, Annah Jane North Nicolls. She favored the Nicolls side of the family having dark hair, blue eyes and a wonderful disposition. She helped her mother with the house work and the cooking for the family and hired help.

She married George Patrick Henretty of Summerhill Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania. The wedding took place at the Roman Catholic Parsonage with Rev. Thomas Graham officiating. They bought the farm known as the "Baker Place" in Summerhill Township where most of their children were born. Bernard James was born in the Nicolls farm home on Thatcher Road while Anna and George were living there and helping run the farm. Later, they bought the Mathews place near their first farm where they lived at the time of Anna's death in 1922. Pneumonia was the cause of her death. Her husband, George Henretty, died of a heart attack July 31, 1950. Both were buried in St. Peter's Catholic Cemetery, Conneautville, Crawford Co., Pennsylvania.

Sylvester Emmett Nicolls was the sixth child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. He was born in the new eighteen room home built by his parents in 1877 on Thatcher Road in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania. He was probably named for his great uncle, Sylvester (4), and his uncle, Addison Emmett (5), however, when a small boy, his brothers and sisters nicknamed him "Scooter". He attended Bolard School, the one-room country school located at the top of "the big hill" on the Nicolls farm.

During the years Sylvester was growing up, there were six barns on the 400 acre farm. A cow barn, a horse barn, a sheep barn and three barns used to store hay. Since there was little farm machinery in those days, many hired men were needed to help with the work. One of the hired help dropped Sylvester on the cement floor of the barn injuring one arm so that it was troublesome at times. He learned all phases of farming while helping his father with the work. There were three large stands of timber on the farm, two of which were maple groves. The sap was gathered in the spring and taken to the sugar house where it was boiled down into maple syrup. Sometimes, to please a sweet tooth, it was stirred down into maple sugar cakes. A real treat! They always kept a large herd of dairy cattle, lots of horses for the farm work as well as for transportation before the use of automobiles, and a flock of sheep. The sheep were sheared each spring and the wool sold. Sylvester's favorite horse was a beautiful palomino named Captain. There were usually one or two pairs of oxen on the farm, too. Sylvester, as well as his father, liked to train oxen and he kept a pair on the farm most of his farming years. According to his wife's diary, Sylvester won first prize with a team of oxen at the Conneautville Fair, September 14, 1940. They were probably a novelty at the 1940 Fair with little competition in that class.

In 1897 and 1898, the Spanish American War caused great excitement among the young men. Sylvester, about 20 years of age, joined a Company and received military training. The Company usually drilled in Linesville, Pa., where they took part in the Fourth of July celebration. The Commanding Officer of the Company took great pains to carefully and precisely station his men along a row of buildings. With the order to fire, several large store windows shattered and broke with the rifle blasts. Fortunately, the war was over before the Company was called for duty!

Sylvester married Harriet E. Beebe, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Beebe, in Conneautville, Pa. A story Sylvester loved to tell concerning their wedding night had to do with a new, long, night-shirt. When he appeared before his bride in the new night-shirt, she started giggling and laughing. Needless to say, he was embarrassed at her amusement. Finally, Harriet showed him the back of his shirt tail where his sisters, probably Q. V. and L. C., had gleefully embroidered "Good-night".

After a trip to New York State, the newlyweds lived in part of his parent's home and Sylvester continued to work on the farm. Carl Emmett, their first child, was born there in 1900. Later, they lived in a small house near Sylvester's brother, Thomas, where Ruth Marie was born. Sylvester bought the farm known then as the Johnson place next to the farm owned by his brother, Thomas Nicolls. Glenn Eversal and Erma Elizabeth were born there and Glenn died there at the age of three years. When Sylvester's parents moved to Conneautville to retire, Sylvester and Harriet bought the large farm on Thatcher Road where Sylvester had been born when the house was new in 1877. Blanche Gertrude, Lee Earl, Geraldine Harriet, Marian Winifred, Francis Raymond, Marjorie June, Jennie Louise and Arthur Jay were all born in this house.

Sylvester continued with the general farming much as his Father before him. However, not as many horses were needed after Sylvester bought the first tractor and the second car in the Nicolls family. The car, a Ford, was bought in Albion, Pa., where the dealer taught Sylvester to drive. A car caused great excitement in those days often scaring horses pulling buggies so badly the driver could not control them and the run-away horses added to the excitement. The car was a real joy until it suddenly stopped. Unable to find the trouble, Sylvester finally called the dealer in Albion, who made a trip to the farm on Thatcher Road only to discover the car was out of gas!

Sylvester was said to be much like his father in temperament and looks. He loved to dance and seldom missed taking the whole family to the dances at Rundletown and Spring Grange where we learned to dance practically as soon as we learned to walk. 500 was his favorite card game and he and Harriet belonged to the Jolly Sixteen Club for many years. They also played 500 with us children in the evenings after a hard day's work. Dad was a very good checker player seldom meeting his match. He was a member of the Methodist Church in Conneautville, which was built the year he was born, an active member of Spring Grange most of his adult life, in politics, a Republican, and a member of the Fellow's Club Fire Department after moving to Conneautville to retire. He helped care for the Club rooms in the Old Powers Hotel until he became blind due to glaucoma and cataracts. When he could no longer see to read or drive, he enjoyed listening to baseball games on the radio. He was a Cleveland Indians fan after going to the Cleveland Stadium to watch a couple of their games. During this time, I spent many pleasant afternoons visiting with him and listening to his stories of days gone by. He was a great story teller as well as a patient and understanding father.

When Sylvester and Harriet sold their farm to their youngest son, Arthur, they bought and moved to the former Clancy home on Washington Street in Conneautville, Pa. It was there they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in March, 1949. It was the first Golden Wedding anniversary celebrated in the Nicolls family. The following is from The Conneautville Courier of March 3, 1949:

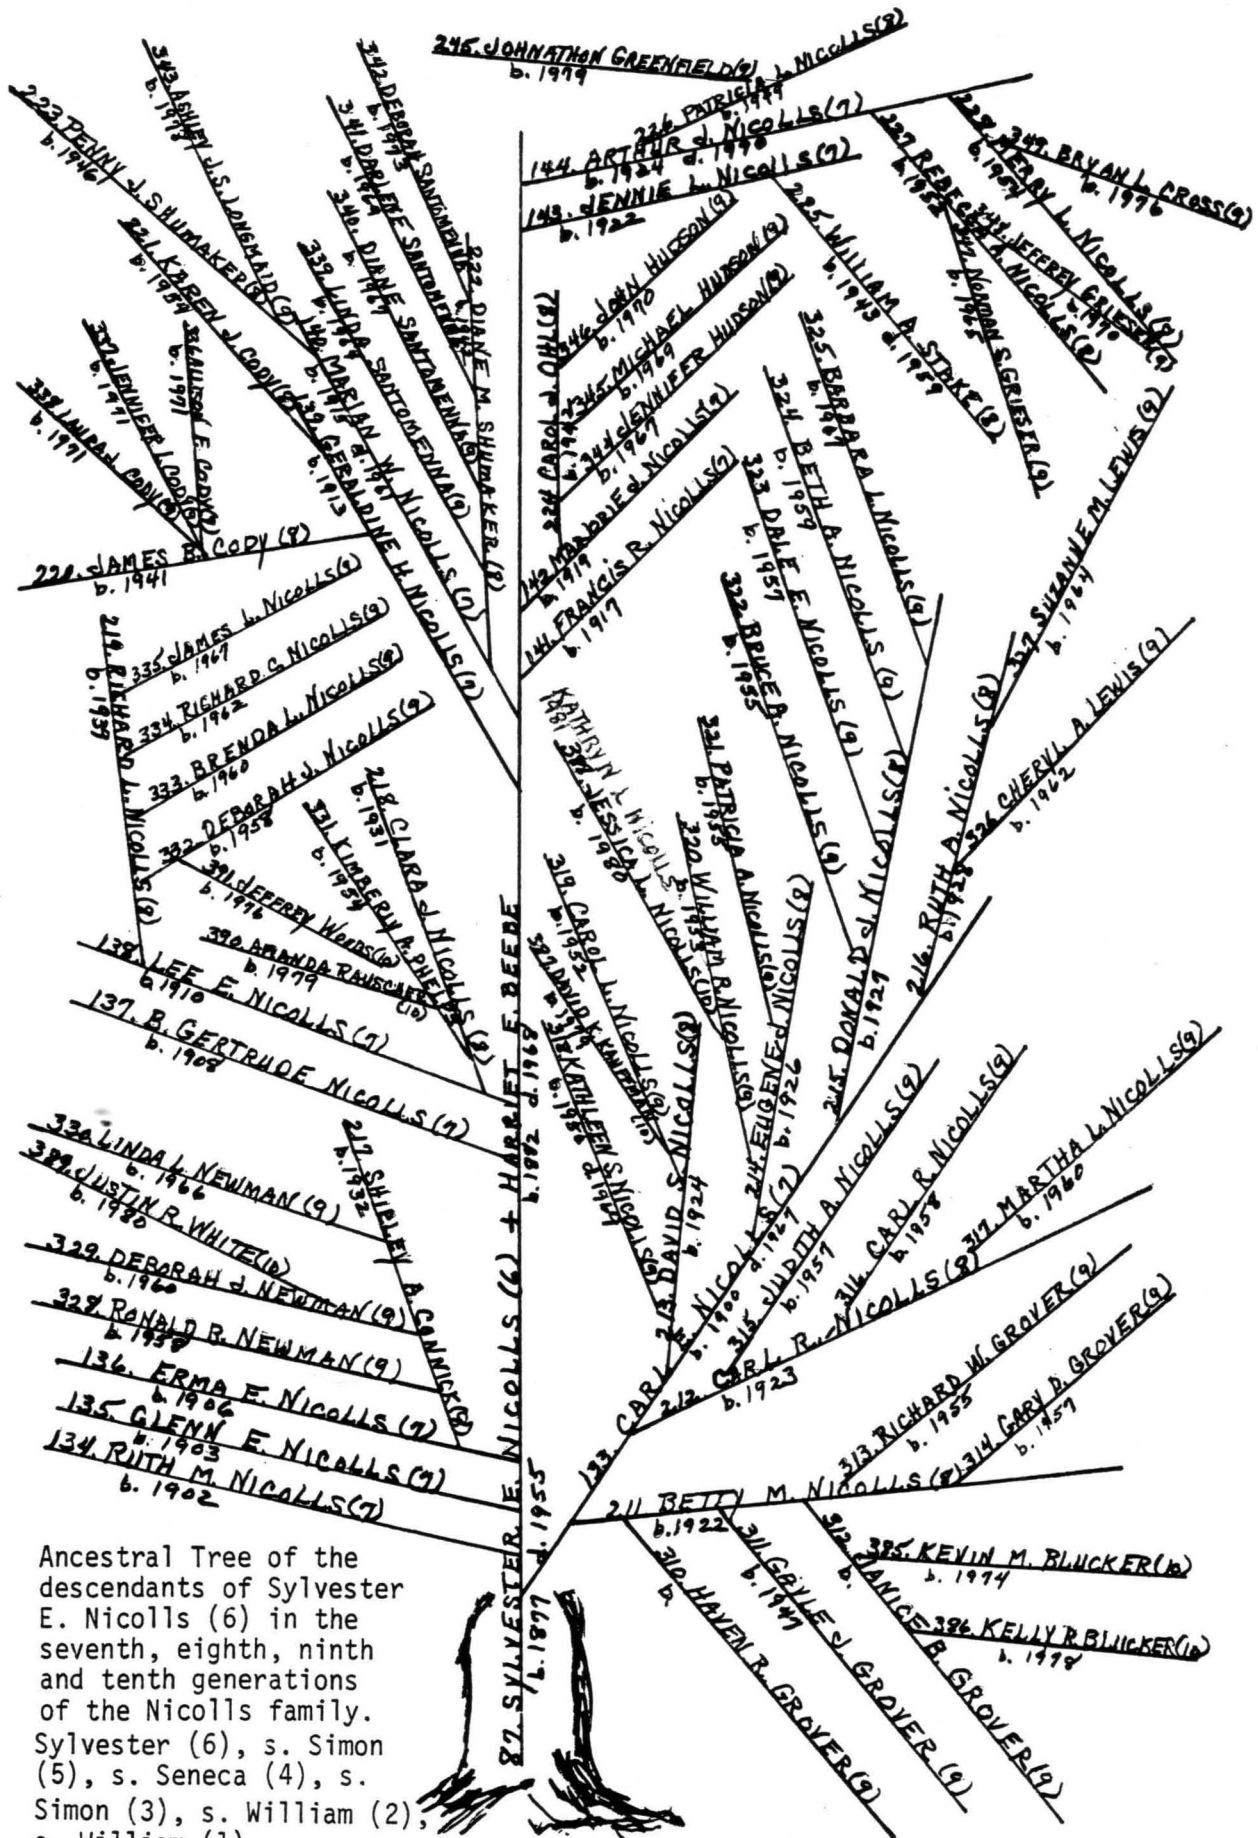

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls was the scene of a happy gathering of the family and relatives on Wednesday, March 2, 1949, the occasion being the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

By late Tuesday afternoon their daughters, Mrs. H. M. Blair, B. Gertrude White of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. F. B. Cody of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. L. J. Shumaker of Chicago, Ill., had all reached home for the celebration. On Wednesday they were joined by Carl E. Nicolls of Poland, Ohio, Lee Earl Nicolls of Spring Township, Arthur J. Nicolls of Meadville, Pa., Mrs. M. D. Connick, Mrs. Wilton J. Ohl, and Mrs. William W. Stake, all of Conneautville, who with their families enjoyed a family dinner at the Travelers Inn in Linesville, Pa. This was the first time in ten years the family had all been together.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls have 13 grandchildren, four of them the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nicolls, are attending college and were not present. Two great-grandchildren, a son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grover of Youngstown, Ohio, were present and a four generation picture was taken.

The table was tastefully decorated with a three-tiered anniversary cake, with gold and white candles, and spring flowers. The daughters and daughters-in-law served as hostesses and served refreshments to relatives and friends attending the afternoon and evening open house. The Jolly Sixteen Club (a 500 card club) were special guests at the evening open house.

Mrs. Nicolls wore a gray dress with appliqued design and an orchid corsage. Mr. Nicolls wore a yellow rose in his lapel for the occasion.

On Sunday, February 27, the couple entertained their brothers and sisters at a dinner in their home. Several of them having been at the wedding fifty years ago. They were married at the home of the bride's parents, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Weidner, by Rev. A. M. Lockwood. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to members of both families and the couple left for a week's stay in New York. Upon their return, they began housekeeping on a farm two miles east of Conneautville where Mr. Nicolls was born and spent most of his life. While general farming did not leave many idle days, the large farmhouse has been the scene of many school parties, reunions, and week-end gatherings.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls are members of the Conneautville Methodist Church and have been active members of Spring Grange until recently. They both received their Silver Star Certificates several years ago.

During World War II, they had a son, four grandsons, and four sons-in-law in service at one time.

The farm was sold two years ago and with their youngest son, Arthur, they moved to a home on Washington Street, Conneautville, which they had purchased several years ago.

As their children departed for their homes, the couple felt blessed that this day could be observed.

The following concerning the death of Sylvester E. Nicolls is part of an article from The Conneautville Courier of January 13, 1955:

Sylvester E. Nicolls, 77, died Tuesday, January 11, 1955, at his home on Washington Street, Conneautville, Pa. A son of the late Simon and Louisa Shaw Nicolls, he was the last survivor of eight children.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Harriet E. Beebe Nicolls, these children, Carl, of Poland, Ohio; Mrs. Howard Blair, of Arlington, Va.; B. Gertrude White of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Bennett Cody, Paris, France; Mrs. L. Joseph Shumaker, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Melvin Connick, Lee Earl Nicolls, Mrs. Wilton Ohl, Mrs. William Stake and Arthur J. Nicolls, all of Conneautville; 18 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

From The Conneautville Courier of January 20, 1955:

Services for Sylvester E. Nicolls were held Friday at 2:00 P. M. at the Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. Gilbert Schilling, officiating. Interment was at Conneautville cemetery with Ross Graham, Simon Woodard, Thomas Nicolls, Rodney Henretty, Fred Seward and Boyd Shaffer as bearers.

Q. V. Nicolls Graham, the seventh child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls, was born in the new farm house built by her parents on Thatcher Road, east of Conneautville, Pa., in Spring Township. She was soon nicknamed "Cutie" which she disliked when she got a little older. She favored the Nicolls side of the family in appearance, but inherited her beautiful, auburn hair from her grandmother, Julia Miller Shaw. She was always very lady-like, wore clothes well, loved to dance, and played the piano well. She was a very popular girl. Even though she enjoyed a good time, she was of a studious nature and after attending the Bolard School on Thatcher Rd. in Spring Township, she went to Conneautville High School graduating in the Class of 1898. She was the first member of the Nicolls family to graduate from Conneautville High School and Edinboro Normal School, later known as Edinboro State Teachers College, in Edinboro, Pa.

Horses were the mode of transportation in those days and Q. V.'s favorite horse while growing up was a speedy, racer named Colonel. Q. V. and her sister, L. C., got around a good bit with this faithful, bay horse. Later, her father gave her a young horse named Victory which she trained almost entirely by herself.

Q. V. first taught school in Spring Township and later in Angelica, New York, until her marriage to Robert H. Graham, a part owner of Bail & Graham Hardware in Conneautville, Pa. Two of their children were born while they lived in Conneautville. The first son survived only a few hours. The second son, Ross Sturgis, was born December 26, 1909.

A few years later, they left the hardware store and went into the lumber business. During this time they bought and lived in the former Eggleston place near her father's farm on Thatcher Road. Later they moved to Hubbard, Ohio, and then to Waverly, Ohio, where Mr. Graham continued in the lumber business. The third son, Robert T. L., was born in Waverly. They moved west to Oregon where the fourth child, Louise Eleanor, was born in Vernonia. The wet climate in Oregon caused Mr. Graham's arthritic condition to worsen so the family returned to their farm in Spring Township. Ross was a young man and helped his mother run the farm doing much of the work his father was unable to do. Robert T. L., when old enough, also helped with the farm work.

While her husband was engaged in the lumber business, Q. V. did the book-keeping for him. When they returned to Crawford County, she served as tax collector for Spring Township. It was during her second term as tax collector that she became ill resulting in her death at 56 years of age. The fever-type illness developed into pneumonia causing her death at her home on Thatcher Road, near Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

L., start the business in Conneautville known as Robert H. Graham & Sons. Mr. Graham was in a wheel chair and unable to feed himself long before Q. V.'s death, yet he remained active in the business until his death December 27, 1957, of heart failure. Q. V. and Robert were buried in the Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pa.

L. C. Nicolls Vapner, youngest child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls, was born in the farm home on Thatcher Road, east of Conneautville, Pa. She attended Bolard School, the one-room, country school located on the Nicolls farm, followed by a couple years at Conneautville High School. When her father retired and sold the farm to his son, Sylvester Emmett, they bought and moved to the McLaughlin home on Center St., Conneautville, Pa. This home is presently owned by Mrs. Audley Stevens.

L. C. cared for her parents as their health failed in their later years. Her father died in February, 1910, and her mother the following October. After her mother's death, L. C. stayed several months at the home of her brother, Thomas. She was about the same age as his children and was more like a sister than an aunt. L. C. inherited the home in Conneautville, in place of the $2500 usually given each child of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. Eventually, she sold the home to Nathaniel Houghtailing and rented rooms in Meadville, Pa., and went to Meadville Business College. While in Meadville, she worked for the Spirella Corset Company, the Keystone View Company and the First National Bank.

About 1922, L. C. went to Portland, Oregon, where her sister, Q. V., and family, were living. While working in an office in Portland, she met and married Charles Shepard, who was killed when he fell from a balcony. She moved to San Francisco, California, where she married Pat McNary. Mac, as she called him, died a few years later.

While a widow, L. C. returned to Pennsylvania for a visit. The Nicolls reunion was held in April at Spring Grange so she could see as many members of the family as possible. After she returned to San Francisco, nieces Edna Nicolls Tyler and Marian Nicolls Shumaker, visited her at different times while in the west.

L. C. married a third time to a World War II veteran by the name of Vapner. She continued to do office work until her health failed requiring surgery.

It was through the efforts of Ross Graham and Louise Graham Decker that L. C., in poor health, returned to Pennsylvania in December, 1953. She was particularly close to her nephew, Ross Graham (7) and his wife, Alice, who graciously took her into their home and gave her loving care. She died of abdominal cancer February 13, 1954, at 66 years of age. Interment was in the Nicolls family lot in the Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

Sylvester Nicolls family reunion held

Sixty-seven descendants of the late Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls, who resided on Thatcher Road in Spring Township and later on Washington Street in Conneautville, Pa., were guests of their grandson, Donald J. Nicolls, and his wife, Beverly Nicodemus Nicolls, at their home in New Castle, Pa., Sunday, May 30, 1982.

A bountiful picnic dinner was served and enjoyed by all.

Intermittent showers did not dampen the spirits of those in attendance. Volley ball, a water balloon pitch contest and Mexican games were played outside while those inside were entertained by listening to Ben Cody relate the stories that did not make Ten Generations of the Nicolls Family in America as told to him by Sylvester Nicolls. Some played ping-pong and electronic games while others visited.

In the evening, a huge, beautifully decorated birthday cake was served along with a variety of ice cream sundaes. The facial features of the two honored guests, Ethel McCoy Nicolls, celebrating her 80th birthday, and Carol Nicolls Kauffman, celebrating her 80th birthday, were skillfully portrayed on each side of the top of the cake.

Later, guitar and banjo music by Carol and Dean Kauffman was enjoyed and followed by two skits. One, a take off of George Burns' "I Was 18 Again" was expertly presented by Dale Nicolls, son of Bev and Don Nicolls, the other, "I Remember Grandma's Feather Bed," played by Mark Hitchens on a guitar while a four-post feather bed came alive with numerous puppet characters bouncing and dancing on the bed. The dolls and puppets were beautifully made by Beverly and Beth Nicolls and made a great hit with young and old alike. A photographer was busy catching the delighted expressions of the children as the lively puppets performed. As the puppets disappeared, a square dance caller arrived and called for "four more couples." Three squares of dancers were soon on the floor enjoying again what members of the Nicolls family have enjoyed for generations past and old alike.

One of Don's hobbies is photography so he treated everyone to some family movies and slides dating back to the 1930's. Family gatherings at the farm on Thatcher Road, at the home of Carl and Ethel Nicolls in Poland, Ohio, and at a cottage on Lake Erie where the family used to gather for vacations were again relived through his pictures. Bathing suits made of wool were fashionable in those days! Family wedding pictures were also shown as well as pictures of the golden wedding anniversaries that have taken place. There have been three golden wedding anniversaries celebrated in the family - Sylvester and Harriet Nicolls in 1949, Melvin and Erma Nicolls Connick in 1976 and Lee Earl and Clara Shellito Nicolls in 1978.

Members of the Carl and Ethel Nicolls family attending were Ethel McCoy Nicolls, Betty Nicolls Grover, her husband, Donald G. Grover, and their children, Haven R. Grover, Gayle Grover Ridge and her husband, James Ridge, Janice Grover Blucker and husband, Gary, and their children, Kevin and Kelly, Richard Grover, and Gary Grover, all of the Poland, Ohio, area. C. Robert and Margaret McBride Nicolls of Houston, Texas, and their children, Judith Nicolls of Miami, Fla., C. Robert Nicolls, II, of Chicago, Ill., and Martha Nicolls of Columbus, Ohio, David S. and Mary Toolil Nicolls of Columbus, Ohio, and their daughter, Carol Nicolls Kauffman, and husband Dean K. Kauffman, and their son, David K. Kauffman, of Worthington, Ohio, Eugene J. and Ellen Ryan Nicolls of Toledo, Ohio and their son, William R. and wife, Patricia Elhart Nicolls, and their children, Jessica and Kathryn Nicolls, Eugene's daughter, Patricia Nicolls Hitchens, and husband.

Other descendants of Sylvester and Harriet Nicolls privileged to enjoy this memorable day were Shirley Connick Newman and husband, Bob, of Conneautville, Pa., Geraldine Nicolls Cody and husband, Bennett, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and their daughter, Karen Cody Hopkins, and her husband, Jim Hopkins, of Tampa, Fla., Diane Shumaker Santonacina, and her husband, Mike, and daughters, Linda, Diane, Darlene, and Deborah, of Erie, Pa., Penny Shumaker Longmaid and son, Ashley Longmaid, of Ellsworth, Maine, Marjorie Nicolls Ohl and husband, Pete, of Durham, N.C., Jennie Nicolls Stake and husband, Bill, of Conneautville, Pa., and Helen and John Pechin of Cochran, Pa., and daughters, Patricia Nicolls Greenfield, and son, Johnathon Greenfield, of Gulf Breeze, Fla., Rebecca Nicolls Grieser and husband, Norm, of Conneaut Lake, Pa., and Merry Lee Nicolls, Cross, husband Danny, and son, Bryan Lee, of Ridgeway, Pa.

A "hold over breakfast" was planned for Monday, May 31st, for those still in the area. However, many members from a distance departed reluctantly, but carrying with them wonderful memories they will cherish forever, thanks to Bev and Don!

Beaver Center alumni meets

The 74th Annual Beaver Center Alumni Banquet was held upstairs in the Beaver Center Community Building on June 5, 1982 at 7:30, registering 126.

President, Arthur Boyce of Meadville, opened the meeting. Ben Gates asked the Blessing. The hall was pleasantly decorated with table arrangements and colorful flowers. The aroma of coffee and a fantastic display of tureen foods, on a cool rainy evening created a hungry appetite. After the dinner, tables were cleared and empty dishes packed away with the business program following. Beaver Center Alumni has a tax ID number for use; also Marine Banks, last March, advised the Beaver Center Alumni to place their money in savings rather than checking to save bank expenses.

The nominating chairwoman, Isabelle Loucks, announced if no nominations were made from the floor, the same officers would serve for another year.

There was a moment of silence on behalf of those who became deceased in the past year: Guila Martin, Class of 1913 and Frank Ahwood, Class of 1919. Correspondence was read from the May Page Class of 1982: Mrs. T.E. Church and Miss Harmelink of Erie, former teachers, Vicki Leehan of Albion, Frances Tower, Bryant, of Las Vegas Nv. and Ova Barton Dickey Class of 1913. Also a note from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Doan, Fla. Class of 1928. He has had two heart attacks. March 17, 1982 and May 3, 82. He set a record in three hospitals for an operation of 7 bypasses. He has appreciated the prayers and cards.

Toastmaster Robert McMillin of Westfield, N.Y. Class of 1939, made opening remarks: Beaver Center as the hub of a wheel and its people go out in every direction but glad to get back.

He called for those who graduated in 1932. Wally Caschorn, Elizabeth Miller represented the class of 1982. A survey of those graduating before 1932 showed that from 1913 to 1938 several were present.

The 75th Beaver Center Alumni will be had the first Saturday in June, 1983, at 6:30 p.m. in the B.C. Community Building.

A program of guitar music and singing followed.

Rundells Garden Club was entertained at the home of Marie Foster Thursday evening, June 10th. There were 16 members present. The president, Florence Foster, opened the meeting with a poem entitled "There's Sunshine in a Smile" by Helen Steiner Rice. Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held at the home of Dorothy Morris Thursday, July 8th, at 6:30 p.m.

Catherine McMurry presented the program. She compared a 1931 program with the programs of today. Included in that program was the topic of "My Childhood Days of Gardening". Each member was asked to tell something of her childhood days of gardening. The vegetable quiz from that program was held. A fruit salad luncheon was served by the hostess.

Rundells Ladies Aid will meet Thursday, June 17th, at the grange hall at noon. Members are to take a luncheon, beverage will be furnished. Ruth King, Vivian Morris and Gertrude Morris will serve on the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Orient, Ohio, spent from Thursday until Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Mentor, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Willoughby, Ohio, were weekend visitors. Steve and Mark Smith of Edinboro were Saturday visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garton and daughters, Shellee and Sharia, and Cindy Hunt, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale L. Monnin and family, Quakertown, Pa. They attended the commencement exercises of Quakertown Community High School, where Stacey Monnin was one of the graduates, and an open house for her at the home of her parents, the Monnins. Stacey is a granddaughter of the Morrises.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Foster attended the Penn-Ohio Enthusiasts Club dinner and dance held at Westford recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McFadden and sons, John and David, of Monroeville, Pa., were weekend visitors of his mother, Mrs. Edward R. McFadden.

m. June 17, 1916 to Carl J. Tyler

Children: Three

- 167. i Donald Carl Tyler
- 168. ii Winifred Claire Tyler
- 169. iii Ida Florence Tyler

Edna Lucille Nicolls Tyler was the first child of Thomas Leroy and Ida Waldo Nicolls. She was an attractive person, always well dressed, often wearing a large brimmed hat, a popular style at that time.

She graduated from Conneautville High School in the Class of 1910 along with nine other studious individuals. George C. Hutchinson was the Principal of the school.

After her marriage to Carl J. Tyler, they lived on a large farm west of Conneautville, Pa. They specialized in raising turkeys which were sold at the Farmer's Market in Meadville, Pa.

She was an active member of the Methodist Church. In politics, a Republican. She played the piano; grew and loved flowers and wrote biographical sketches of many members of the sixth generation preserving a good record of that era. Much of that information has been included in this history and is much appreciated. Her interest in family history is revealed in the following portion of a handwritten letter she wrote in 1966 when she was 76 years old. The letter was sent to Carl Emmett Nicolls (7) and forwarded to me in 1978 by Carl's widow, Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls, when she learned I was working on a family history. Part of the letter follows:

Mildred (sister of Edna) has lost weight, also Irene H. (M:nretty). I weigh 98 pounds since the heart attack in April, but feel fairly well. I spend the winters in Meadville with Winifred (daughter) and summers at trailer.

So nice of Erma (Nicolls Connick) to bring your Mother (Harriet Beebe Nicolls) to the reunion. Your Mother is pretty good and was so happy to visit you and find you doing so well. She thinks you have a wonderful doctor.

I was 76 in June. Little Gregory (Tyler) comes over to play with me. I don't do the right way somehow. He looked so disgusted, said, "Oh, you dumb kid". He says the most unexpected things. I so enjoy those two little boys. Little Carl John has Tyler blue eyes, Gregory has big, brown eyes. Brown eyes are rather unusual in the Nicolls and Tyler families. Our Great-Grandmother Shaw (Julia Miller Shaw) had brown eyes and red hair. Real small. She lived some of the time with our Grandmother Nicolls (Louisa Shaw Nicolls) when I was little. A pretty little, old lady in her black lace bonnet.

Both Clare(Nicolls) and I had 10 grandparents, all of which I remember except Great-Grandfather Shaw. I had two Grandfather Waldos, two Grandfather Nicolls, a Great-Grandfather Tallman, Great-Grandfather Shaw, two Great-Grandmothers, Shaw and Waldo, and my two pairs of Grandparents, Nicolls and Waldo.

I joined the DAR (Daughters of The American Revolution) about 15 years ago.

Had to have an ancestor in the Revolutionary War. The father, William Nicolls, wife, and two grown sons, William and Simon, landed in New York City at that time. The mother was lost when the father and two sons joined Revolutionary War. Sons married sisters, Wray (Reay) girls. They lived at Stoney Point, New York, awhile. Later to Ithaca, where I could find nothing to prove, never got to Stoney Point. So I joined on the Gleason line, as our Great-Great-Grandmother Polly Gleason's Grandfather, *Abner Gleason, was a Revolutionary soldier. Got me in DAR.

Have looked up a lot of different family lines, found a lot on both sides of family, Nicolls and Waldo. Our Grandfather told me we were descended from Lord North, who was here in Colonial times and the King's Prime Minister. England never accepted the marriage, title went to Lord Northcliff, a distant relative.

The letter was signed "Cousin Edna".

Very few people have ten grandparents! Edna was the first child of a first child resulting in ten grandparents and all those memories.

*According to the Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, Abner Gleason was Polly's father rather than grandfather. Edna's Work Sheet for membership in the DAR also states that Polly was the child of Abner Gleason.

Edna Lucille Nicolls (7)

Edna, eldest grandchild of Simon Chauncey (5), collected information about the children of Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls and wrote sketches about them and their daily lives in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania. I believe she was the first member of the family to join the DAR.

Clare Banks Nicolls was the eldest son and the second child of Thomas Leroy and Ida B. Waldo Nicolls. He graduated from Conneautville High School in the Class of 1911, and took some classes at Edinboro College, Edinboro, Pennsylvania. He taught school all of his adult life, was a successful farmer in Spring Township and for many years was an agent for the Erie Insurance Exchange, Erie, Pa.

Clare was a member of the Conneautville Methodist Church; an all time Republican and an active member of Spring Grange. He was Overseer of Crawford County Pomona Grange No. 26 at the time of his death. His wife, Ethel Mae Lininger Nicolls, was elected to complete the unexpired term as Overseer.

He was musically inclined and played the clarinet during his high school years. He was a member of the Conneautville Town Band and also played in a group with his sister, Edna, at the piano, and brother, Parke, on the violin. They played for dances until their marriages and other interests occupied their time.

The following concerning his wife, Ethel M. Nicolls, was copied from The Conneautville Courier of January 2, 1980:

Mrs. Ethel M. Nicolls, 86, widow of Clare B. Nicolls, 900 Main Street, Conneautville, died Wednesday, December 19, 1979, at City Hospital following a short illness.

She was born in Beaver Township on September 9, 1893, a daughter of Evi and Dora Mowry Lininger. She married Clare Nicolls on May 6, 1914. He died in 1940.

She was a member of the Valley United Methodist Church, a 60-year member of Spring Grange, the only woman to be master of Pomona Grange, a past matron of the Conneautville Order of the Eastern Star Lodge No. 381 and a former trustee of Edinboro State College. Formerly a school teacher at Steamburg, she was a retired Crawford County deputy treasurer and served 20 years as county auditor. She was a former insurance agent and auction sales clerk. She was a retired school board member.

She is survived by five sons, Thomas L. and C. Keith, both of Springboro, Earl R., Conneautville, Gerald W., Meadville, and Ward B., of Placerville, California, one foster son, the Rev. Clyde Shaffstal, Rocky Ford, Colo., 13 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services were held Sunday, December 23, 1979, at the Charles W. White Funeral Home, Conneautville, with Rev. Fredrick Vanderhoff of Valley United Methodist Church officiating. Interment was at Conneautville Cemetery.

d. September 30, 1930 of cancer. Interment was at Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

m. 1920 to Louise Graves of Springboro, Pennsylvania.

Children: None

Parke Hobart Nicolls was the third child of Thomas Leroy and Ida Bell Waldo Nicolls.

He attended Conneautville High School where he played in the first Conneautville High School orchestra in 1910. He learned to play the violin and a horn.

Parke married Louise Graves in California shortly after the Graves family moved there from Springboro, Pa. He bought his father's farm east of Conneautville, Pa., where he lived and farmed for nearly ten years. He died at his home in Spring Township after an operation at the Cleveland Clinic followed by radium treatments. He was 38 years of age. Parke was a kind, patient, wonderful man.

His wife, Louise Graves Nicolls, died in California, in December, 1961.

My childhood memories of Louise and Parke include a trip to Spring Grange on a clear, cold, wintry night. Dad, Sylvester Emmett Nicolls (6), hitched a team of horses to a long bob-sled partially filled with straw to keep us warm as well as a soft place to sit for the two, or three, mile ride. Mom, heated flat-irons on the wood stove in the kitchen and then wrapped them in towels. These were put near our feet, under the blankets, to help keep us warm. We stopped for Louise and Parke to ride with us. Louise had a bag of popcorn balls. Delicious! She made the best popcorn balls and I still think of Louise every time I pop corn.

The sounds of that clear, cold night were memorable, too. The crunch of the snow under the horses' hoofs and the "singing" telephone wires in concert with the jingling bells on the horses' harnesses.

He attended school in Linesville, Pennsylvania, graduating from Linesville
mercial College in 1921-1923.

Simon was employed at the Andover Bank, Andover, Ohio, from 1924 to 1944.
He was Cashier when he resigned to accept a position with the Union Bank and Savings Company in Bellevue, Ohio, as Assistant Vice President and Cashier. He retired in 1970 as President and continued as Chairman of the Board until 1975.

He is an active member of the Methodist Church and has been involved in various civic activities over the years. In politics, a Republican. Since retirement, they spend their summers at their home in Bellevue, Ohio, and their winters in Pompano Beach, Florida, where they have a Holiday trailer home in a nice park.

Children: Two

182. i Mark T. Phelan (s.s.)
 183. ii Sylvester George Henretty

Clifford Linus Henretty was the first child of George Patrick and Anna Alena Nicolls Henretty.

The following was taken from The Conneautville Courier of November 10, 1961:

Clifford L. Henretty, 62, RD 2, Meadville, Pa., died Monday evening, Nov. 6, 1961, at his Littles Corners home.

He was born in Summerhill Township, June 2, 1899, a son of George P. and Anna Nicolls Henretty. He married the former Birdie Keck Phelan.

A retired carpenter, he was a member of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church at Conneautville, Eureka Grange, Hayfield Central Volunteer Fire Department, District Council of Carpenters Union 566, and Camp No. 9 of the Pennsylvania State Police of Crawford and Erie Counties.

He is survived by his widow, a son, George of Meadville; a step-son, Mark F. Phelan of RD 2, Meadville; two sisters, Mrs. Richard (Bernice) North of Greenville and Mrs. Irene Freeman of RD 2, Meadville; four brothers, Bernard J. of Corry, Ernest P. of Transfer, Rodney A. of Albion and Wayne T. of Erie, and five grandchildren.

The following was also taken from The Conneautville Courier of a later date:

Birdie A. Henretty, 87, RD 8, Meadville, died June 17, 1978. She was born at Transfer, Pa., March 30, 1891. She taught as a substitute teacher in Summerhill Township for several years; was a charter member of Hayfield Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary; a member of Littles Corners United Methodist Women; Norrisville Ladies Aid Society; a charter member of Norrisville Garden and Civic Club; 44-year member of Eureka Grange at Norrisville where she held several offices including master; was grange secretary for 22 years, and held the office of chaplain at the time of her death.

She was a member of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Conneautville, Pa.

Survivors include two sons, Mark Phelan of RD 8, Meadville, and S. George Henretty, RD 3, Green Acres, Saegertown, Pa.; seven grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren. Interment at St Peter's Cemetery, Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

Bernice Margaret Henretty North was the second child of George Patrick and Anna Alena Nicolls Henretty.

She graduated from Conneautville High School in the Class of 1920. There were 26 members in the class and Ned Dearborn was the Principal.

I believe this family lived in, or near, Greenville, Pennsylvania.

Bernice Henretty was born in Conneautville, Pa.; died in Greenville hospital and is buried in St. Michael's Cemetery, Greenville, Pa. She died of a heart attack as did her brothers, Clifford, Bernard, Patrick and Rodney -- all died between 1961 and 1963. Their sister, Irene, lived to be 73 years of age.

Richard North, husband of Bernice, was born in Dicksonburg, PA., August 18, 1901, to Freckerick North and wife, Letia Eugenia Sterling (born Sara Bowman, adopted). He died of a stroke preceded by several heart attacks September 26, 1974, and is buried in St. Michael's Cemetery in Greenville, PA.

Date of their marriage was October 7, 1925. (Information from a letter dated October 30, 1982, from Marian North Shafer (8), youngest daughter of Bernice Henretty North.

Carl Emmett Nicolls was the first child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. He was born in the large house built by his grandfather, Simon Chauncey, on Thatcher Road, Spring Township, Crawford County, Pa.

He attended Bolard School, the one-room school located on the Nicolls farm at the top of the "big hill" and graduated from Conneautville High School, Class of 1919. There were 15 members in the class, 9 girls and 6 boys. Ned Dearborn was the Principal at that time. During his school years and before the advent of the automobile, Carl drove a horse and cart, or buggy, to school. He usually drove one of the fastest horses in the area, a sleek, bay well known for her speed and inclination to run away. Many stories have been told about "Old Florence" and her escapades when Carl was driving her to school. Usually his sister, Ruth, was a passenger if Carl could get "Old Florence" stopped long enough for Ruth to get aboard. Once "Old Florence" was headed toward home, there was no stopping her. However, I've been told that with plenty of practice, Ruth became quite adept at jumping aboard with the cart in motion. Years later, my fifth grade teacher, Flora McFayden, also a graduate of the Class of 1919, glanced out the school window and saw my father, Sylvester Emmett, driving a horse and cart by the school. She interrupted the class to ask me the name of the horse -- could it be "Old Florence"? She was amazed when I confirmed her suspicion that it was indeed the same "Old Florence" she remembered well from her high school days.

Carl helped his father on the farm until he went to Poland, Ohio, about 1920, and started working in a grocery store owned by Mr. McCrone. He continued operating the store located on Midlothian Blvd., Struthers, Ohio, until 1965.

He was a nice looking man with regular features, blond hair and blue eyes. He enjoyed playing golf, watching the dog races and going to the airport on a Sunday afternoon for a ride in an open cockpit airplane. He was interested in all sports and built a tennis court and miniature golf course for his children. He belonged to the Methodist Church and was active in community activities. During World War II, he served on the Tire Rationing Board while four of his sons served in the armed forces. He served several years on the Poland Village Council. In politics, a Republican.

After a long illness, Carl died of cancer October 17, 1967. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery, Poland, Ohio.

His wife, Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls, was born May 31, 1902, at Poland, Ohio. Her father was Smith McCoy. He was born at Rose Point, Pennsylvania, February 27, 1876, and died December 7, 1941, at Poland, Ohio. Her mother was Minnie Spitler McCoy born at Poland, Ohio, May 6, 1875. She died June 10, 1961, at Poland, Ohio.

Besides raising six children, Ethel belongs to the Methodist Church and is interested in photography, family and travel. Ethel's random memories recorded May 8, 1975, (following) attest to her wonderful personality and joy in living each day to the fullest:

Carl came to Poland after having an operation in Pennsylvania. He was fixing a roof on a barn and he fell off and had to have a hernia operation, and so....while he was recuperating from that, he came out to Poland to visit his uncle. His uncle was Gordon Beebe, his mother's brother.

Gordon Beebe's wife's sister's husband was Henry McCrone. (Gordon Beebe's wife and Henry McCrone's wife were sisters) Henry McCrone and his brother, Myron, had a grocery and meat market in Poland. So, Carl got a job there.

I was working at the post office at the time, filling in for a girl who was sick. Carl would come into the post office, very stern, never smile or anything, and say, "Box 60, please". So, after a few times like that, I thought well....I'd have a little fun with him, maybe...so, I got the mail out of the box when I saw him coming and stood there holding it out so he wouldn't have a chance to say, "Box 60, please".

Another thing I remember about that...he had a girl friend back in Conneautville and he'd bring a box of candy for me to mail to that girl. I mailed it....but, I was getting a little tired of that. (Chuckle) Her name was Jean Eckles and eventually she came to Youngstown and I said she came out to wait for me to pass on so she could have him.

Then, I got a job at the McCrone store, too. It was not far from the post office which was where the fire station is now. I remember at Christmas time he got me a kewpie doll which I wish I had kept. It would be a collector's item now. But we had a lot of fun at the store.

In those days, the men wore detachable collars they sent to the laundry to have cleaned and starched. Wouldn't that be terrible? They had little collar buttons that fastened in the back. I've forgotten how they fastened in the front. And, one time I answered the phone and the lady said, "a pound of lard" and I thought she said, "a can of lye". So, after her order was delivered, she called up pretty mad! I felt so bad I cried about it and he gave me some candy to eat (chuckle)...like a little kid, eh?

Here follows a rather disjointed discussion of the three McCrone stores-- the one in Poland, one in Brownlee Woods, which didn't do very well, and the one on Midlothian Blvd. in Struthers where Carl went to work shortly after they were married. According to Dave Nicolls' memory, when Henry McCrone retired, there was an unwritten gentlemen's agreement that the store belonged to Carl in return for his providing groceries to Henry and his wife as long as they lived. This was done, and at Henry's widow's death the store passed to Ethel, who sold it.

We became engaged at Christmas time. I remember going to a dance and I don't think Carl was there...maybe he wasn't invited, but I went. I remember dancing and showing my ring around. And New Year's Eve, I danced with old George Bishop at the Bishop house. Young George is about my age and there was a group.....

We were married on a Monday morning in June. We were married at the parsonage. I remember it was Monday because my mother was washing clothes. One of the delivery boys from the store stood up for us...Herbert....no, Clarence. We went on the train to Niagara Falls for our honeymoon. We went to Conneautville and they rode us around town on a hay wagon. I guess they made a big noise until you came out...and they gave you some candy or something, and cigars, too, when you got married.

We lived at home for a little while and then moved to the Stone Tavern. There must have been a coal stove...and, the fireplace there...but, I don't think we used it. But, I remember the little two-burner hot plate was all I had to cook on....and when I washed clothes, we had a little boiler to boil clothes in. They had to be boiled and I stirred them with a stick. And you pumped your water and brought it in and there was no spigot or anything....and when you washed dishes, I can remember...just go out on the back porch and bring the dish water in out of the yard.

And then...there was in the back of that place, a ravine...in those days. I used to bake cookies and I'd always burn some and oh, pie dough, too! I always had so much trouble getting pie dough to stick together. I always said....in that backyard, there was more pie dough and burned cookies thrown over the hill! (Chuckle) But, it was fun.

We had a big porch across the front. I remember one night I thought I heard somebody walking on that porch, and....I don't remember whether I woke him up and told him....but, I know I thought I've got a coward for a husband, he won't get up and go see who that is...Isn't that funny? Little things like that.

No, we didn't have any indoor plumbing. What is it they say? A room with a path?....must have been out where the hill was.

After Betty was born and Bob was three months old, we moved to the house on Delaware Avenue. It had indoor plumbing and water piped into the kitchen...and seemed like a mansion. The pump outside was more just for drinking water. People had wells in those days, you know. Although that house wasn't too old when we got it. Rev. Ike was there before us. Just seems to me it might have been five or six years old when we moved there. We put the addition on in 1935, when the boys got too big to sleep two in a twin bed. (Chuckle) Four boys in one room wasn't good anyway.

What do I remember about the depression? Well, the thing that stands out was that we always had ice cream on Sunday night...that was a treat then, you know. (Dave remembers dividing one pint of ice cream among six children. Mom and Dad must have done without.) So, one night we were....I don't know...just going for a ride with the kids or something...oh, and the banks were closed at that time, too...and I said, "Oh, I'll be glad when the banks open again and we can have some ice cream on Sunday night". So Dad (Carl) drove to the ice cream store and got some to take home. He felt sorry for me, I guess. That's all I remember of being deprived of anything. People got together to provide their own entertainment. I think I was too busy with children to think too much about it.

Yes, I think we had a telephone when we first married, and a victrola, and a radio with a horn on it. Seems like the only station we could get was KDKA Pittsburgh. That was one of the big stations.

I got my piano when I was six years old and took piano lessons. I was telling Suzi (grand-daughter, Suzi Lewis) that I liked to roller skate, too, but I never roller skated on a rink like she does. I remember skating down the hill in front of the house on my ball-bearing skates...and a girl friend across the street from me had wooden skates...wooden skate wheels. Did you ever hear of those? So, I thought I was pretty smart because my Dad was good to me. He would, you know, get me things like that. Course, I was the only one 'til I was ten years old...so, I could skate...beat them all down the hill any old time. I was telling Suzi...I guess she didn't know what I meant by...never heard of them...wooden wheels. And, also, sled riding...it was such a good hill and they had toboggan sleds, you know, and that was another thing I wasn't allowed to do. I wasn't allowed to go down because it was too dangerous. In fact, one fellow cracked his head open down there. See...the bridge, that's what they ran into this one night, I guess. I never was allowed to go down the slope.

There was a stream right along the side of the house...and that was where, in winter-time, when the dam was in, we skated. Except when the big boys were playing hockey. Then we couldn't skate 'cause they were kinda..... Ruth (Morris) and I often talk about it. We'd skate up...go as far as we could go at noon....we had an hour at noon for recess. We'd get our skates on...then you could skate almost all winter long. And we would skate up the creek...we always said we went up 'til the ice got thin...anyway, as far as we could. Then we would hear the bell. They always called it the first bell and the last bell...and we'd hear that bell. We'd get our skates off and run up the hill and cut up to the school house across the fields and get there in time. That was my high school days...where the junior high is now. My, we had a lot of fun!

Ruth (Morris) and I were pals way back then. She came to Poland when she was six years old. I went through school with her, although...I think she only went one year to high school. I don't know why she didn't finish. Sometimes when we have a real cold moonlit night, you know, she'll call up and say, "Let's go skating". (Chuckle)

(A special thanks to Dave and Mary Nicolls for recording and sending to me Ethel's memories for all of us to enjoy.)

Ethel Mae McCoy's (wife of Carl Emmett) grandfather, Peter Spitler, enlisted in the 105th Ohio Volunteer Infantry at Lowellville, Ohio, on January 5, ? . Probably for the Civil War.

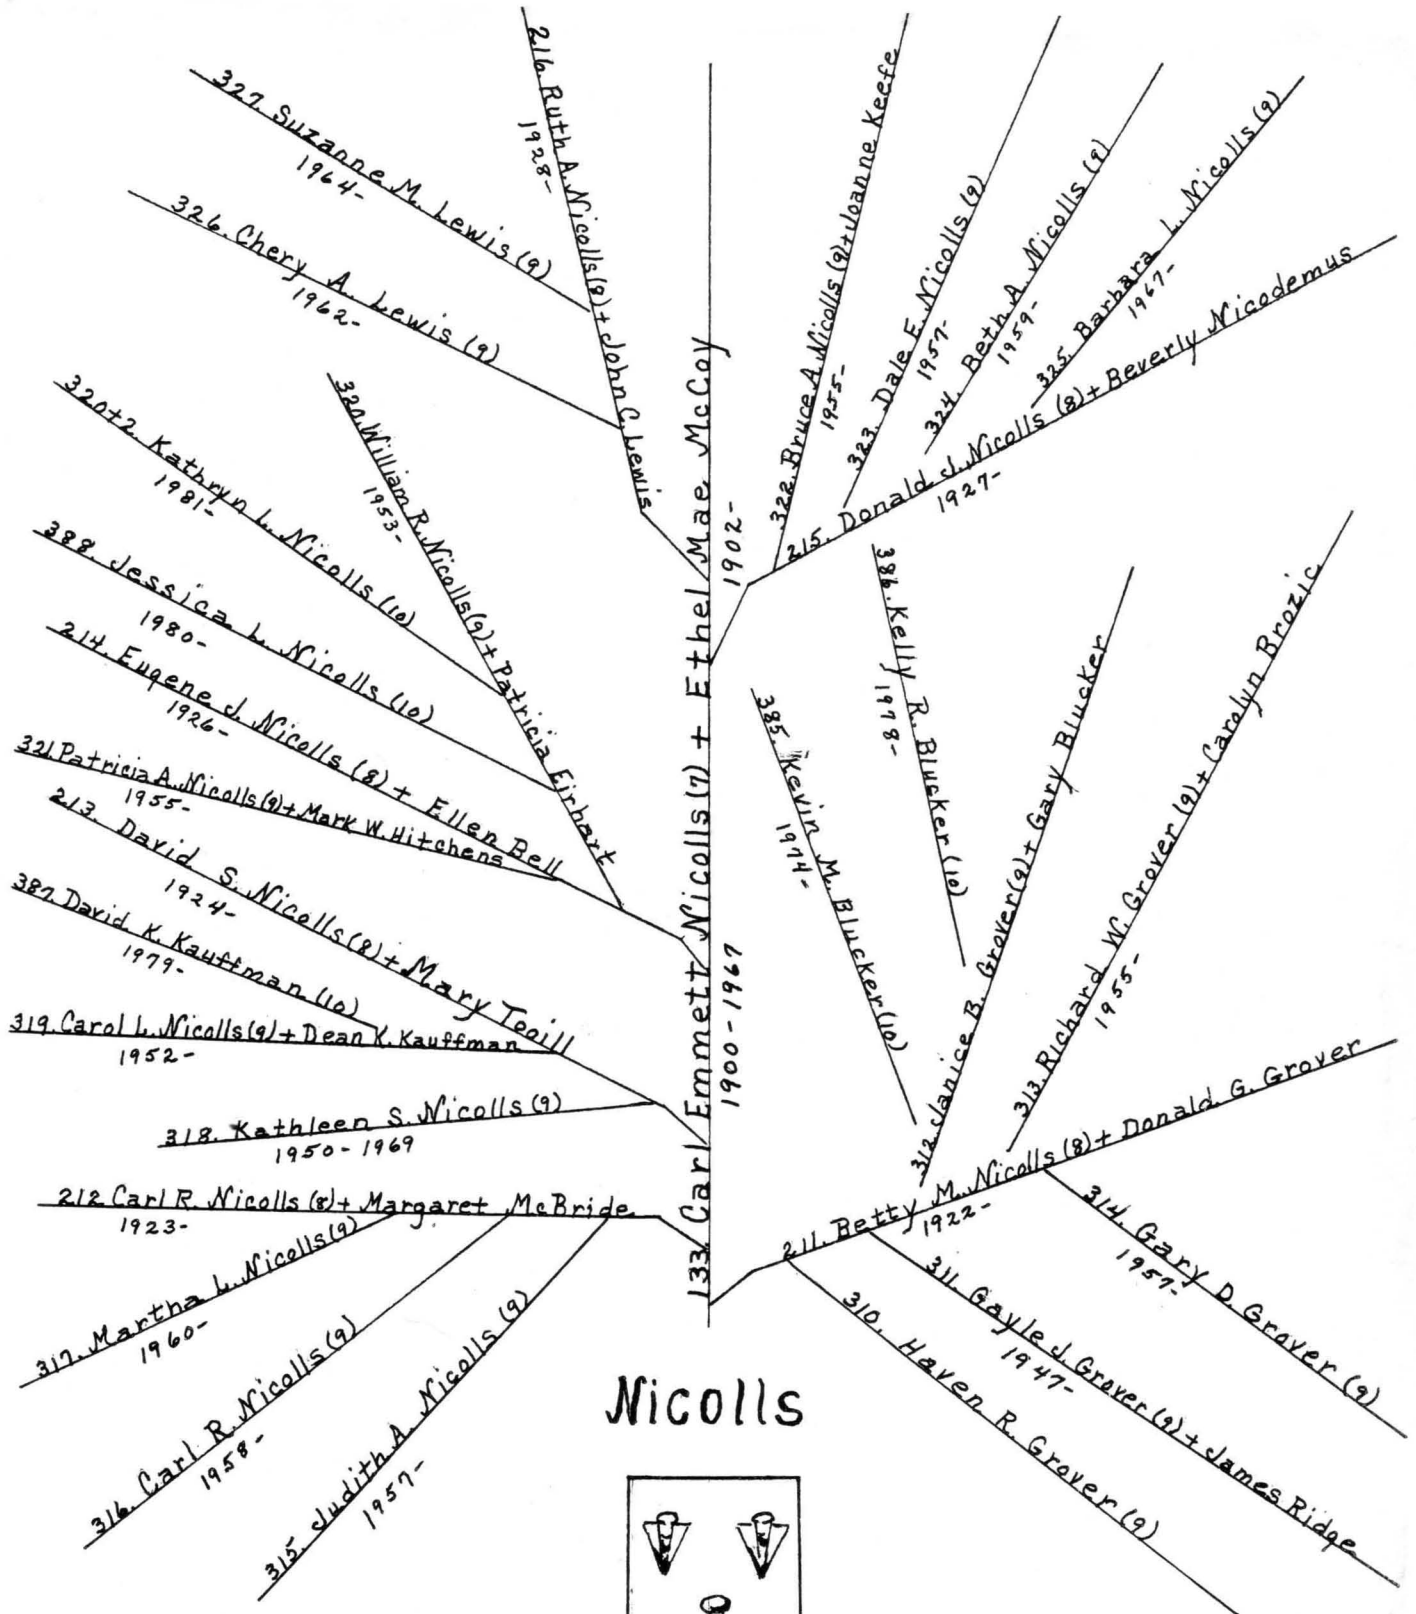

Ethel McCoy Nicolls died in her sleep, June 6, 1985. Funeral Service was held Saturday, June 8, 1985, at the Poland United Methodist Church, Poland, Ohio.

Ruth Marie Nicolls Blair was the second child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She was born in the small farmhouse near the farm of Sylvester's brother, Thomas, east of Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

She attended Bolard School, a one-room, country school situated on her Grandfather's farm at the top of the "big hill". She graduated from Conneautville High School in 1920 in a class of 26 members. Ned Dearborn was the Principal.

Ruth owned and operated a hat shop on Main Street in Conneautville for a while. Most of her earnings from the hat shop were lost when the Conneautville Bank failed in the early 1920's.

After her marriage to Howard M. Blair, Ruth worked as a secretary in the auto repair shop owned by Howard's father in Linesville, Pennsylvania. While living in Linesville, Ruth and Howard made many friends and learned to play golf and bridge. They both loved music. Ruth played the piano and Howard the trombone. Howard enjoyed yodelling and he was pretty good at it. They entertained themselves while riding in a car by singing and harmonizing their favorite songs. Sweet Adeline - for you I pine...was one of their favorites. When they tired of harmonizing Sweet Ad...e...line..., they often switched to the lilting, Come Away with Me, Lucille,...in my merry Oldsmobile - and then, one about Nellie. I don't remember that one too well.

They later moved to Dormont, a suburb of Pittsburgh, Pa., where they were both employed at Russell's Garage. During this time, Howard went to night school and was active in the National Guard.

At the start of World War II, Ruth and Howard were living in Arlington, Virginia. Howard was sent overseas and served in the European theater of operations serving most of the time near Paris, France. During this time, Ruth was a Civil Service worker in the Pentagon Building in Washington, D. C. She was also active in the Red Cross, the Reserve Officer's Wives and JANGO. When Howard returned from the war in 1946, they visited us at Eglin Field, Florida. It was a happy time. The war was over and the servicemen were returning home. Ruth and Howard lived in Arlington in a comfortable home on Dickerson Street until Howard's death caused by cancer in October 1968. Howard held the rank of Lt. Colonel and had a military funeral followed by interment at Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va. Ruth sold their home on Dickerson Street and moved into an apartment at Lorcum Towers on Old Dominion Drive in Arlington where she lived the remaining nine years of her life. She was surrounded by wonderful friends and during periods of this time a nephew, David Nicolls, and a niece, Ruth Ann Nicolls Lewis, and their families lived in the area and were a great help and comfort to Ruth.

Ruth was tall with brown hair and blue eyes; a good conversationalist and always very much up-to-date on the news of the day. She loved to play bridge, held several offices in the Arlington Women's Club, sewed most of her clothes as long as her eyesight would permit and loved to attend concerts, plays, etc., at the Kennedy Center when she had the opportunity. Because of poor vision caused by glaucoma and cataracts during her later years, Ruth drove only in the Arlington area trying to avoid as much traffic as possible. I recall calling Ruth one day in her 74th year and when I asked what she had been doing she said, "I've been driving the elderly to the polls to vote". She was a Democrat and was working for the election of Jimmy Carter for President. She was forever young in thoughts, looks and deeds.

She made two trips to Europe with friends after Howard's death. She loved to travel and would have done more of it had her health and eyesight permitted. Ruth never complained, had a wonderful sense of humor and enjoyed life to the fullest.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

Mrs. Ruth M. Blair, 75, Lorcum Towers Apartments, Arlington, Va., formerly of the Conneautville area, died at Arlington Hospital, Arlington, Va., Friday, October 21, 1977.

She was born in Conneautville, May 14, 1902, a daughter of Sylvester and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She married Howard Blair of Linesville, Pa., who died in 1968.

Survivors include five sisters, Mrs. Melvin Connick and Mrs. William Stake, both of Conneautville; Mrs. Gertrude Dial and Mrs. Bennett Cody, both of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mrs. Wilton Ohl of Durham, N. C.; a brother, Lee Earl Nicolls of Tucson, Arizona, and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Tuesday at Arlington, Va. Interment will be at Arlington National Cemetery.

Glenn Eversal Nicolls was the second son and the third child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. He was born in the former Johnson farm house near the farm of Thomas Nicolls in Spring Township. Sylvester and Harriet had just recently bought this farm. Glenn died there at the age of three years.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping, probably the Conneautville Courier:

Glenn, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls, died at the home of his parents, east of town, on Monday. The case was a very sad one. The little fellow had been a sufferer since three months old with a scrofulous affection. The best medical talent at home and in all the cities surrounding us affording no relief. The disease finally took the form of consumption and ended the child's life. The funeral will be held at the home on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock.

217. i Shirley Ann Connick

Erma Elizabeth Nicolls Connick is the fourth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She was born on the farm bought by her parents and known as the Johnson place located by the farm of Thomas L. Nicolls in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

She attended the one-room, country school known as the Bolard School located on the Simon Chauncey Nicolls farm. She was one of twenty-nine members to graduate from Conneautville High School in the Class of 1924. John C. Prindle was the Principal. After attending Edinboro Normal School at Edinboro, Pa., Erma taught school in a one-room, country school. I believe it was located on Route 18 between Conneautville and Springboro.

The Rev. Lockwood performed Erma and Melvin's wedding ceremony as he had for both sets of their parents. They are members of the Valley United Methodist Church in Conneautville.

Erma worked in Meadville and Conneaut Lake as a secretary for several years. She also served as tax collector for the borough of Conneautville. Melvin was employed by the American Viscose Corp. in Meadville, Pa., as an electrician for 31 years.

They built and lived in a new house on Thatcher Road in Conneautville. Since retiring, they spend the winter months at their home at Stuart, Fla., where Melvin referees schuffleboard tournaments and cares for a productive garden. Erma enjoys playing schuffleboard, card games, knitting and crocheting. At one time they were members of a square dance group.

Erma has brown hair, blue eyes, nice complexion and a friendly personality.

Erma and Melvin celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in June 1976. They have one grandson, two grand-daughters and a great-grandson.

Erma taught two years at the Thompson School on Rt. 18 and a term or two at the Nelson School at the end of Thatcher Road.

Melvin recalled that the first car he owned was a Ford roadster. The second car was a Ford Sedan with side curtains and a heater on the manifold. That must have seemed a real luxury after driving a horse and buggy.

Their first home after their marriage was an apartment over Shawkey's Store reached by enclosed stairs on the side of the brick building next to the Shamrock Restaurant. Melvin worked at Burk Electric Co. during this time; Stanley Wallace was the Superintendent. Erma worked part-time at Shawkey's Store. Later, Melvin worked for F. W. Woolworth stores in Huntington, W. Va., Brownsville and Wilkes Barre, Pa. While working at the store in W. Va., Melvin became very sick with typhoid fever. He drove all the way to Conneautville and stayed at his parent's home. Dr. Rumsey took care of him and insisted that all blinds be pulled to keep the light from his patient's eyes. Their daughter, Shirley, was born while they lived in Wilkes Barre, Pa. Melvin recalled that it was a cold night and his car wouldn't start so he had to call a taxi to take Erma to the hospital.

In those days when an individual was so unlucky as to get typhoid fever or scarlet fever, the household was quarantined. While Jennie Nicolls was staying with Erma and Melvin when they lived in the duplex owned by Thomas Nicolls at one time, she came down with scarletina and was quarantined. Melvin and Shirley stayed at the Nicolls farm on Thatcher Road during this period.

They also recalled that Shirley had a mastoid operation in Meadville, Pa., when she was about five years old. Dr. Hobson of Springboro was the doctor at that time.

Melvin said he bought their first radio from John Dunlap's Hardware in Conneautville and listened to the report of Charles Lindbergh's, (Lindy, as he was called in those days) flight in the Spirit of St. Louis over the Atlantic Ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Connick of Stuart, Florida, formerly of Conneautville, Pa., observed their 55th wedding anniversary on Friday, June 5, 1981. Mrs. Connick is the former Erma Elizabeth Nicolls.

OBITUARIES - Conneautville Courier, October 13, 1982

Melvin D. Connick, 77, of Stewart, Florida, formerly of Conneautville, died at City Hospital, Meadville, Pa., Monday, October 4, 1982, after a short illness.

He was born at Conneautville on May 9, 1905, a son of Walter and Bell Wintermute Connick. He married Erma Nicolls on June 5, 1926. Connick was employed as an electrician by FMC Corp. (now Avtex Fibers) for 31 years before retiring in 1970. He was a member of Valley United Methodist Church and a former member of Conneautville Fellows Club. He also was a member of several social organizations in Stewart.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Shirley) Newman of Conneautville, with whom he was visiting; three sisters, Mildred Bright of Albion, Tresa Evelyn Melcher of Whittier, Calif., and Mrs. L. J. (Charlotte) Scott of Meadville; a brother, Dr. C. Milo Connick of Whittier; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services were held at the Charles W. White Funeral Home, Conneautville, Thursday, October 7, 1982, with the Rev. Fred C. Vanderhoff, pastor of Valley United Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was at Conneautville Cemetery. The family suggested memorial donations be made to the American Cancer Society or Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N. Y.

Erma Nicolls Connick was the victim of Alzheimer's disease. After her husband's death, Erma stayed with her daughter, Shirley Newman and family, until she entered The Rolling Fields Nursing Home in Conneautville. During the latter part of the illness, Erma rarely knew family members. She died November 30, 1986, at 80 years of age.

From The Conneautville Courier.

Erma E. Connick

Erma E. Connick, 80, Conneautville, died Sunday, November 30, 1986, at Rolling Fields Nursing Home, Conneautville, following a lengthy illness.

She was born on July 6, 1906, in Spring Township, a daughter of Sylvester E. and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She married Melvin D. Connick June 5, 1926.

She was a former Conneautville Borough tax collector and worked at the Conneaut Lake Park payroll office. She graduated from Edinboro Normal School where she was certified as a teacher. She taught in several one-room school houses in the area.

Among the survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Shirley) Newman, Conneautville; three sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Cody, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; Mrs. Marjorie Ohl, Jacksonville, ~~W.Va.~~ Fla.; Mrs. Jennie Stake, Meadville; a brother, Lee Earl Nicolls, Tuscon, Ariz.; several nieces and nephews; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband; two brothers, Carl Nicolls and Arthur Nicolls, and three sisters, Ruth Blair, Marian Shumaker and Gertrude Dial.

Funeral services were held at the convenience of the family. Rev. Frederick Vanderhoff, pastor of Valley United Methodist Church, Conneautville, officiated. Interment was at the Conneautville Cemetery. White Funeral Home, Conneautville, of Hatheway-Tedesco Funeral Home Inc., was in charge of arrangements. The family suggests that in lieu of flowers, memorials be made to the National Alzheimer's Association or Valley United Methodist Church.

137. BLANCHE GERTRUDE NICOLLS (7), dau. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

b. August 9, 1908 in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

Blanche Gertrude Nicolls is the third daughter and the fifth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She was born in the big farmhouse built in 1877, by her Grandfather, Simon Chauncey Nicolls.

Gertrude attended the Bolard School, a one-room, country school where one teacher taught all eight grades. She graduated from Conneautville High School in 1927. There were twenty-seven in the graduating class and Gerald Decker was Principal of the school. She attended Edinboro State Teachers College in Edinboro, Pa., and taught school for a time at the Crane School. Later she attended the Krissler Business College in Washington, D. C.

During, and after World War II, Gertrude worked at the Veterans Administration, Insurance Claims Department, for eight years followed by another eight years at the Pentagon in the Navy Department where she posted and ordered supplies for the Printing Department.

Gertrude has retired and lives in Poughkeepsie, New York. She enjoys reading, always up-to-date on the news of the day and writes interesting letters beautifully handwritten and a joy to receive.

Gertrude was taken to Vassar Hospital in March, 1986, with pneumonia followed by a heart arrest, abdominal cancer and kidney failure which all contributed to the cause of her death.

Courier.

B. Gertrude Dial

Mrs. B. Gertrude Dial, 78, of 24 Beechwood Ave., Poughkeepsie, N.Y., died May 25, 1986 at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., after a short illness.

She was born in Conneautville on August 9, 1908, the daughter of Sylvester and Harriet Beebe Nicolls.

She was a former member of Conneautville's Valley Methodist Church and was a Past Worthy Matron of the Conneautville Chapter Order of the Eastern Star #381. She had worked 20 years for the Navy Department in Washington, D.C.

Survivors include a brother, Lee Earl Nicolls of Tucson, Arizona; and four sisters, Mrs. Erma Connick of Conneautville, Mrs. Geraldine Cody of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Mrs. Marjorie Ohl of Jacksonville, Florida, and Mrs. Jennie Stake of Meadville; and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held at the convenience of the family and burial was at the Poughkeepsie Rural Cemetery.

219. ii Richard Lee

Lee Earl Nicolls is the third son and the sixth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. He was born in the large farmhouse built in 1877 by his Grandfather, Simon Chauncey (5), on Thatcher Road a couple miles east of Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

As most of the Nicolls children did, Lee Earl attended the one-room school located on the Nicolls farm at the top of "the big hill". While growing up, he helped with the farm work and was especially good at training and caring for horses. I recall riding on the "boat" drawn by a team of horses driven by Lee Earl through the maple sugar grove gathering sap in the spring. The pathway through the woods was full of water and Lee Earl made this work seem like a great adventure as he emptied the sap buckets into the large tank on the "boat". The sap was taken to the sugarhouse where a hot, wood fire boiled the sap down into maple syrup. Someone always had to stay in the sugarhouse to keep the fire going. Usually this was done by our Father, Sylvester Emmett, who often boiled eggs in the hot sap to go with his lunch. While tending the fire, he had time to tell his children stories and smoke his corn cob pipe. Lee Earl had a great relationship with his father and they worked well together for many years cutting wood, planting and harvesting crops season after season.

Lee Earl had a large bobsled that we all enjoyed during the long, cold, snowy, Pennsylvania winters. He kept the runners in good shape and we spent many happy hours riding down the "big hill". He also had a log cabin built in the maple grove that he and cousin, Ross Sturgis Graham, used while hunting. He especially enjoyed hunting coon. This was done at night usually after a hard day's work. He also set traps and would get up early each morning to check them. If he was fortunate enough to have a catch, the skin was dried and sold.

Lee Earl much preferred farm work to going to school so after attending Conneautville High School a couple years, he quit and worked in the outdoors that he loved.

After his marriage to Clara Shellito, they lived in an apartment in the eighteen room farmhouse of his parents and he continued to help operate the farm. Later he built a house on land bought from the farm owned by his father, Sylvester Emmett, and farmed this land for several years while his children were growing up.

In the latter part of the 1950's, they moved to Tucson, Arizona, in hopes the climate would be beneficial to Clara's health. Lee Earl was employed for a time on a ranch and later with the school system. They celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1978.

Lee Earl is tall, six feet in height, dark hair, blue eyes, and has a wonderful personality. He seldom complains for his great sense of humor always allows him to see the funny side of things....somewhat like his Uncle Seneca Nicolls.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

Miss Clara H. Shellito and Lee Earl Nicolls, both of Conneautville, Pa., were united in marriage in Thoburn Chapel, First M. E. Church, Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Rev. Dr. George S. Lackland, the officiating minister, used the ring service.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls will reside on a farm near Conneautville, Pa.

On October 10, 1956, Lee Earl and Clara moved to Tucson, Arizona, in hopes the dry, sunny climate would be beneficial for Clara's arthritic condition. Lee Earl first worked, for a short time, in a lumber yard for a building supply company. He preferred farm work to the lumber yard, so he went to work at the Rascob Dairy. Mr. Rascob's grandfather built the Empire State Building. On this large dairy, two milkers milked 8 cows at one time, milking about 300 cows three times a day. Lee Earl was in charge of taking some cows to Phoenix to show at the County Fair. One of the feeders got drunk so Lee Earl fired him and hired another feeder, who got to wrestling with a milker in the milking parlor. Lee Earl grabbed him putting him on the floor where he held him for several minutes. After that, Lee Earl was called "the Ramrod."

Mr. Rascob wanted Lee Earl to go to Napa Valley in California, to work for him, but he refused because of the damp climate.

At Anway Dairy in Avery Valley, Lee Earl started to work as a milker and became foreman in six weeks. Many of the workers were Indians and Mexicans. Lee Earl preferred the Indians rather than the Mexicans as workers. There were usually between 400 and 450 milking cows plus the young stock making a total of 600 to 700 on the ranch most of the time.

When Lee Earl went to work at Anway the dairy was in financial trouble with a debt of $300,000. As foreman, Lee Earl increased the milk production by having the cows have a calf every year. Two to three years later, the debt was paid off and they had money in the bank. Enough to buy an airplane and machinery for the ranch.

During that time, he bought two young bulls at the Sacramento Fair paying $1,000 for one and $600 for the other to improve the productivity of the herd.

While working on the ranches from 1958 to 1964, Lee Earl had a western horse provided by the ranch. They lived in a couple trailers during that time.

When they returned to Tucson, he worked at a nursery for a year, or so, until he was employed as a cafeteria manager at a school where they served 250 students at a time. After ten years, he retired at 65 years of age.

139. GERALDINE HARRIET NICOLLS (7), dau. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. June 17, 1913 in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.
- m. December 28, 1938 to Francis Bennett Cody of Seymour, Connecticut, s. of Patrick and Katharine Bennett Cody.

Children: Two

- 220. i James Bennett Cody
- 221. ii Karen Jean Cody

Geraldine Harriet Nicolls Cody is the seventh child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She won fame at an early age by winning first place in a baby contest held in Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

She attended the one-room school located on the Nicolls farm known as the Bolard School and graduated from Conneautville High School in 1931. Gerald Decker was Principal of the school and there were twenty-one members in the graduating class. While in high school, Gerry played on the girl's basketball team. She was a popular girl with brown hair, blue eyes and a friendly disposition. After high school, she worked as a switchboard operator for the telephone company in Conneautville and saved money to go to Grove City College in Grove City, Pa. She graduated with a B. S. in Commerce and Merchandising and accepted a position with Wm. Hengerer Department Store in Buffalo, New York.

While in Buffalo, she met Bennett Cody and they were married in December 1938. Ben Cody graduated from Peddie Prep and Syracuse University. He was with J. N. Adam Company Stores in Buffalo and other Associated Dry Goods Stores over the years. During World War II, he was in the Marine Corp in the Pacific area. In 1954 he was asked, with other Retailers, to go to Paris, France, to help establish the European Common Market. The family lived in Paris for a short time.

Over the years, Gerry taught school and did volunteer work at Vassar Bros. Hospital. She enjoys playing golf and is a member of a Garden Club.

Ben is an avid reader and enjoyed working on civic projects and playing golf until his recent illness.

Their son, Jim, lives in Omaha, Nebraska, where he is President of his own Company, Applied Communications.

Their daughter, Karen Cody-Hopkins lives in Minneapolis and is a Marketing Coordinator with the 3M Company in St. Paul.

140. MARIAN WINIFRED NICOLLS (7), dau. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. July 17, 1915 in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.
- d. June 3, 1961 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Interment Jefferson Memorial Park in Bethel.
- m. May 29, 1936 to Lucky Joseph Shumaker of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Children: Two

- 222. i Diane Marian Shumaker (a.d.)
- 223. ii Penny Jeanne Shumaker

Marian Winifred Nicolls Shumaker was the eighth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. She was born in the eighteen-room home built by her grandfather, Simon Chauncey, on Thatcher Road east of Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

She attended the one-room school located atop "the big hill" on land given by her great-grandfather, Seneca Nicolls. It would be interesting to know exactly how many children of the Nicolls family attended Bolard School. Marian graduated from Conneautville High School in 1933. There were thirty-four members in the graduating class and Gerald Decker was the Principal. During her high school days, she played on the girl's basketball team, always seemed to get the desirable parts in school plays and was an honor student. Her winning personality, good looks and dancing ability made her a popular girl among her classmates. Marian and sister, Geraldine, were in high school at the same time. They played basketball on the same team and often double dated. Thatcher Road was a gravel road at that time and young, inexperienced drivers often became mired in the deep mud after a spring thaw. How many times during the dating years of his seven daughters did Dad get out his tractor, or hitch-up a team of horses, to rescue a "beau" stuck in the mud? Many times, I am sure, but I never heard him complain about it.

Marian became a beautician after attending school in Pittsburgh, Pa. During this time, she lived with her sister and husband, Ruth and Howard Blair, and met her future husband, L. Joseph Shumaker, a student at the University of Pittsburgh.

After their marriage, they lived in Dormont, Bellevue and Mt. Lebanon, all suburbs of Pittsburgh. They were living in La Grange, Illinois, at the time their daughter, Penny Jeanne, was born.

Marian did volunteer work at St. Clair Hospital while living in Mt. Lebanon. One of the last activities she engaged in before a long bout with cancer was to serve as Chairman of the Harlequin Ball, sponsored by the St. Clair Hospital Auxiliary, and held in the ballroom of the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in October 1959. The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

Services for Mrs. Marian Shumaker will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday, at the E. B. Laughlin Funeral Home, 3310 W. Liberty Avenue, South Hills, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Shumaker, of 966 Summer Place, Mt. Lebanon, died yesterday. She was a member of the Beverly Heights United Presbyterian Church, the St. Clair Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the South Hills Country Club, the Pittsburgh Athletic Association and the Mt. Lebanon Women's Club.

Surviving are her husband, L. Joseph Shumaker; two daughters, Diane and Penny; her mother, Mrs. Harriet Nicolls; and six sisters and three brothers.

Friends are being received at the E. B. Laughlin Funeral Home at 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Burial will be in Jefferson Memorial Park Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the St. Clair Hospital or Beverly Heights United Presbyterian Church.

Her husband, L. Joseph Shumaker:

- b. January 6, 1912 in Distant, Pennsylvania.
- d. April 4, 1966 in Pittsburgh, Pa. Interment, Jefferson Memorial Park Cemetery, Bethel.

Joe attended grade school at Distant, Pennsylvania, and high school at New Bethlehem, Pa., where he was a member of the Drama Club and the football squad of 1930, that was unbeaten and unscored upon in ten games. He enrolled in the School of Engineering at the University of Pittsburgh, and graduated in 1936, with a degree in Aeronautics and Mechanical Engineering.

He was associated with Hamburg Brothers in Pittsburgh, Pa., in the RCA Sound & Electronics Division, for a short time before being named Superintendent of the Buhl Planetarium and Institute of Popular Science which was nearing completion. He had the pleasure of setting up and supervising the giant projector that could project the stars and planets at a push of a button.

In 1942, Joe became affiliated with the H. H. Robertson Company. He was commended for his work during World War II engineering the DEW (Distant Early Warning System) Line and for air-conditioning battleships. He became Sales Manager of H. H. Robertson Company followed by a position with Steelite Buildings, Inc., where he remained until his illness in 1964. (Thanks to Penny Jeanne Shumaker Longmaid for this information.)

141. FRANCIS RAYMOND NICOLLS (7), s. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. September 4, 1917 Spring Township, Crawford County, Pa.
- d. March 23, 1921 Interment Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

Francis Raymond Nicolls was the ninth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. The following was copied from a newspaper clipping - probably the Conneautville Courier:

Francis Raymond, the three and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls, died Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock. He had been sick all fall and winter and a few weeks ago was taken with the measles and in a weakened condition was not able to survive. While his condition was known to be quite serious, he was not thought to be any worse than he had been for a few days until a few moments before death.

Besides the parents there are eight brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

142. MARJORIE JUNE NICOLLS (7), dau. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

b. October 30, 1919 in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

m. August 5, 1939 to Wilton John Ohl, s. Charles Clinton and Mary Hester Barnett Ohl of Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

Children: One

224. i Carol June Ohl

Marjorie June Nicolls Ohl is the tenth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet E. Beebe Nicolls.

I believe I am the only child of my parents who did not have the "opportunity" of attending a one-room, country school. By 1925, Bolard School was closed and many of the one-room schools were in disrepair and the trend started for bussing pupils living in the townships to the larger school in Conneautville. However, bussing in those days meant transporting pupils by car in good weather and by a horse-drawn, covered wagon known as the "kid-wagon", when the dirt roads were not fit for cars. The "kid-wagon" was a box-like contraption made of wood with one door at the back. There was a small window in the door and an opening in the front where the driver sat to drive the horses. The pupils sat on either side of the wagon on long wooden benches firmly attached to the sides of the wagon, swinging their feet with the bumps of the road. With a good bump, our feet often encountered the feet of the person on the other side of the wagon resulting in a fuss, or a lot of giggling, depending on the dispositions at the moment.

I graduated from Conneautville High School in 1937, in a class of 26 members. Floyd B. Peters was the Principal. The following fall, I lived with my sister and husband, Marian and Joe Shumaker, in Dormont, while attending AD-Art School in Pittsburgh, Pa., and have since taken courses through the Durham Continuing Education Program, Durham Technical Institute and Duke University.

Most of my time has been spent as a homemaker. While living in Covington, Va., I worked for a time as secretary at Edgemont and East Covington Elementary Schools and taught sixth grade in the Covington City Schools. In 1967, my husband was transferred by Hercules Inc., to the Research Triangle Park in North Carolina, where they were building a large facility for their research work pertaining to polypropylene and man-made fibers. I, too, joined Hercules, first as librarian and then as administrative assistant to the manager of the laboratory. I retired in 1978, when the research group was moved to Georgia.

Religion, Methodist; politics, Republican - usually vote for the individual candidate regardless of party affiliation; interests include ACC basketball, (we are UNC fans), gardening, bird watching, swimming, reading, dancing, bridge and genealogical research.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

Miss Marjorie Nicolls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls, RD 3, Conneautville, and Wilton Ohl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ohl, Conneautville, were united in marriage Saturday evening, August 5, 1939, at 8:30 p.m., at the M. E. parsonage in Conneautville, by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Downs, the ring ceremony being used. The attendants were Jennie Louise Nicolls and Walter Seward, sister and cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Ohl were graduated from the Conneautville High School in the class of 1937, and are now employed by the American Viscose Corporation. After the ceremony, the couple was escorted to the home of the bride's parents by a party of friends, where after receiving the best wishes of all, they departed for their newly furnished apartment at 106 Glenwood Avenue, Meadville, Pennsylvania.

Husband, Wilton John Ohl, was born May 27, 1919 in Conneautville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania. After graduating from Conneautville High School, Pete worked 18 years for American Viscose in Meadville, Pa. In 1955, he accepted a position in the engineering department of Industrial Rayon Corp. in Painesville, Ohio, and was later transferred to the Industrial Rayon Plant in Covington, Virginia. Hercules Incorporated bought the Covington Industrial Rayon Plant in 1961 and Pete has worked for Hercules since that time. In 1967, he was transferred to their new research facility in the Research Triangle Park in North Carolina. Since 1978, when the research group moved to Georgia, Pete has been lease coordinator/building superintendent for the Hercules building leased to IBM.

While living in Conneautville, Pete managed the American Legion Junior Baseball team for several years. Presently he works with the Parkwood Athletic Association as a stadium official at the Duke and University of North Carolina football games. He enjoys sports, bridge, bird watching and the care of the yard.

143. JENNIE LOUISE NICOLLS (7), dau. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

b. April 21, 1922 in Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.
m. February 21, 1942 to William Watkin Stake, s. John Frank and Helen Watkin Stake of Saltville, Pennsylvania.

Children: One

225. i William Allan Stake

Jennie Louise Nicolls Stake, named for grandmothers, Jennie Beebe and Louisa Shaw Nicolls, is the eleventh child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet E. Beebe Nicolls.

She attended the Conneautville Elementary School except for one or two years when she went to the Nelson School, a one-room school at the end of Thatcher Road in Spring Township. Jennie graduated from Conneautville High School in 1940. There were 38 members in the graduating class and Floyd B. Peters was the Principal.

She worked for a time at the American Viscose in Meadville, Pa., and at Talon, Inc., for a short time while Bill was in the service during World War II.

Jen and Bill bought the Chevrolet dealership in Conneautville, Pa., in 1953, after the sudden death in an airplane crash of Mr. Charles Terrill, the former Chevrolet dealer. As business manager, Jen does the bookkeeping and accounting.

She is a member of the Valley United Methodist Church in Conneautville; in politics, a Republican, who believes in voting for the candidate of her choice rather than the party ticket; she has done volunteer work for the Crippled Children's Society of Crawford County; served several years on the Board of the Stone Memorial Library in Conneautville; a member of the Stitch and Chatter Club and she and Bill are members of the Meadville Country Club where they participate in golf leagues and club tournaments. They were first place winners in Flight A of the Meadville Country Club Couples Golf Tournament in 1980. They also belong to a bowling league and Jennie enjoys cross-country skiing during the snowy winters in Pennsylvania.

Jen has blond hair, blue eyes, a nice sense of humor and an abundance of energy and determination.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

Jennie Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Nicolls of Conneautville, and William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stake of Saltillo, Pa., were married at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, February 21, 1942, by Rev. C. L. Downs, pastor of the Conneautville Methodist Church, at the church.

Attendants were William Wardian and Miss Geraldine Strauss.

The bride wore powder blue with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white roses. Miss Strauss wore pink with black accessories and yellow roses.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Stake is a graduate of Conneautville High School, in the class of 1940, and Mr. Stake is a graduate of Saltillo High School. Both are employed by the American Viscose Corporation.

After February 28, the couple will be at home at 798 Washington Street, Meadville, Pennsylvania.

Husband, William W. Stake, served with the 722nd MP (Military Police) Battalion during World War II. During the period between 1942 and 1946, he made several trips across the Atlantic Ocean escorting prisoners of war on troop ships from Europe to the United States.

Bill Stake, the Chevrolet dealer and owner of Conneautville Garage, Inc., has asked Chevrolet to terminate his Sales & Service Agreement and Contract to be effective June 30, 1982. The service department will remain open through July.

Mr. Stake has been the Chevrolet dealer since April 1953, and has enjoyed doing business with the fine people of this area. (Conneautville Courier, June 23, 1982)

Jennie Nicolls Stake of 5512 Plymouth House, Golfview Manor, Meadville, PA, is Chairman of the Meadville Country Club Ladies Golf League for 1987, and Secretary of the Northwestern Pennsylvania Ladies Golf League for 1987 and 1988.

Jerry Troyer sells produce he raised organically with fertilizers that do not harm the soil. Jenny Stake buys some string beans.

144. ARTHUR JAY NICOLLS (7), s. Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)
- b. April 14, 1924 in the farm home on Thatcher Road, Spring Township, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.
 - d. July 28, 1970 in Meadville, Pa., of lung cancer and pneumonia.
 - m. June 16, 1948 to Helen Lucille Wall, dau. John and Lottie Wall of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Children: Three

- 226. i Patricia Louise
- 227. ii Rebecca Ann
- 228. iii Merry Lee

Arthur Jay Nicolls was the twelfth child of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet E. Beebe Nicolls. Art was not only the youngest member of this family, but he was also the tallest. He was six feet four inches tall with blond hair, blue eyes and fair complexion.

He attended the Conneautville Elementary School except for a year, or two, when he went to the Nelson School, a one-room, country school in Spring Township. While attending Conneautville High School, Art played the center position on the basketball team.

After the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor in December 1941, Art was anxious to join the army and serve his country along with other young men at that time. He enlisted in the army of the United States August 25, 1942, when he was 18 years old. He trained at Fort Bragg, N. C., and Angel Island, Calif.; embarked December 27, 1942, for the Pacific Theatre of operations; fought at Guadalcanal, New Georgia Islands and the Philippine Islands; suffered from malaria and jungle rot caused from sleeping on the ground in wet jungles; was wounded on the left arm by machine gun fire in March 1945, causing the arm to be stiff for two weeks; taken out of front lines the night of June 9, 1945, and left Manila on a Dutch ship to return to the United States.

According to the National Records Center, St. Louis, MO, Arthur's military record was destroyed in the fire of July 2, 1973. Thanks to Rebecca Ann Nicolls Grieser for a copy of Art's military record.

Art was a member of the Valley United Methodist Church; in politics, a Democrat, and interests included reading, hunting, sports and carpentry work.

The following is from a newspaper clipping:

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Tyler near Conneautville was the scene of the wedding of Helen Lucille Wall, sister of Mrs. Tyler, and Arthur Jay Nicolls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls of Conneautville, on Saturday afternoon, June 16, 1948, at four o'clock.

Rev. Ralph Richardson of Erie, former pastor of the couple, performed the ceremony. A bank of white flowers formed a background for the rites.

The bride wore a street-length dress of grey silk with white hat and corsage of white roses. For "something old" and "something borrowed" she carried a hand-made handkerchief, the work of Mrs. Anne Waldo, a great-grandmother of Don Tyler, which had been carried by several brides previously.

Mrs. Margaret Tyler and Miss Marjory Smith attended the bride and Mr. William Stake, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man. The bride was given in marriage by Carl Tyler.

A reception was held at the Tyler home. The three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted with a miniature bride and groom, was made by the bride's sister, Mrs. Margaret Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls left for a motor trip to Niagara Falls, Toronto and other places of interest in Canada.

Mrs. Nicolls, formerly of Pittsburgh, until recently had been employed at the American Viscose, Meadville, where Mr. Nicolls is now working.

Mr. Nicolls, who served three years in the U. S. Army in the Pacific area, had since his return made his home with his parents in Conneautville.

After their return, the couple will make their home at 1044 S. Main Street, Meadville, Pa.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Nicolls, Mrs. Melvin Connick and daughter Shirley, Mrs. Wilton Ohl, Mr. and Mrs. William Stake, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Earl Nicolls, Miss Marjory Smith, Pittsburgh, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Seneca Nicolls, Thomas Nicolls, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George Woodard, Linesville, Mrs. Richardson and daughter, Nancy, of Erie, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Shaffer, Miss Gertrude Wall, Miss Thelma Heard, Mr. Robert Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tyler.

The following is from The Meadville Tribune of July 29, 1970:

Arthur Jay Nicolls, 46, of Conneautville, died at Spencer Hospital Tuesday, July 28, 1970, after a long illness.

He was born in Conneautville, April 14, 1924, a son of Sylvester and Harriet Beebe Nicolls. He was married June 16, 1948, to the former Helen Wall.

He served with the Army's 25th Infantry Division during World War II.

Mr. Nicolls was employed by the American Viscose Division, FMC Corp., and was a member of the Valley United Methodist Church at Conneautville.

Surviving, in addition to his widow, are three daughters, Patricia L., Becki A., and Merry Lee, all at home; six sisters, Mrs. Ruth Blair, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Melvin Connick (Erma) and Mrs. William (Jennie Louise) Stake, both of Conneautville; Mrs. Gertrude Dial and Mrs. Bennett (Geraldine) Cody, both of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mrs. Wilton (Marjorie) Ohl of Durham, N. C., and one brother, Lee Earl Nicolls of Tucson, Arizona.

A memorial service will be held at 8 tonight at the Valley United Methodist Church, Conneautville, with the Rev. Richard Sanford, pastor, officiating. In lieu of flowers, the family requested that memorial contributions be made to either the American Cancer Society or the Valley United Methodist Church.

Cremation took place Tuesday at Erie Cemetery, Erie, Pa. Arrangements are under direction of the Edward B. White Funeral Home, Conneautville.

Ross is the second child of Robert Henry and Q. V. Nicolls Graham. He graduated from Conneautville High School in 1928. There were 25 members in the graduating class and Gerald Decker was Principal of the school. While going to school and as a young man, Ross helped with the farm work and had much of the responsibility of the operation of the farm after his father's health failed.

Ross was employed by the United States Postal Service, a career he continued for many years after joining his father and brother in 1937, in establishing a business in Conneautville, retailing John Deere farm equipment and the dealership for Pontiac automobiles. According to a recent advertisement in the Conneautville Courier, Graham's Auto Supply also deals in used cars and wholesale auto parts for all cars and light trucks.

Ross has also found time to be active in civic affairs such as serving as President of the Springboro Borough Council; being a member of the Crawford County Planning Commission and a representative of Crawford County to the Northwest Pennsylvania Futures Committee. This committee was formed to assess the impacts and to coordinate the planning and growth and development to the area as a result of the proposed construction of a four billion dollar steel making plant to be constructed by the U. S. Steel Corp. in northwestern Pennsylvania and northeastern Ohio.

Religion, Protestant; politics, Republican. When time allows, Ross enjoys hunting and fishing. I remember when Ross used to fly an open-cockpit airplane. Occasionally he would land in a field and, if the wind was not just right, he would barely make it over the rail fence. Perhaps the field was too small; at any rate, take-offs were not always accomplished on the first try.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross S. Graham of 125 S. Main St., Springboro, Pa., will be honored at an Open House reception Saturday afternoon, June 26, 1982, in the Springboro United Church, Springboro, from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. The event is in celebration of their 50th Wedding Anniversary. It is being given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steinfeld, and their grandchildren, of Chester, New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs Graham were married June 21, 1932, at Silver Creek, New York. He was a rural mail carrier for 41 years. He enjoys hunting, reading and raising flowers. Graham was a charter member of the Springboro Lions Club, now the Conneaut Valley Lions Club. He is president of the Springboro Council, served 2 years on the Northwest Penna. Futures Commission, is a member of the Crawford County Planning Commission, the Northwest Penna. Planning and Development Commission and the Albion Fair Board.

The family invites all friends and relatives to attend. They request in lieu of gifts that only best wishes be given, or a memento for their scrap book.

Alice Covert Graham, wife of Ross S. Graham, died of a heart attack in November, 1986.

Robert T. L. Graham is the third child of Robert Henry and Q. V. Nicolls Graham.

T. L. attended the Conneautville schools (I'm sure he remembers the "kid-wagon") and graduated from Conneautville High School in the class of 1937. F. B. Peters was Principal and there were 26 members in the graduating class. Robert T. L. helped with the farm work on his parent's farm during his school years.

He has been in business since 1937, along with his brother, Ross, selling John Deere farm equipment and Pontiac automobiles in Conneautville, Pa.

The Conneautville Courier of January 17, 1979, states that T. L. Graham was re-elected Conneautville borough council president at the reorganizational meeting held January 8. T. L., and brother, Ross, are to be commended for serving on their respective borough councils, T. L. in Conneautville, and Ross in Springboro, and both as president.

Religion, Methodist; politics, Republican. Besides his interest in civic and community activities, T. L. enjoys fishing and camping.

The following is taken from The Conneautville Courier:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. L. Graham celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 12, 1979. The event, given by their children and grandchildren, was held at the Conneautville Fire Hall. They were married August 26, 1939, at Linesville, Pa. She is the former Thora Grate. They are the parents of Mrs. Charles (Pat) Glessman of Houston, Texas; Charles Robert Graham and Mrs. Gordon (Judy) Kuhn, both of Conneautville. Their grandchildren are Brian and Chad Glessman, Michelle Graham and Darla and Denise Kuhn.

Besides their families, guests were present from Columbus, Ohio, Meadville, Cranesville, Springboro and Conneautville.

The following was taken from the Conneautville Courier:

Robert T. L. Graham, 68, Thatcher Road, Conneautville, Pa., died Tuesday, August 11, 1987, at his home following a short illness.

He was born in Waverly, Ohio, August 5, 1918, a son of Robert H. and Q. V. Nicolls Graham. He married Thora Grate Aug. 26, 1939. She survives.

He had been a businessman in the Conneautville area since 1937. He was a member of Valley United Methodist Church. He was Conneautville borough council president for 20 years and was a member of Conneautville Fellows Club.

Survivors in addition to his wife, include two daughters, Mrs. Gordon (Judy) Kuhn, Conneautville; and Mrs. James (Patricia) Glessman, Houston, Texas; one son, Charles Robert Graham, Conneautville; one sister, Mrs. Ward (Louise) Decker, Port St. Lucie, Fla.; one brother, Ross Graham, Springboro, Pa.; and six grandchildren. He was preceded in death by three children.

Friends may call Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at White Funeral Home of Hatheway-Tedesco Funeral Home Inc., 1403 Water Street, Conneautville. Funeral services will be private and at the convenience of the family, with Rev. Frederick Vanderhoff of Valley United Methodist Church officiating. Interment will be at Conneautville Cemetery. The family suggests memorials be made to Valley United Methodist Church.

 251. ii Gayle Jane Tyler

Donald Carl Tyler is the first child of Carl John and Edna Lucille Nicolls Tyler. He graduated from Conneautville High School in a class of 25 members in 1935. C. L. Warner was Principal. This was followed by a year at Business College and six years of night school classes pertaining to banking.

Don first worked at the Farmers National Bank in Conneautville, Pa., from 1936 to 1941. His banking career was interrupted by World War II. He served two years (1941-1943) in the United States Army as a cook - Tech. 4th Class. After the war, he returned to his home and farmed from 1943 to 1962, when he returned to work at the Farmers National Bank. In July 1978, he was Vice President and Manager of the bank. The Meadville Tribune, Vol. 94, No. 270, reported the Conneautville Bank robbed by a lone gunman. It further stated the Farmers National Bank President, Donald Tyler, said the loss seemed to be between $5,000 and $10,000. The exact amount would not be known until the books were balanced.

The Conneautville Courier of October 22, 1980, reported the acquisition of The Farmers National Bank of Conneautville by the Marine Bank; the merger to be consummated October 31, 1980.

Don is a Methodist; in politics, a Republican, and a grandfather who lists "fixing grandchildren's toys and bicycles" as one of his hobbies. He is also known for his pleasant personality; his sense of humor and as a good story-teller.

Donald Tyler, retired bank officer, dies

Donald C. Tyler, 73, retired vice president of the Conneautville branch of Marine Bank, died Wednesday, Feb. 6, 1991, at Hamot Medical Center, Erie, after an unexpected illness.

A former Conneautville resident, he resided at Apartment 1C, Manchester House, Golfview Manor, Meadville.

Mr. Tyler was born at Conneautville, June 23, 1917, a son of Carl J. and Edna Nicolls Tyler. He married Margaret (Pat) Wahl on March 22, 1941. She preceded him in death Jan. 22, 1990.

Mr. Tyler was the former manager of Farmer's National Bank, now the Conneautville branch of Marine Bank, and retired in 1982 as vice president of the bank.

He also was a self-employed farmer and attended the Meadville Market House for more than 30 years, the third generation of his family to be at the market house. His son continues the family tradition.

He was a veteran of World War II, having served in the U.S. Army. Mr. Tyler also was a school director for 20 years for Conneaut Valley School District. He was a member of Valley United Methodist Church and of Palmer Methodist Church. He was a member and past master of Western Crawford Lodge 258 F&AM of Conneautville, a member of Zem Zem Temple, a member of the Erie Consistory and the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite in the Valley of Erie, the Crawford County Shrine Club, Kismet Grotto, and a social member of the Crawford County Shrine Motor Patrol. He was a member of the American Legion, the American Association of Retired Persons, and a member of Harmony Grange for more than 55 years.

Survivors include a son, Don Carlton Tyler of Conneautville; a daughter, Mrs. Gene (Gay) Mason of Meadville; one sister, Mrs. Charles (Winifred) Garrigus of Meadville; five grandsons, one granddaughter; and four great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife and his parents.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. today at the Charles W. White Funeral Home, Conneautville, where Masonic services will be conducted at 6:45 tonight. Friends also may call at Valley United Methodist Church, Conneautville, Saturday from 10 to 11 a.m. at which time services will be conducted by the Rev. Earle Fouts, pastor. Winifred Claire Tyler Shaffer Garrigus is the second child of Carl John and Edna Lucille Nicolls Tyler. She graduated from Conneautville High School in 1938. F. B. Peters was the Principal of the school and there were 33 members in the graduating class.

Besides enjoying her roll as a homemaker, Winifred worked as a teller at the First National Bank of Pennsylvania, in Meadville, from 1959 to 1972.

She is a member of the Presbyterian Church and in politics, a Republican. Her application for membership to the Daughters of The American Revolution (DAR) was accepted by the National Board of Management February 1, 1956. Abner Gleason, father of Polly Gleason Nicolls (3), was the ancestor who helped establish American independence and the ancestor from whom eligibility for membership in the DAR was derived.

Winifred has been a great help to me in gathering and sharing information about our family. Much of the information was compiled by her Mother, Edna Nicolls Tyler (7). Some of her other interests are traveling, sewing, knitting, bowling, bicycling, crafts and social work. She enjoys flowers and gardening, too.

Earl Robert is the first child of Clare Banks and Ethel Lininger Nicolls. He graduated from Conneautville High School in the Class of 1933. There were 34 members in the class and Gerald Decker was the Principal of the school. Wife, Dorothy, graduated from Linesville High School in Linesville, Pennsylvania.

Earl went to Auctioneer's School in Decatur, Indiana, graduating in 1936. An advertisement from an area newspaper describe Earl and Dave Nicolls as "The Auctioneers and Appraisers with the Derby Hats". He has been a successful farmer and auctioneer for forty years. His farm is located near Conneautville, Pa.

Earl and Dorothy are members of the Valley United Methodist Church in Conneautville, Pa.

Earl has always been interested in sports, especially baseball. He was a catcher during his high school years and continued to play baseball for several years.

Mr. & Mrs. Earl Nicolls Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nicolls of RD 1, Conneautville will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 30, 1989. The couple was married in Conneautville by Rev. Claude Downs. They are members of the Valley Methodist Church of Conneautville.

The Nicolls' have two sons, Clare Nicolls of Beaufort, South Carolina, and David Nicolls of Conneautville, and one daughter, Karen Acker of Edinboro, Pa. They have two grandsons.

Mr. Nicolls has been the "Derby Hat Auctioneer" for over 50 years and a retired dairy farmer. He is a member of the Pa. Auctioneers Association. He has served as a director of the Crawford County Fair Board since it began 44 years ago. He was school board director for Spring Township, Conneautville and Conneaut Valley Schools for 25 years. Mr. Nicolls is a lifetime member of the Brown Swiss Cattlebreeders Association. He served as secretary/treasurer for the Pa. Brown Swiss Association for 15 years. As a recent inductee into the Voters Hall of Fame, he has the distinction of voting continuously in elections for 52 years.

Mrs. Nicolls is the former Dorothy Parker. She was employed by the Conneaut School District for 25 years as a cafeteria worker at Conneaut Valley High School. The last 8 years she was manager of the cafeteria. She is a member of the Conneautville Eastern Star, Past Matrons, and the Springboro Garden Club. Her hobby is china painting.

They are both members of the Spring Grange where he serves as master and she as secretary. He has been a member for 60 years and she has been a member for 50 years.

The family requests that best wishes be extended in the form of a "Card Shower" to be held on Oct. 1, 1989.

The following was copied from The Conneautville Courier of March 12, 1980:

Gerald W. Nicolls, 61, of RD 9, Meadville, Pa., manager of Col. Crawford Park, died Tuesday, March 4, 1980, at City Hospital following an illness of several months.

He was born in Spring Township on April 2, 1918, son of Clare and Ethel Lininger Nicolls. He married Mary J. Loucks on August 30, 1941.

He was a 1935 graduate of Conneautville High School and a 1936 graduate of Meadville Commercial College. He was owner-operator of Crawford County Implement Co. from 1947-61 and manager of Bethesda Home Farm from 1961-70. He worked at W. L. Dunn Farm Equipment Sales from 1970-74 and was manager of Col. Crawford Park from 1974 until his death. He was a graduate of Knotts School of Auctioneering. He and his son did auctioneering work.

In a statement on behalf of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners, Commissioner Richard J. Ruhlman said: "Jerry Nicolls was a very thorough worker, well-thought of by his employers and employees alike. We'd known for some time he had been quite ill. He worked with us and encouraged us to provide for a transition to a new supervisor. He worked right until the last to provide an orderly transition. He performed his duties seriously and was excellent at Woodcock Dam. The commissioners express their sympathy to the widow and family. We are grateful that Jerry worked for us."

He was a member of Meadville First Presbyterian Church, Zem Zem Shrine Temple in Erie, Crawford Masonic Lodge 234, Crawford County Shrine Club, Scottish Rite Bodies of New Castle, Kismet Grotto, Spring Grange 263, BPO Elks Lodge 219 and West Mead Volunteer Fire Department. He was a long-time member of Crawford County Fair Board, past president of the state Farm Equipment Association and a member of Pennsylvania, national and northwest chapters of the Auctioneers Association.

He is survived by his wife and a son, Bruce, RD 1, Guys Mills, four brothers, Thomas and Keith, both of Springboro, Earl, Conneautville, and Ward, Placerville, Calif.; and four grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a daughter, Linda Huber, on December 31, 1979.

Services were held Friday, March 7, 1980, at the Waid Funeral Home, Meadville, with the Rev. Don Mitchell and the Rev. Daniel Thomas of Meadville First Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was at Roselawn Memorial Gardens.

The family suggested memorials be made to Zem Zem Hospital in Erie or to the Meadville First Presbyterian Church.

Clarence Keith Nicolls is the fifth child of Clare Banks and Ethel Mae Linger Nicolls.

Keith graduated from Conneautville High School and Edinboro State College, Edinboro, Pennsylvania.

According to the Service Record, World War II, Conneautville and Community, sponsored by the Means-Flynn Post, American Legion, Unit No. 615, Conneautville, Pa., Keith entered the service in the United States Navy February 9, 1946. Trained at Camp Perry, Virginia, New London, Conn., and Newport, RI. He was awarded the Victory Medal; discharged at Newport, RI, hospital June 27, 1946; rating - Seaman, Second Class.

Keith played baseball for Erie and went to the Minor Leagues where he played in North Carolina, St. Johnsbury, VT., and Texas. He was a winning pitcher until an arm injury put him out of line for the Major League.

Keith and Esther own a small farm between Conneautville and Springboro where they conduct a thriving insurance business with Esther running the office in their home. Both are licensed agents. The Conneautville Courier of June 8, 1980, reports that their son, Jeff, and wife, Chris, have joined the C. Keith Nicolls Insurance Agency as agents. Keith also teaches at Conneaut Valley High School.

Keith and Esther are members of the Valley United Methodist Church in Conneautville, Pa. In politics, Keith is a Republican.

Keith enjoys raising and training Labrador dogs and is called many places to judge dog trials. They also own a 32 acre farm, formerly owned by his parents, which they have turned into a bird sanctuary.

Keith Nicolls to be inducted in Hall of Fame

Conneaut Valley's Keith Nicolls will be inducted into the Edinboro University Hall of Fame in ceremonies slated for Saturday, April 28.

Nicolls' induction is planned for 7 p.m. at Van Houten Dining Hall along with seven other inductees in the Third Annual Hall of Fame festivities.

Nicolls is a 1951 graduate of Edinboro State College, now Edinboro University. He started every basketball game during the time he played for legendary Edinboro coach Sox Harrison.

Nicolls earned the nickname "Mr. Outside" for his long range shooting talents.

He continued his athletic career as a baseball pitcher in professional organizations where he compiled an outstanding 72-29 won-lost record.

Named as basketball coach at Conneaut Valley High School, Nicolls' teams compiled a spectacular 128-34 mark during his seven years of coaching. His teams won four county league championships. During his final four years of coaching, his teams lost just seven games.

Nicolls is a retired teacher and operates the Keith Nicolls Insurance Agency along with his wife, Esther, and son, Jeff. His daughter, Sue Lynn Rothenbach, and her husband, Bill, are graduates of Edinboro.

Marian North is the third child of Richard and Bernice Margaret Henretty North.

This family was living at Hermitage, Pa., in 1982. Thanks to Marian for several pages of information about the Henretty branch of our family.

Marian and family presently live in Hermitage, Pa. Her husband, Roger, was a former employee in a stainless steel mill. Presently, they are both training to become apartment managers.

Marian is interested in family history and is presently working on the North family history. I thank her for taking the time to send me information concerning her parents, their children and their families. See 9th generation for information about their children.

Betty Mae Nicolls Grover is the first child of Carl Emmett and Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls.

The following is from the Youngstown Vindicator of January 23, 1945:

Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Nicolls, 26 Delaware Avenue, Poland, announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty Mae, to Donald Grover, son of Mrs. Olga Grover of Washington, D. C. The ceremony took place Friday, January 19, at 8:30 p.m., in the parsonage of Brownlee Woods U. P. Church with the Rev. H. C. McAuley officiating.

Miss Betty Waters and William Uehlinger, intimate friends of the bride and groom, were the attendants. Following the exchange of vows, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls received the bridal party for dinner in their home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Grover left for Richmond, Calif., where the former is employed as an electrician in the navy ship yard. They will reside at 2225 McDonald Ave., Richmond.

The bride, a graduate of Poland Seminary High School, has been employed as an operator by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Grover after graduating from Woodrow Wilson High School was in the U. S. Army Air Corps, but was given a medical discharge last year after service overseas. He spent some time in the Hawaiian Islands.

After some time in California, they returned to Ohio, where Donald Grover is a realtor in residential, commercial, industrial sales and leases in the Youngstown area.

Besides being a housewife, a good cook and raising five children, Betty has found time for church activities and has been a part-time banquet waitress. Religion, Protestant; politics, Republican.

Carl Robert Nicolls is the second child of Carl Emmett and Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls.

Bob went to the Poland Elementary School, graduated from Poland Seminary High School in Poland, Ohio, and attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio.

During World War II, he was in combat two years in the European Theater of operations. He was a 1st Sgt. with the 575th Field Artillery Battalion.

Bob is a Sales Representative for Bliss & Laughlin Steel and works from an office in his home in La Grange, Illinois, where they have lived for over 24 years. Wife, Margaret, better known as Mickey, teaches grades 1-5 physical education at Oak Brook.

Bob has served as an elder for several church sessions and once on the national assembly. He taught Bible School many years and worked with the youth of the church. Wife, Mickey, is also active in the church and is a church camp leader. Religion, Presbyterian.

Bob's interests include music, gardening, camping, backpacking, white-water rafting, community and church activities. Community services include Junior Achievement Advisor, PTA Board, West Suburban Orchestra Board, Little League Board for seven years, two as President of the Board, Babe Ruth Baseball Board for eight years, three years as President of the Board, Village Caucus, four years, two as Chairman, Village Traffic Safety Comm., Trustee, Village Board for eight years and Police and Fire Commissioner.

Bob and Mickey love to camp and have been camping since they were married in 1953. They, along with the Donald Nicolls family, organized a caravan of 31 people in the summer of 1978 to travel to the Tetons in Wyoming. Again in the summer of 1980, they returned to enjoy the beautiful scenery and a three day back-pack trip to the high country. They also went white water rafting and took a breakfast ride in a horsedrawn wagon. They also spend one week each summer at Camp Lambec near North Springfield, Pa., on Lake Erie.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

At an afternoon ceremony in the Avalon, Pa., United Presbyterian Church on August 22, 1953, Miss Margaret McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McBride of Avalon, became the bride of C. Robert Nicolls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Nicolls of Poland. The Rev. Robert Mayo of New Castle officiated, assisted by the Rev. Robert McDonald of New Wilmington.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Paul Fahringer, Washington, D. C., as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen, Anna May, and Dorothy McBride, all sisters of the bride. The bride wore a nylon tulle gown with a lace bodice, and her attendants wore pastel shades of orchid, pink, yellow and blue.

Donald Nicolls of New Castle served as best man for his brother. The ushers were David Nicolls, brother of the groom, Donald Grover and James Chambers of New Castle. A reception was held in the parlor of the church following the ceremony.

The former Miss McBride is a physical education instructor at Westminster College. Mr. Nicolls is employed by the Cold Metals Products Co. The couple will reside in New Wilmington following a motor tour of the New England states.

After retiring from Bliss & Laughlin Steel Co., Bob accepted a position with a Mexican Steel Company in Texas in 1985.

David Stanley Nicolls is the third child of Carl Emmett and Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls.

Dave went to Poland Grade School 8 years; Poland High School 4 years followed by 4 years at Ohio State University, graduating in 1949 with B. S. and B. A. degrees.

During World War II, Dave served in the United States Navy, RM2c, from 1943 to 1946.

In 1949, Dave was employed by GF Business Equipment, Inc., in Youngstown, Ohio. During this time the family lived in Poland, Ohio, until 1956, when Dave was transferred to Milwaukee, Wisconsin. As his career in Sales & Marketing Management with GF progressed, the family returned to Poland, Ohio, in 1960, remaining there until 1973, when they moved to Bethesda, Maryland. They returned to Ohio again in 1976, and lived in Chagrin Falls until Dave retired in 1979.

Since retiring, Dave and Mary have sold their home in Chagrin Falls and moved to Columbus, Ohio. Mary works part-time as Administrative Assistant to the Exec. Director of the Columbus Junior Theater of the Arts while Dave has been busy the past nine months as a Campaign Division Director for the United Way. In December, 1980, Dave joined the Ohio State Development Fund as Director of The President's Club.

Religion, Methodist; politics, Republican. Interests include music, gardening and sports. Dave's green thumb and Mary's artistic ability always creates a lovely home environment.

After retiring early from General Fireproofing Co., Dave and Mary moved to Columbus, Ohio, where Dave became Director of Athletic Fund Raising for Ohio State University.

Former director of athletic development at OSU dies

David S. Nicolls, former director of athletic development for The Ohio State University, died of a heart attack yesterday.

He was 67.

Nicolls collapsed and died in his Northwest Side home about 11:30 p.m. An hour-and-a-half earlier, he and a grandson had been playing with a model train set in the family's basement.

Nicolls had retired in June from his post at Ohio State after five years as head of athletic development.

After having spent the last several years following the Buckeyes to a host of holiday bowl games, Nicolls took advantage of retirement and opted this year to spend New Year's with his family, his wife said.

Nicolls had used his position as director of athletic development to promote his belief in the value of an education, focusing much of his attention on Ohio State's athletic scholarship program. The program provides financial aid to athletes.

His other love was Columbus' Jazz Arts Group where he served on the Board of Directors for about five years.

Nicolls also was senior advancement officer for The Columbus Foundation and active in a variety of church and civic organizations.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Rutherford-Corbin Chapel, 515 High St., Worthington. Calling hours will be from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Friday.

Burial will be in the Poland Riverside Cemetery in Poland, Ohio.

Nicolls' family asks that instead of flowers, contributions be made to the David S. Nicolls Endowment Fund, in care of the OSU Development Fund, 2400 Olentangy River Rd., Columbus, Ohio 43210.

The fund provides grants to student athletes.

NICOLLS

David S. Nicolls, age 67 of Columbus. Senior Advancement Officer for The Columbus Foundation. Preceded in death by daughter Kathleen Susan Nicolls. Survived by wife Mary. Daughter Carol (Dean) Kauffman. Grandchildren Kyle and Lindsay Kauffman. Brothers C. Robert (Margaret) of Columbus; Eugene (Ellen) of Toledo; Donald (Beverly) of New Castle, PA. Sisters Betty (Donald) Grover of Struthers, OH and Ruth (John) Lewis of Alexandria, VI. Sister-in-law Carolyn (Tom) Barton, brother-in-law Mac Tooill both of Columbus. Many nieces and nephews. Member Overbrook Presbyterian Church, OSU Presidents Club, Buckeye Club, OSU Alumni Association, Board of Directors of Jazz Arts Group, The University Club. Retired Director of Athletic Development at The Ohio State University. Funeral service 1:00 PM Saturday January 4, 1992 at the RUTHERFORD-CORBIN CHAPEL, 515 High St., Worthington where friends may call 2-4 and 7-9PM Friday. Burial latter in the Poland Riverside Cemetery, Poland, Ohio. In lieu of flowers contributions may be made to the Dave Nicolls Endowment Fund c/o OSU Development Fund, 2400 Olentangy River Road, Columbus, Ohio to support student athlete grants in aide.

Psalm 121

*I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help.
My help cometh from the Lord, which made Heaven and Earth.
He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: He that keepeth thee will not slumber.
Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.
The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand.
The sun shall not smite thee by day, or the moon by night.
The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil:
He shall preserve thy soul.
The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.*

Ruth Ann Nicolls Lewis is the sixth child of Carl Emmett and Ethel Mae McCoy Nicolls.

Ruth Ann graduated from Poland High School, Poland, Ohio, in 1946. She worked ten years as a legal secretary, and later as a successful realtor in Norfolk, Virginia, and now continues as a realtor in the Oakton, Virginia, area, where the family lives at this time.

Religion, Protestant; politics, usually votes Republican. Her interests include music, concerts, reading and bridge. Ruth Ann's descriptive account of John's career in the Navy and the family's travels during that time follows: John entered the Navy after graduating from Baker University in 1953. After going through Supply Corps School in Bayonne, N. J., he was stationed on two different destroyers out of San Diego. Then he was sent to Washington, D. C., (where we met) in the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts as Assistant to the Officer of Personnel. It was on this job that he was asked and did become a White House Aide (in the Eisenhower Administration) seeing many VIPs and the inside of the White House. Since he was a bachelor, he was quite often asked to escort females to Perle Mesta parties, Cherry Blossom princesses, etc. However, our marriage put a stop to that! He had to leave that job as they wanted bachelors only, but he did serve for one social season. That was in addition to his regular job.

After three years in Washington, the Navy sent him to Stanford University in Palo Alto, California, for two years to obtain his M.A. in Business in 1962. From there the Navy sent him to Pearl Harbor Shipyard. That job was short-lived as I couldn't take the living with lizards, many hospitals, hepatitis, etc. Five months later, the Navy decided to send him back to the States with me, and since they wanted to cut down on long moves, they sent him to Mare Island Naval Shipyard in Vallejo, California. He worked there in the Supply Department for three years. True to the Navy, not a 300-mile drive down the road, but another coast-to-coast move to the Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island, for one year. After finishing there in 1966, he was transferred to Sasebo, Japan, for two years to be the Supply Officer on the USS Ajax, a repair ship. On the way to Japan, we spent two glorious months in San Diego, Calif., while he went to computer school. One of the first things he had to do when he reported to the Ajax was to install a computer. After two of the best years of our lives, we left Japan for Mechanicsburg, Pa., where John was Head of Provisioning and Allowances for the Naval Supply Depot. After three years in Mechanicsburg, he was sent to Norfolk, Va., (1971) to be Director of Fitting Out Ships in the Atlantic (FOSAT). Into his fourth year on the job, he was selected for Captain and immediately sent to the Philadelphia Shipyard as Supply Officer. After almost two years there (while the girls and I were still in Virginia Beach), he got tired of commuting every week-end and retired after 23 years. John is presently employed by Booz, Allen & Hamilton, Management Consultants, in Washington, D. C.

Shirley Ann Connick Newman is the only child of Melvin David and Erma Elizabeth Nicolls Connick.

Besides being a wife, mother and homemaker, Shirley operates Newman's Furniture and Appliance Center on Main Street in Conneautville, Pa. Her interests include high school sports and activities, the Girl Scouts and the Conneaut Valley Women's Club.

Religion, Methodist; politics, Republican.

The following was copied from The Meadville Tribune:

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Connick of Conneautville announce the marriage of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Robert B. Newman. He is the son of William W. Newman of Farrell and the late Mrs. Nina Newman.

The wedding took place in Conneautville's First Methodist Church Saturday afternoon, April 13, 1957, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Henry Zimmerman, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony; the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. William Stake of Conneautville served the bride as matron of honor; Rebecca Ann Nicolls, Conneautville, was flower girl.

Charles E. Loughner, Conneautville, was best man; ushers were Frederick Carless and Robert Loughner, both of Conneautville. John Frederick Miller served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Grace Gibson was at the organ and vocal solos were by Miss Carol Wing.

A pink and white color motif was seen in the gowns of the bride and her attendants, and in their flowers. The bride's gown, waltz-length, was of sheer white organza. The strapless moulded bodice and shawl collar on the removable jacket were trimmed delicately with sequined lace. Her small circular illusion veil fell from a bandeau of sequins and pearls in leaf design; she carried a white Bible overlaid with clusters of white fleur d'amour.

Mrs. Stake wore a gown of white Rochelle lace over pink. The bouffant skirt was waltz-length; the bodice had short sleeves. She wore mitts matching the gown and a bandeau of pink French straw, and carried a bouquet of white pompoms and pink carnations.

The flower girl's dress was of pink sheer nylon. She wore a white hat trimmed with pink rosebuds and carried a basket of spring flowers.

Mrs. Connick chose a pink cotton lace dress to wear to the wedding and with it had pink hat and bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, more than 100 friends were entertained in the church parlors. Members of the Twentieth Century Class of the church were in charge. Mrs. Howard Blair, aunt of the bride, cut the cake; Mrs. Charlotte Wing, also an aunt, was in charge of the guest book. Mixed flowers were used for decorations; a three-tiered cake was shared. Out-of-town guests were from Arlington, Va., Milwaukee, Wis., Washington, D. C., Hyattsville and Baltimore, Maryland, Conneaut, Cleveland and Poland, Ohio, Pittsburgh, Meadville, Farrell, Erie and Albion, Pa.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Newman left for a trip to Florida. For traveling she chose a navy-blue silk shantung dress with hat and shoes in matching color, a white topper and corsage of fleur d'amour.

The couple will reside at Conneautville after May 1. Both are graduates of Conneautville High School. She attended Erie Business College and formerly was employed as a stenographer by the Cleveland Trust Co., at Cleveland. He served in the United States Navy from 1951 to 1955, YN3, and is now employed by the Electro-Metallurgical Co. of Ashtabula, Ohio.

The bride was honored at a shower given by Mrs. Stake late in March.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

Back in 1976 Robert and Shirley Newman acquired a small appliance and furniture business in Conneautville called "Howard's". Through their hard work and determination their expanded business "Newman's Furniture and Appliance Center" at 1007 Main Street has been a real asset to the community.

The Newmans and their son Ron now offer a complete line of water beds and bedding, televisions, furniture and appliances. Among the brand names they carry are Washington, England, Ort and Maytag as well as many others. Equally important, they have the ability to service the items they sell. Bob has about 30 years of experience in service and repair.

The Newmans are constantly improving and adding new lines to provide good quality for their patrons. So when you're in the market for furniture and appliances there's no need to go beyond downtown Conneautville and Newman's Furniture and Appliance Center.

James Bennett Cody is the first child of Francis Bennett and Geraldine Harriet Nicolls Cody. He attended Cornell University, School of Engineering, from 1959 to 1961, and later Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

During the Vietnam War, Jim joined the United States Air Force and spent four years at the Strategic Air Command Headquarters, Computer Division, in Omaha, Nebraska.

Jim worked for a while for IBM in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and later for the First National Bank of Lincoln, Nebraska, before starting his own company, Applied Communications, Inc., with headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and offices in several cities.

Omaha Firm's Software Dominance

The ACI system, known as BASE24 for its 24-hour capability, also lets banks add new functions — home banking, for example — merely by adding to its initial system rather than scrapping an old system and starting over.

"We were judged the best company to give them the future," Cody said.

Haddix, a technical expert, succeeded Cody as chairman and in 1984, brought in Hansen, a former vice president for Omaha-based First Data Resources Inc.

"In the past two years, the company has just grown up," Hansen said. "We built a Rolls-Royce, but we were getting beat by inferior products" because of a weak sales division.

Hansen set up the marketing system that expanded ACI's annual sales and installed the management structure that handled its rapid growth.

"That's where most software companies fail," Haddix said. "They don't achieve a balance" between technical and management expertise and never make the transition from a successful technical company to a successful commercial company.

30 Percent Overseas

Today, 30 percent of ACI's sales are overseas. Foreign nations benefit especially from the ACI system because they have large, central banks with high volumes of transactions.

By adding electronic banking now, Hansen said, foreign banking systems "are really leapfrogging over a lot of the trial-and-error things that happened in the United States."

ACI also is adjusting its systems so that smaller banks can profit from them. From an original market of first 50 large banks and then 250 large banks, ACI says it now can offer savings and improved service to the top 600 to 700 banks.

Both Hansen and Haddix said they welcome the U S West offer.

"We're enthusiastic about the people we've seen and the plans they have," Hansen said. "It gives us the backing and ability we need to capitalize on the significant market we have out there."

"I think we'll have a lot of opportunity for cross-pollination," Haddix said.

Hackett said he looks forward to working with U S West. "I don't see any reason that life isn't going to just get better."

ACI Bid Rewards Software Dominance

By Steve Jordan

World-Herald Staff Writer

Charlie Hackett bought his first bottle of Dom Perignon champagne last week. He and other employees of Applied Communications Inc. had reason to celebrate.

Although some companies in the computer industry are foundering, ACI is busy accepting a purchase offer that means a $65 million gain to its shareholders, many of them employees.

A report in January said 229 employees owned stock in the firm, while officers and directors owned 11.18 percent of the company's shares.

U S West Information Systems Inc., a subsidiary of U S West Inc. of Denver, last week announced plans to pay $120 million, or $27 a share, for ACI, about 50 percent more than its value on the open market before the offer.

U S West's tender expires May 8. Analysts expect the deal will go through. ACI's directors endorsed it unanimously.

The 350-employee company, now headquartered in the Old Mill office park, was formed by three men in 1975 on an investment of $5,000.

ACI's founder, James B. Cody, recalled when ACI could afford only one parking space for its 10-by-20-foot office at the Farm Credit Building in downtown Omaha.

Today Cody, no longer with ACI, travels with his race horses to various tracks around the country, including Ak-Sar-Ben, and invests in new venture capital firms.

His latest is a California-based computer television show, "The Computer Show," on the Financial News Network.

Cody said the TV show has the same sort of entrepreneurial potential that ACI had in its early days.

In 10 years, ACI has become the leader in software for computers that ACI founder James B. Cody said he once called on the First National Bank of Chicago wearing one brown shoe and one black shoe, having packed the mismatched pair in haste. He decided to go ahead with the sales visit.

automatic teller machines in the nation's financial system, said Cato D. Carpenter, an analyst for Alex Brown Partners in Baltimore, Md.

ACI Chairman George F. Haddix estimated that 60 percent of all automatic teller transfers in the United States go through ACI systems, and the percentage is higher in many foreign countries, including Canada and Australia.

"It's a very healthy company with a very solid balance sheet," Carpenter said. "It's a business that has a long-term horizon."

ACI's software sales are probably twice those of its nearest competitor, A.O. Smith Data Services, and far Carpenter said ACI gained its dominant market share by originating what the nation's banking system needed before the banks even knew they needed it.

"I doubt that even ACI appreciated

Combined with U S West Information Systems' communications ability, Carpenter said, ACI can expect rapid growth in large retail systems, oil companies, internal business communications and other fields, in addition to banking.

ACI's future was less certain when Hackett joined the firm in 1976, about a year after it was formed.

"If you didn't go out and find another customer, you were starting to worry about where the next one was hiding," Hackett said. "We never missed a payroll, but we had to delay it twice."

Now vice president of performance and architecture, Hackett is listed by the company as its largest individual inside shareholder, with 225,180 shares, or 5.62 percent of the total.

At that rate, the $10 above-market premium offered by U S West boosted the value of his holdings by more than $2 million.

Sales Tripled

The company's office is modern but casual. A beach umbrella rises over one employee's cubicle, and two workers were staying late one afternoon for a game of Ping-Pong on a table put up in a wide aisle between the modular furniture.

One large room is an employee exercise area with weights and other equipment donated by Tandem Computers, ACI's largest computer hardware supplier.

ACI employees earned the company $3.6 million on $29.3 million in revenues in fiscal 1985, which ended Sept. 30, a 65 percent increase in net income in a single year.

In five years, sales have more than tripled and profits have increased more than six times.

Haddix and Neal C. Hansen, chief executive officer, say the firm's success began with Cody and his pioneering work in the electronic funds industry.

Cody was an IBM computer programmer in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., when the Vietnam War prompted him to enlist in the Air Force.

He was stationed at Offutt Air Force Base when he left the service. He began working first as a computer consultant and later for First National Bank of Lincoln.

Banking Laws Helped

The other two founders with Cody were David Willadsen, now a computer consultant in Minneapolis, and Dennis Gates, now living in Texas, Cody said.

Haddix said Nebraska's banking laws, which restrict banks from opening branch offices, helped ACI. When Nebraska bankers sought remote banking terminals in retail stores, the law said the outlets had to be accessible to all banks, and the Nebraska Electronic Transfer System was born.

Cody bid for the system's software contract and lost, partly because of his firm's small size. The winning bidder, Ramada Inn subsidiary Micor, subcontracted with Cody for the actual installation because of his technical proposal.

ACI also worked for First National Lincoln and then began selling its services to the nation's largest banks, which have the transaction volume that makes the complex systems economical even at today's average price of $200,000.

Founder Leaves Strong Firm

By the early 1980s, Applied Communications Inc. of Omaha was established as the leader in its industry, and founder James B. Cody decided to leave the company.

He said his intention was to leave the firm strong enough that it would survive and grow on its own.

"I don't like to wear a suit and tie," he said, and felt in general that he wouldn't fit in at a publicly owned company. The company sold its first public stock in 1983 at $14.50 a share.

Cody said he once called on the First National Bank of Chicago wearing one brown shoe and one black shoe, having packed the mismatched pair in haste. He decided to go ahead with the sales visit.

"I figured that they had seen plenty of slick salesmen, and that they would think that nobody would have the nerve to show up dressed like this and lie to them," Cody said.

The bank bought an ACI system.

In those days, Cody said, each bank was convinced its system was the best, even though about 70 percent of every system was nearly identical.

Such "fractured processing" prevailed for years before electronic banking became standardized enough to accept packaged software systems — that is, software that would work with virtually any type of computer used by nearly any bank.

A factor in ACI's success was Cody's idea to marry his software with a computer system manufactured by Tandem.

'Fault-Tolerant'

Tandem's computers are known in the industry as "fault-tolerant," meaning that if something goes wrong with part of a machine, another part takes over immediately and keeps the system running without interruption or loss.

Cody said the fault-tolerant system was vital for two of ACI's most important early customers, the New York Stock Exchange and the American Stock Exchange.

The fault-tolerant nature of the Tandem-ACI system won the markets' approval. Installing the stock transaction system gave ACI the credentials it needed to deal with large banks, Cody said.

"The important thing was never to drop any money on the floor," Cody said. The principle is the same for a million-dollar stock transaction or a $100-dollar withdrawal from an automatic teller in a supermarket.

By the time bankers accepted a standard electronic money system, ACI had Cody sold most of his ACI holdings and now owns less than 5 percent, he said. He doesn't regret the sales, mostly to ACI employees, because their ownership gave them a financial stake in the company's success.

"They deserve all of the stock they have," he said.

Even with his smaller holdings, he said, the date of the U S West Inc.'s tender offer for ACI was "was a very big day in my financial future."

the expertise to install the best system quickly and, on a per-transaction basis, cheaply.

Where man goes,
ATM's follow.
And ACI is leading the way.

You are undoubtedly aware of the many sophisticated shared and proprietary retail EFT networks in operation, but are you aware of the turnkey vendor who has developed more than any other?

APPLIED COMMUNICATIONS, INCORPORATED, first installed a shared EFT network based on Tandem computers for a major midwestern bank in 1978. Since then we have turnkeyed more than 20 additional EFT networks for large financial institutions in unit-banking and branch-banking states around the country.

Of equal importance is the fact that each installation was customized to the specific retail EFT strategy of the financial institution client.

And that's the point.

As an ACI customer, YOU decide which ATM or ATM's your institution will support. YOU select your teller, POS, and administrative CRT vendor or vendors. YOU decide on a proprietary or shared network and whether you will offer national debit and/or credit cards, a proprietary card, or all of them. YOU elect to participate with other switched networks or authorization centers.

ACI offers your financial institution our technical resources, our experience, and our commitment to your EFT strategy. We develop, test and install the complete system.

The future is at hand, so if you'll give us a call or drop us a letter, we'll send you more information by return mail.

Carol June Ohl Hudson is the only child of Wilton John and Marjorie June Nicolls Ohl. Carol attended Mrs. Jack Horner's private kindergarten in Conneautville, Pa., and the Conneautville Elementary School until we moved in 1955. The following article copied from the Covington Virginian of August 3, 1964, tells much of the early lives of Carol and husband, Thomas:

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday, August 1, by Miss Carol June Ohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton John Ohl, of Altamont, and Morris Thomas Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hope Hudson of Rosedale.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at Granbery Memorial Methodist Church at 8 o'clock in the evening by Dr. Herbert E. Hudgins. The church was decorated with spiral candelabras, tepe foliage stands, palms, and a single candelabra with baskets of white stock, white mums and white chrysanthemum pom-poms.

Mrs. Harry W. Robertson, Jr., was organist, playing traditional wedding marches and "Arioso" and "When Thou Art Near" by Bach; "Evening Star" by Wagner; "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" by Saint Saens; and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Howard R. Hammond sang "Song of Ruth" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her formal gown of candlelight silk peau-de-soie was fashioned with a portrait neckline and elbow length sleeves. The princess-line bodice and skirt front featured appliques of Alencon lace encrusted in seed pearls. Back pleats formed the fullness for the chapel-train. A pill box of lace and seed pearls held the bouffant veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her grandmother along with a crescent semi-cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses with an accented cabbage rose in the focal area, backed with ligustrum foliage.

Miss Margaret Ann Fake of Strasburg, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of azure blue lintage with a low scoop neckline, cap sleeves and a fitted bodice. The modified bell skirt fell from the waistline with soft pleats on the sides and was complimented in the back with a flowing panel caught at the waistline with two large cabbage roses. She wore a matching headpiece with a short veil of illusion and carried a semi-cascade bouquet with diagonal section of lavender glamelias set in pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Betsy Ann Thomas of Poquoson, Miss Lucinda M. Hilbrink, of Warrentonville, W. Va., Miss Anna Mae Leighty, of Richmond, Miss Oma E. Gifford, of Falls Church, Va., and Miss Joyce Leigh Waddell, of Covington, Va. The attendant's gowns were styled identically as that of the maid of honor's gown. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of pink roses and miniature Magenta carnations with pink glamelias as the focal area, with ligustrum foliage.

Morris Hope Hudson served his son as best man. Ushers were Cecil C. Baecher, of Roanoke, Va., F. Woods Carter, Jr., of Martinsville, Va., W. Harry Covington, Jr., of Kilmarnock, M. Walter Spence, of Portsmouth, Charles B. Hammond and Harrison L. Fridley, Jr., of Covington.

Mrs. Ohl chose for her daughter's wedding a floor-length sheath gown of ice blue crepe fashioned with a matching sleeveless overblouse embroidered with bugle beads. She wore a blue headdress with circular veil and matching accessories with a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Hudson chose a floor-length sheath gown of buff pure silk, fashioned with a matching demi-jacket revealing an overblouse of buff organza re-embroidered with pastel ribbon and chalk head traced motif. She wore an imported braid headdress with circular veil. She carried on her purse a corsage of brown-beige combination rubrum lilies.

A reception was held at 9 o'clock in the evening at the Alleghany Country Club. The bride's tables were laid with white madeira cut-work cloths and bore a five-tier wedding cake, silver punch bowls and candelabra arrangements of pink variegated carnations accented with pink rubrum lilies.

Miss Helen Dickson was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. William Stake, of Conneautville, Pa., and Mrs. Frank Ohl, of Painesville, Ohio, aunts of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Howard Blair of Arlington, Va., an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Ramey Richeson, of Amherst, aunt of the bridegroom, and Miss Dickson presided at the punch bowls. Miss Penny Shumaker of Pittsburgh, Pa., cousin of the bride, attended the guest book.

Other aids were Miss Linda S. Fridley, Miss Judy N. Barnhart and Mrs. Harrison L. Fridley, Jr., all of Covington, and Miss Jody Hoffman, of Temple Hills, Md. They all wore corsages of white miniature carnations.

For the northern wedding trip through New York, Canada, and Pennsylvania, the bride chose a two-piece dress of pink linen with white accessories, with a corsage of pink rubrum lilies.

Mrs. Hudson is a 1964 graduate of Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., where she was president of the YWCA, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority, and was selected for Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Mr. Hudson is a 1964 graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he majored in business administration. He was an active member of the Corps of Cadets and an officer in the Virginia Tech Glee Club. He is scheduled to enter the United States Air Force as a second lieutenant in September as a missile launch officer in the Strategic Air Command.

While Tom was in the Air Force, they were stationed at Rantoul, Illinois, and later at Loring Air Force Base in Maine. While there, Carol taught Latin at Caribou High School for a couple years before the birth of their first child, Jennifer Lynn.

Thomas left the service in 1968 and returned to Roanoke, Virginia, where he joined the brokerage firm of Abbott, Proctor and Paine. This firm was acquired in 1970 by Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis and Thomas has been with them since. He was assigned to the firm's management training center near Fort Lauderdale, Florida, to train new brokers and conduct seminars. The family lived in Boca Raton during this time and Carol was busy with three children and the family pet, a dog named Brandy. After a couple years, the family returned to Roanoke, Virginia, when Thomas became manager of the Roanoke office. Since 1977, Thomas has been the manager of the Atlanta, Georgia, Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis office and the family lives in Marietta, Ga.

While teaching in the Cobb County, Ga. School System, Carol has been working toward a M.A. in Early Childhood Education at Oglethorpe University in Atlanta. Interests include church and community activities, reading, golf, tennis, bridge and camping. They had a Winnebago camper for several years when the children were young that they used for traveling, camping and football games. Tom enjoys playing golf, tennis and racquet ball, and is interested in football and basketball as a spectator. Presently, he is learning to fly and is looking forward to white-water rafting in Colorado this summer. While living in Virginia, he and Carol went white-water rafting on the New River in West Virginia.

The following was copied from an article in the Covington Virginian of May 14, 1988:

Paine Webber has named M. Thomas Hudson, a vice president, branch manager of the Philadelphia office.

Hudson, a native of Covington, began his career in the securities industry with Paine Webber in 1968 as a retail broker in Roanoke, VA. In 1973, he became branch manager at Paine Webber's Eastern Training Center in Florida. Subsequently, he managed several offices in Paine Webber's southern division, most recently in Jacksonville, FL. For the past two years, Hudson was a member of Paine Webber's Branch Manager's Achievement Council. The Council represents the firm's top branch managers throughout the country.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris H. Hudson, lifelong residents of Covington.

"Over the course of the next year, we're planning a vast expansion of the Philadelphia office. We intend to increase the number of investment executives to better serve our existing clients and the growing investor base in the Philadelphia area," said Mr. Hudson.

Hudson, who earned a B.S. in business administration from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will relocate in Philadelphia with his wife, Carol.

Paine Webber Incorporated is one of the nation's leading full-service securities firms, with more than 285 offices and 4,200 investment executives worldwide.

 Sylvester Emmett (6), s. Simon Chauncey (5), s. Seneca (4), s. Simon
 (3), s. William (2), s. William (1)

- b. September 29, 1943 in Meadville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.
- d. August 8, 1959 in the Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Ohio.

William Allan Stake was the only child of William Watkin and Jennie Louise Nicolls Stake. Billy attended the Conneautville schools where despite long absences from school due to a recurring staph infection, he was a good student and able to pass each grade. The infection first appeared after his tonsils were removed when he was three years old.

Because of his friendly, happy disposition, and his love of life, Billy was loved by everyone. Many books have been donated to the Stone Memorial Library in Billy's memory.

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping:

William Allan Stake, 15, of Conneautville, died early Saturday morning, August 8, 1959, at the Cleveland Clinic after a long illness. He was born in Meadville on September 29, 1943, a son of William and Jennie Nicolls Stake. He was a member of the Conneautville Methodist Church and Explorer Scout Troop, No. 210.

Surviving besides his parents, are his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Nicolls of Conneautville; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Stake of Saltillo; and his paternal great-grandfather, William Allison Stake of Saltillo.

Services were held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon, August 10, with the Rev. H. C. Zimmerman officiating. Interment was at Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

Bearers were Paul Heaster, David Dunlap, David Nicolls, Donald Tyler, James Glessman and Gary Welker.

The Following is from The Conneautville Courier:

BILLY STAKE MEMORIAL ESTABLISHED

This season of remembering - November 11, Veterans' Day, and Thanksgiving, November 26 - is accented by a local memorial established on November 7, 1959. It is the Billy Stake Memorial Book Stand at Stone Memorial Library.

The uncles, aunts and grandmother of teenager Billy Stake have donated a sum of money to the library to purchase books. The first group of 24 books are now on the stand and ready for lending. More will be added from time to time.

Billy's relatives could have made the donation to the Cleveland Hospital library, where he was treated many times and made such a gallant struggle for life. But they chose to make more good books available to his friends, young and old, in his hometown library.

The 24 titles presently ready for lending are:

b. July 29, 1949 in Meadville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania.

m. November 25, 1970 to John Howard Greenfield, s. Howard and Leona Morris Greenfield of Conneautville, Pa.

Children: Two

245. i Johnathon Michael Greenfield (a.s.)

226+1:ii David Weston Greenfield (a.s.)

Patricia Louise Nicolls Greenfield is the first child of Arthur Jay and Helen Lucille Wall Nicolls.

The following was copied from The Conneautville Courier:

Miss Patricia Louise Nicolls became the bride of John Howard Greenfield in a candlelight service at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 25, 1970 at Valley United Methodist Church in Conneautville.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Nicolls of Conneautville and the late Arthur J. Nicolls. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greenfield, Water Street, Conneautville.

The Rev. Richard Sanford, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with bouquets of gold, yellow and brown mums and wheat. Mrs. Paul Gibson played traditional organ music and Mrs. Richard Sanford was soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, William Stake of Conneautville. She wore a floor-length gown of sata-peau and Venice lace fashioned in an empire silhouette with full skirt. It featured a high-rise bodice of lace, wedding ring neckline and bell sleeves with lace cuffs. Matching lace also trimmed the detachable chapel-length train. A camelot cap of matching lace secured her bouffant elbow-length illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white mums, spider mums and wheat.

Miss Noreen Corr of Pittsburgh served as maid of honor. Two sisters of the bride, Miss Rebecca Nicolls and Miss Merry Lee Nicolls, both of Conneautville, and Miss Sharri Poux of Guys Mills were bridesmaids. Miss Ann Fuller of Conneautville, served as flower girl.

The groom chose Robert Hamilton as best man. Ushers were Howard Greenfield II, brother of the groom, William Ingols and Sam Mattera, all of Conneautville. Jay Tyler of Conneautville, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

A rehearsal party was given by the groom's parents Tuesday evening at the Driftwood Restaurant at Linesville.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social rooms. Aides were Miss Christine Greenfield and Mrs. Howard Smith, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Donald Tyler, aunt of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Conneaut Valley High School and is a senior at Edinboro College majoring in elementary education.

The groom is a 1966 graduate of Conneaut Valley High School and a 1970 graduate of Bethany College. He is now an ensign with the U. S. Navy.

The couple will reside at Newport, Rhode Island after January.

Correction, letter from Rene in Feb. 1982

René Christine Nicolls Birch is the ~~fourth~~ ^{third} child of Elgie Lester and Lorraine Eleanor Watkins Nicolls. René's mother died June 3, 1959, in Sioux City, Iowa. René is a housewife and mother of two small children. She is interested in family history and has been collecting information about the Nicolls family. This branch of our family has lived in the Sioux City, Iowa/Macy, Nebraska area since William Harrison and his wife, Mary Squires Nicolls, of the fourth generation of our family went west, sometime after 1845. Their third child, Sylvester (5), was born in Meadville, Pa., October 21, 1845.

René and family live in Sugar City, Idaho. Husband, Dennis, is a foreman in a potato factory where they make the scalloped, hash browns, sour cream and chive potatoes we all find in our grocery stores.

m. September 29, 1979 to Henry W. White, s. Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of Linesville, Pennsylvania.

Children: Two

389. i Justin Ryan White

329+1:ii. Michael Robert White

Deborah Jeanne Newman White is the second child of Robert Bruce and Shirley Anne Connick Newman. The following was copied from the Conneautville Courier of October 10, 1979:

Deborah J. Newman became the bride of Henry W. White Saturday, September 29, 1979, in a 2:00 p.m. wedding at St. Philip's Roman Catholic Church, Linesville, Pa.

The Rev. Fr. Bernard Webber, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with two large vases of peach gladioli, white carnations and brown leaves. Two standing tree candelabra adorned with boxwood garlanding and white satin bows flanked the arrangements. Wedding music was presented by Lois McElhinney.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Newman, 404 Center St., Conneautville, Pa. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, 213 Conneaut St., Linesville, Pennsylvania.

Linda Newman, sister of the bride, attended her as maid of honor, bridesmaids were Ileen McMillan of Springboro and Lisa White of Linesville, sister of the groom.

Bernie Klosky of Linesville served as best man. Ushering guests to their pews were Jim Huffman and Brian Brooks of Linesville.

Mr. Newman escorted his daughter to the altar. For her wedding day, the bride made a floor-length white quiana gown overlaid with lace which extended into a train. The gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline, high waist and long puffed sheer lace sleeves. A Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls secured her scalloped illusion veil which extended into a chapel train. She carried a side arm cascade of phalenopsis orchids, Belinda sweetheart roses, stephanotis and hunter green cocculus foliage.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at St. Philip's Social Center. Aides were Mrs. Ralph Nelson, Theresa Allen and Theresa Spahr. Music was presented by the Bel-Aires.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, parents of the groom, were host and hostess for a rehearsal dinner at the Driftwood Restaurant, Linesville, the evening preceding the wedding.

A 1978 graduate of Conneaut Valley High School, the bride is employed by Mid-Penn Telephone Corporation in Meadville. The groom, a 1974 graduate of Linesville-Conneaut-Summit High School, is employed by Rockwell Brake Division of Ashtabula, Ohio.

The newlyweds are residing at 314 Wallace Street, Linesville, having completed a wedding trip to Canada.

White-Johnson

Deborah J. White and Crieg S. Johnson were united in marriage Saturday, Feb. 8, 1992, at 1 p.m., in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Joseph C. Rial Jr. at Linesville United Methodist Church. Music was provided by Paul Wheeler, organist and Avis Smith and Jon Armstrong, soloists.

Kevin Johnson of Gary, Ind., brother of the groom, gave a reading.

The altar was banked with ficus trees and pink dogwood trees. Two seven-branched candelabras swagged with fresh greenery and pink satin bows graced the altar, along with a fresh unity candle centerpiece of pink carnations, white dendrobium orchid sprays, pink roses, white button mums, black rusks foliage accented with pink, silver and black ribbon. The pews were marked with pink satin bows. The front doors of the church were decorated with arrangements of pink gladioli, white carnations, greenery, babies' breath and pink, silver and black ribbon.

The bride, who has been residing at RD 3, Linesville, is a daughter of Robert and Shirley Newman of Conneautville. She was escorted by her son, Justin White of Linesville, and attended by her sister, Linda Hobson of Cambridge Springs, as honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Karen Newman of Conneautville, sister-in-law of the bride; Angie Krachkowski of Cochranton; and Kim O'Rourke of Hornell, N.Y., sister of the groom.

The groom, who has been residing at RD 3, Linesville, is a son of James and Sandra Johnson of Ridgeway. He chose as his best man Ron Krachkowski of Cochranton. Ushers were Shwan Leach of Linesville, Scott Smith of Meadville and Bruce Babbitt of Cochranton.

Kelli Pittner, niece of the bride, of Linesville, was flower girl. Michael White of Linesville, son of the bride, was ring bearer.

For her wedding the bride wore an elegant pink satin gown with illusion neckline, wedding hand collar, short pouff sleeves, basque heavily beaded bodice, a v'd waist, appliqued skirt with flower pick-ups on the side and the back, and a skirt with a semi-cathedral train. She wore a headpiece-wreath of silk pink and white flowers with a cascading layered short veil. The bride carried a fresh cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, pink roses, white button mums, Chinese evergreen foliage, English ivy, Boston fern and babies' breath.

A reception at St. Philip's Social Hall, Linesville, immediately followed the ceremony. Barb Babbitt and Jeanette Norr cut the cake, Dianne Jesse kept the guest book, and Betty Uzarski prepared the meal. D.J. was Ron Newman, brother of the bride.

Prenuptial parties included a rehearsal dinner given by the parents of the groom at Linesville American Legion the night before the wedding.

After a wedding trip to Peak-N-Peak Ski Resort, the newlyweds reside at RD 3, Box 10, Linesville. The bride is a graduate of Conneaut Valley High School. She is employed at Alltel Pa. Inc. as an installer/repair person. The groom is a graduate of Ridgway Area High School. He served in the U.S. Marine Corps. He is employed by Heinkels and McCoy as a telephone lineman/installer-repair man.

b. April 14, 1970 in Roanoke, Roanoke County, Virginia.

John Morris Hudson is the third child of Morris Thomas and Carol June Ohl Hudson. John attended kindergarten and grades one and two in Cave Springs, Virginia, and grades three, four and five at Murdock and Mt. Bethel Schools in Marietta, Georgia. Interests include playing soccer and softball, fishing, swimming, skating, bridge and learning to play golf. After the summer of 1980, I have a great respect for his ability at the checkerboard. I shall not be quick to challenge him again. Bridge,...maybe.

John stayed in a dorm his Freshman year at Florida State University. He and three of his freinds shared an apartment his Sophmore year. He plans to live at the Fraternity House during his Junior year.

m. January 19, 1980 to Kenneth Dean Ransom, s. Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Ransom of Springboro, Pennsylvania.

Children:

353+1:i Kenneth Kelly Ransom b. 1981

Darla Marie Kuhn is the first child of Gordon A. and Judy Marie Graham Kuhn. The following is from the Conneautville Courier of February 13, 1980:

Darla Marie Kuhn and Kenneth Dean Ransom were united in marriage on Saturday, January 19, 1980, at 2 p.m. at the United Methodist Church at Conneautville in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Frederick Vanderhoff, pastor.

The altar was braced with two swan-branch candelabra swagged with lemon leaves and white satin bows along the two vases of blue and white carnations and an altar piece of white gladioli, blue carnations and white button pom-poms. White satin bows marked the pews. Mrs. Jean Schilling was organist for traditional wedding music.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kuhn of 1003 Washington Street, Conneautville, the bride was escorted by her father and attended by Laurie Timko of Conneautville as maid of honor and by Denise Kuhn, sister of the bride, of Conneautville, and Susan Durovey of Linesville as bridesmaids.

The groom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Ransom of Springboro, chose Robert Atrozskin of Cleveland to serve as best man. Guests were ushered to their pews by Marvin Ransom, cousin of the groom, and David Stevens, a brother-in-law. Both are from Conneautville.

For the wedding day the bride chose a floor-length gown of white qiana accented with a fitted bodice of reimbroidered lace and peau-de-soie fashioned with high neckline. The long sleeves have insets of lace and peau-de-soie at the wrists. The full sweeping chapel train extended from the empire waistline. Her fingertip silk illusion veil depended from a cap of lace and peau-de-soie. She carried a round silk bonnet of white gardenias, blue and white roses, blue forget-me-nots, and lillies-of-the-valley.

A reception in the social rooms of the church followed the ceremony. Aides were Mrs. Chuck Graham, Mrs. John Kuhn and Mrs. Robert Kuhn, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. David Stevens, sister-in-law of the bride.

Prenuptial parties included a rehearsal dinner given by the groom's parents at the Anchor Restaurant the evening before the wedding.

The newlyweds took a trip to central Pennsylvania. The bride is a senior at Conneaut Valley High School. The groom is a graduate of Conneaut Valley High School and is serving in the United States Air Force. He is scheduled to receive specialized technical training as an administration specialist upon completion of his six-week basic military training course at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

The names in Part II, Some Allied Families, are not indexed. The information given about the allied families is primarily about our direct ancestors in each family. My lineage in each allied family is given in hopes it will benefit the reader in tracing his ancestors in each family. Lineage in the Ohl family is that of Wilton John Ohl.

Information concerning the Gleason, North and Shaw families should be of interest to all descendants of Simon and Louisa Shaw Nicolls; the Beebe, Train and Cheney families will be of particular interest to the descendants of Sylvester Emmett and Harriet Beebe Nicolls and the information about the Ohl family is included for the descendants of Wilton John and Marjorie Nicolls Ohl.

THE GLEASON FAMILY

Time: About 1607 - to a future date

Locations: Sulgrave, Northampton County, England
Cambridge, Massachusetts
Sudbury, Massachusetts
Framingham, Massachusetts
Oxford, Massachusetts
Sherborn, Massachusetts
Watertown, Massachusetts
Lynn, Massachusetts
Charlton, Massachusetts
Locke, Cayuga County, New York
Osceola, Pennsylvania (I believe this is now known as Osceola Mills. It is located in Clearfield County off a branch of the West Branch of the Susquehanna River.)

Although many members of the Gleason family lived, at one time, in the Conneautville, Crawford County, Pennsylvania area, they were not our direct ancestors.

Military Service: Joseph Gleason (4), French and Indian War, on Roll dated August 18, 1757.

Abner Gleason (5), Revolutionary War, Pvt., in Capt. John Nickols' Co., Col. Jonathon Holmes' Regt. (Edna Nicolls Tyler (7) and her daughter, Winifred Tyler Garrigus (8), gained membership in DAR through the service of Abner Gleason.

Source of Information: The Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, by John Barber White

My Gleason Lineage: Marjorie June Nicolls Ohl (10), dau. Sylvester Emmett Nicolls (9), s. Simon Chauncey Nicolls (8), s. Seneca Nicolls (7), s. Polly Gleason Nicolls (6) dau. Abner (5), s. Joseph (4), s. Thomas (3), s. Thomas (2), s. Thomas (1)

The Connection: Polly Gleason married Simon Nicolls (3).

The GLEASON FAMILY BACKGROUND of Polly Gleason, wife of Simon Nicolls (3), was taken from the Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, published by John Barber White.

1. THOMAS GLEASON (1)

b. ca. 1607, probably in Sulgrave, Northampton County, England; died in Cambridge, Mass., in 1686; married in England, Susanna Page, who died in Boston, Mass., January 24, 1691. Nine children.

In 1658 Thomas Gleason removed to Charlestown, and on December 3, he leased from Capt. Scarlett, a portion of the Squa Sachem lands.

In 1639 Squa Sachem had deeded to the town of Charlestown, her lands lying in what is now Medford, reserving for herself certain tracts on the west side of Mysticke Pond. By her will, she bequeathed all her property to certain prominent citizens, among whom were Gov. John Winthrop and Edward Gibbons. The latter secured possession of the lands on the west side of Mysticke Pond, and this was the land subsequently leased to Thomas Gleason.

Soon after this lease was made a question arose as to the rightful ownership of these lands, and in March 1662, the town of Charlestown instituted a suit against Thomas Gleason, for the purpose of obtaining possession. All of Thomas Gleason's resources were swallowed up in the litigation, and the case was unsettled when he died in the spring of 1686. (pp 19, 20)

2. THOMAS GLEASON (2), s. Thomas (1)

b. Probably in England in 1637; d. Framingham, Mass., July 25, 1705; m. Sarah_____, who died in Framingham, Mass., July 8, 1703. He m. second Mary_____.

Thomas settled in Sudbury, Mass., in 1665, on the east side of Cochituate Pond, or Long Pond, as it was uniformly called in the early records. This pond lies partly in Natick, partly in Sudbury, and partly in Framingham. September 29, 1673 he bought by exchange from Benjamin and Mary Rice the northerly one half of eighty acres, which lay between Beaver Dam, Gleason's Pond and Gleason's Hill in Framingham. Gleason's Pond, as it is still called, covers about 13 acres. It was named for Thomas Gleason, and for four generations his descendants lived upon its borders. Thomas' own home was built near it in 1678. October 5, 1678 he was received as an inhabitant in the town of Sherborn, where he enjoyed civil and religious privileges, his estate being taxable there up to 1700.

Thomas was a signer of a petition March 3, 1692, to the General Court at Boston to purchase adjacent land from the Indians in Natick Bounds for the incorporation of Framingham. The name of his son, Thomas Jr., appears on the same petition.

The location of Thomas Gleason's farm near Sudbury is sometimes described as being in Natick's Bounds in the town of Sherborn, but between the years 1667 and 1710 it was recognized as a part of Framingham.

The early records show a number of land transfers made by Thomas Gleason.

His Will, proven September 10, 1705, is as follows:

In the name of God Amen---the Thirtieth Day of April, in the Year of our Lord God One Thousand seven hundred and five, I, Thomas Gleason of Sherborn in the County of Middlesex, in the Province of Massachusetts Bay, in New England (Husbandman) being sick and broak of body, but composed mentally, of disposing mind and memory, Thanks be given unto God therefore, Calling unto mind the mortality of my Body and knowing that it is appointed for all men Once to Dye, Do make and ordain this my last Will and Testament: That is to say, principally and first of all, I give and recommend my Soul into the hands of God that Gave it: and for my Body I recommend it to the earth, to be buried in a Christian like and decent manner, nothing doubting, but at the General Resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God. And as touching such worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to Bless me in this life, I Give, Divide and Dispose of the same in the manner and form following:

Item. I give and bequeath to my well beloved son Thomas Gleason and to his assigns three acres lying in the township of Sherborn, it being a town right which fell to me in the divided land Lying adjoining to John Eames Land; which is all I bequeath to him, the said Thomas Gleason, by reason of the lands he lives on which I formerly passed a deed unto him of.

Item. I give and bequeath to my well beloved daughters Patience Gleason and Mary Gleason and to their assigns, all my household goods and household moveables, to be equally divided between them, also to them I bequeath the use and improvement of one of the rooms in my now dwelling house until they shall be married, and no longer.

Item. To my son-in-law John Gibbs, who married my daughter Ann Gleason, I give and bequeath Five Shillings in money to be rayased and payed out of my estate.

Item. I give and bequeath to my well beloved daughter Sarah Morse, one cow.

Item. I give and bequeath to my grandson John Gibbs, one cow and his bringing up, and if he shall continue with and faithfully serve my son John Gleason until he arrive at one and twenty years of age, I ordain that my son John Gleason pay unto him ten pounds to be Levied out of his portion of my estate.

Item. I give and bequeath to my well beloved sons Isaac Gleason and John Gleason (whom I likewise constitute make and ordain the executors of this my last will and testament) all my other estate that may or shall be found after my decease, not above bequeathed, whether it be in lands, messuages or tenements or Town Rights, which may be taken up in the Town of Sherborn. Moveables not within mentioned or bequeathed, or any other species of my estate that may be found after my decease and not hereby bequeathed to any other---whatsoever to them and to their assigns freely to be possessed and enjoyed by them and to be equally divided between them.

Item. I ordain and appoint that my sons, said Isaac and John Gleason, pay the following Legacys to be rayased and Levied out of their portions of my Estate hereby to them bequeathed, each one to bear an equal share of the said Legacy--That is to say:

To my Daughter Patience Gleason Fifteen Pounds to be paid unto her within Three years after my decease.

To my Daughter Mary Gleason Fifteen Pounds alsoe, to be paid unto her alsoe within three years after my decease.

And I do hereby utterly Disallow, Revoke and Disannull all and every other former testaments, Wills and Legacys and Executors by me in any way before this time named, willed and bequeathed, Ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Testament; In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, the day and year before written.

Will proved September 10, 1705. Jeremiah Morse, husband of Sarah Gleason contested the will, but did not offer sufficient evidence to hinder the probate. (From The Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, pp. 21,22,23)

3. THOMAS GLEASON (3), s. Thomas (2), s. Thomas (1)

b. in Sherborn, Mass., 1671; d. Oxford, Mass., January 11, 1732; m. 1st in Framingham, December 6, 1695 Mary, dau. of Simon and Mary Mellen, who was b. in Watertown December 5, 1686 and died in Oxford, Mass., March 13, 1727; m. 2nd in Oxford, June 10, 1729, Mercy, dau. of Daniel and Mercy Hovey, who was born in Ipswich, Mass. and died in Oxford, Mass., December 1767. 13 children by first wife; 3 by second wife.

Thomas Gleason settled in Framingham near his father, his lot being No. 14, at the southeast corner of Main and Sutton streets; house No. 194. Years later a brick house was built on the same site. He removed to Oxford, Mass. about 1723. On October 3, 1723 he deeded his home lot, House No. 194, to his son Thomas, who sold it to Jacob Cummings November 21, 1726. He and his wife, with about thirty others, were signers of the Covenant, and were the founders of the church in Oxford, January 18, 1720-1. He was one of the Selectmen of Oxford from 1723 to 1726; Constable 1721. On September 6, 1709 he served on a committee in Framingham "to lay out such highways as are needful for the 17 families to go to meeting, and to mill, and to market." On tax list June 27, 1710, rated 1s 7d. Thomas and his brothers -- Isaac and John were signers of a petition dated June 11, 1711 to his Excellency Joseph Dudley relative to purchasing 4000 acres from the Indians of Natick.

The site of Howarth's Mill was sold by Abraham Skinner, the original proprietor, to Thomas Gleason in March 1722. This included the house, lot and water privilege of Skinner, located at Augetteback Falls. Thomas, who was a man of means, settled here, built a grist mill and saw mill. His estate included "mills and streams, with homestead and buildings.

The following land transfers, to which Thomas Gleason (3) was party, appear of record.

May 27, 1723, Thomas Gleason deeded to Jonah Gleason, Husbandman, "in consideration of love, good will and affection which I have and do bear toward my well beloved son Jonah Gleason" a certain 61 Lot which Thomas Gleason bought of Joseph Chamberlain, situated & lying in Oxford Village.

April 21, 1724, he deeded to his son Elijah "in consideration of love, good will and affection" a certain sixty acres of land situated on Prospect Hill in Oxford, being the 16th lot by draft in the second range.

May 27, 1723, he also deeded to his son Thomas, who is styled a Husbandman, in consideration of "love, good will and affection" a 40 acre home lot in Oxford Village, together with a certain lot of meadow, which was the 2nd in number--reserving a drift way between the two pieces; also 20 acres of land, being a part of the first 60 acre division, and the second 60 acre lot belonging to the house lot which Thomas, the father, had taken up in Oxford by draft in the 2nd range, and one lot lying in the Great Cedar Swamp in Oxford, being the second lot by draft.

This deed was not registered until October 3, 1723.

February 12, 1721-2, Abraham Skinner, Blacksmith, of Oxford, sold to Thomas Gleason of Framingham, in consideration of £200 10s Sundry parcels, messuages of land in Oxford, viz.: a certain 40 acre home lot of land, together with 2 1/2 acres of meadow, lying within that home lot, and also a certain piece of upland estimated at one acre and a half; also a certain sawmill standing & being on the River being considered within the home lot, with all the irons appertaining thereto, the Damm & stream belonging to the same.

January 23, 1721, Thomas bo't of Benony Twitchell, a husbandman of Oxford, for £24, a sixty acre division or tract of land situate in Oxford upon Prospect Hill, being the 16th lot in number of the 2nd division in the 3rd range.

January 28, 1721, Thomas bo't of Joseph Chamberlain, husbandman of Oxford, for £23 7s a sixty acre lot lying in Oxford, upon the easterly part of Prospect Hill, being the 22nd in number of the 2nd division in the 3rd range. (Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909, pp31,32,33,34)

4. JOSEPH GLEASON (4), s. Thomas (3), s. Thomas (2), s. Thomas (1)

ANNAH JANE NORTH, dau. Chauncey and Sally North of Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, was born May 24, 1818. She married Seneca Nicolls (4) January 18, 1840. She died January 17, 1884 and was buried in the Conneautville Cemetery, Conneautville, Crawford County, Pa. Ten children.

She was a member of the Conneautville Episcopal Church according to the records of that Church presently in the possession of Betty Adkins Kovac of Conneautville, Pa.

Sylvester Nicolls (6), my Father, told us that Annah Jane taught her husband to read after they were married and also, that Seneca (4) used to tell their son, Simon (5), that there was just enough "North" in him to spoil him. My Father also told me that we were supposed to be descended from Lord North. This is also mentioned in a letter written by Edna Nicolls Tyler to Carl Emmett Nicolls. I quote, "Our Grandfather told me, we were descended from Lord North, who was here in Colonial times, and was the King's Prime Minister in Rev. War. England never accepted the marriage, title went to Lord Northcliff, a distant relative".

The World Book Encyclopedia (1956), Vol. 12, p. 5711 states: Lord Frederick North (1732-1792), Earl of Guilford, was an English statesman whose short sighted treatment of the American colonies did much to bring on the Revolutionary War.

North was born in London, a son of the first Earl of Guilford. He was brought up in luxury and was educated at Eton College and at Trinity College, Oxford University. He traveled in Europe for several years. In 1754 his father had him elected to Parliament from a "pocket borough" owned by the North family. North later served in the Treasury and as a member of the Privy Council. In 1767 he became Chancellor of the Exchequer and leader of the House of Commons.

North associated himself closely with King George III, and was careful never to do anything which might displease the stubborn king. He was sometimes wise enough to see the lack of wisdom in the king's policies, but he never had the courage to oppose them. He supported the tax on tea which so stirred the American colonies. In 1770, North became Prime Minister. He soon became convinced that the king's policies were sure to lead to trouble, but he continued in his obedience to the king's wishes. North was Prime Minister during the Revolutionary War. Up to the last he hoped the colonies would not be lost. But when he received the news of surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, he threw up his hands and cried out, "O God! It is all over!" He resigned his office in 1782. The next year he became joint Secretary of State with Charles Fox, but resigned after nine months.

Lord North was deeply conservative in politics. He was such a strong monarchist that he could never bring himself to contradict the king.

I can't help but comment that perhaps Lord North warrants our thanks for our freedom as much, if not more, than other ancestors who fought on the battlefields during the Revolutionary War.

For the names of the ten children of Anna Jane North Nicolls, see Seneca Nicolls (4). Eight of the ten children died of diphtheria. Obviously, she was a strong person to have survived this tragedy.

According to information received in December, 1980, from George Albert North of Bloomington, Utah, who is also descended from Chauncey North, the dates on the tomb stone of Chauncey North are: b. 1784; d. 1860; other dates, possibly for his wife are b. May 23, 1783 and d. March 6, 1865.

Anna Jane North's brother was Oliver North, b. 1825; d. 1860; m. Matilda North, b. 1828 in Vermont; d. in Conneautville, Pa.

*Anna Jane North's sister, Sarah was b. May 16, 1826; m. P. B. Carpenter b. January 12, 1827 and d. July 21, 1903. Had three sons. My list of the brothers and sisters of Anna Jane North has a sister, Jerusha, born April 8, 1826.

 Chauncey and wife, Sarah North, are buried on the Seneca Nicolls' (4) lot in Conneautville Cemetery.*

My Shaw Lineage: Marjorie June Nicolls Ohl (5), dau. Sylvester
Emmett Nicolls (4), s. Louisa M. Shaw Nicolls
(3), dau. Moses Dennis (2), s. Moses Dennis (1)

The Connection: Louisa M. Shaw married Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5).

The SHAW FAMILY BACKGROUND of Louisa M. Shaw Nicolls, wife of Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5).

1. MOSES DENNIS SHAW, a native of Dutchess County, New York, married Lucy A. Cross, also of Dutchess County, N. Y.

2. M. D. SHAW, s. Moses Dennis and Lucy Cross Shaw

The following biographical sketch was copied from The History of Crawford County, Pennsylvania, a book in the Stone Memorial Library in Conneautville, Pa., published by Warner, Beers & Co., of Chicago, Ill., in 1885, pp. 1062-63:

M. D. SHAW, farmer and stock-raiser, P. O. Centre Road Station, was born in Dutchess County, New York, May 6, 1811; son of Moses and Lucy A. Cross Shaw, also a native of Dutchess County. They were members of the Baptist Church; parents of eleven children, five of whom are living. Moses Shaw, who was a farmer, died in 1856, and his widow in 1864. Our subject, who is the fifth child in the family, was married in 1832, to Julia A. Miller, a native of Orange County, New York. He came to Crawford County the same year and settled on sixty-eight acres of woodland in Summerhill Township in 1836, which he cleared as well as several other farms in the community. To Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were born eleven children, ten now living, viz: Lucy J., wife of Levi Walton, Moses M.; Mary C., wife of Chester Walton; William M.; Harriet M., wife of Andrew Walton; Filena, wife of Seth S. Dorchester; Louisa M., wife of Simon Chauncey Nicolls; Rachel A., wife of George Stevens; Carrie M., wife of S. Miller, and John C. The families all reside within a few miles of their parents. Their son, Thomas Jefferson, was a soldier during the war of the Rebellion in the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and died of disease contracted in the service, April 4, 1862. Our subject, wife and children, are members of the Evangelical Church, which is situated on one corner of his land. Mr. Shaw donated the ground and was mainly instrumental in building the church. He is the owner of 160 acres of well-improved land, and is making a specialty of raising a pure breed of Holstein cattle; he has given much land to his children. Our subject has held several township offices; in politics is a Republican. This worthy old pioneer has about forty grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The following information about the Shaw family was taken from a book of newspaper clippings in the possession of Mrs. Harold Schambach, RD 3, Linesville, Pa.:

JULIA ANN MILLER SHAW, widow of Moses D. Shaw, died on the 22nd in the 91st year. She was a native of Orange County, N. Y., and came with her husband and two small children to Crawford County in 1836, settling on the farm just on the Conneaut Township line, upon which she spent the remainder of her life. The trip was made with a yoke of oxen, a tedious journey of 8 days. She was mother of eleven children, one yielding up his life for his country during the War of the Rebellion, and the others all living and being with her in her closing hours. The grandchildren number 47 and the great-grandchildren 48. Her husband died 10 years ago. She was a member of the Evangelical Church, worshipping in the church near her home which bears the family name. Her's was a beautiful Christian character, and her memory will be ever fondly cherished.

DEATH OF WILLIAM M. SHAW: Friends have been notified of the death of William Shaw, who resided near Dicksonburg, who died Thursday morning. He leaves a wife and two daughters. He was 62 years and 2 months, May 8, 1904.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM M. SHAW: In Summerhill, April 18th, 1891, of la grippe, Mrs. Alinda E., wife of Wm. M. Shaw, aged 49 years, 10 months and 13 days.

The following was copied from the History of Crawford County, Pennsylvania, p. 1063: WILLIAM M. SHAW, farmer and breeder of Durham cattle, P. O. Dicksonburg, was born in Summerhill Township, this county, March 7, 1842; son of M. D. Shaw, whose biography appears also. He received a good common school education. During the war of the Rebellion he enlisted, on first occasion in the three months' service and was stationed during that period at New Creek, Virginia, and then returned home. In the spring of 1864, our subject again enlisted, this time in the Second Pennsylvania Cavalry attached to the Army of the Potomac. He participated in the campaign of the Wilderness, and was in several minor engagements. During the service he contracted diseases from which he never thoroughly recovered. He was honorably discharged after the close of the war, June 12, 1865. He married in the spring of 1866, Miss Alinda E. Frey, a native of Conneaut Township, this county, a daughter of Jacob Frey, one of the early settlers of Crawford County. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have no children of their own, but have adopted an orphan boy who is named Frank Ross Shaw. He was born in Long Island. Our subject and wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and of the R. T. of T. He is owner of 110 acres of well improved land, and is making a specialty of breeding and raising Durham cattle. In politics, Mr. Shaw is a Republican.

THE SHAW FAMILY

In August 1984, Jennie Nicolls Stake and I drove out the Linesville Road from Conneautville in search of the Shaw Cemetery. We found it by turning left off the Linesville Road near the old Shaw homestead. The small, private cemetery was identified by a piece of wood on two posts with SHAW CEMETERY painted in white. Someone had mowed the cemetery with a large mower; no trimming around the stones, etc.

The following information was taken from some of the tomb stones in the Shaw Cemetery:

Moses D. Shaw, d. August 18, 1890
Age 79 years, 3 months, 12 days
Asleep in Jesus, Blessed sleep.

Mrs. Julia Ann, wife of M. D. Shaw
d. November 22, 1900
Aged 90 years, 8 months, 3 days
Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord.

J. C. Shaw

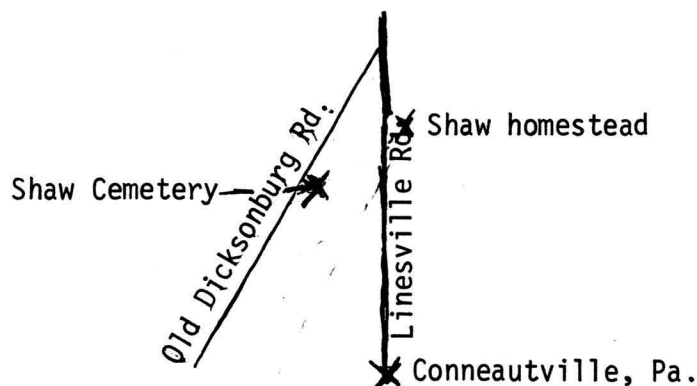

T. J. Shaw, son of Moses D. and Julia Ann Shaw
d. in Baltimore, Maryland, April 4, 1861
24 years
(According to a biographical sketch in The History of Crawford County, pp. 1062-63, Thomas Jefferson Shaw was a soldier in the War of the Rebellion in the 145th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry and died of a disease contracted in the service, April 4, 1862.)

The following are a few names taken from stones. The relationship at this time is not clear.

Sarah Stevens
Ezekiel Stevens, 1837-1915
Helen Stevens, wife of Ezekiel, 1842-1915

THE BEEBE FAMILY AND ITS COAT OF ARMS

MOTTO: "Se Defendendo"
(By defending himself)

ARMS: Azure, a chevron or between three bees volant or.

CREST: A beehive proper.

Some authorities suggest that the Beebe family traces back to Bebi, one of the kings of the second dynasty in Egypt, about 3000 years B.C. Others suggest that the family may stem from Quintus Baebius, the Roman Ambassador to Hannibal (534).

The more accepted tradition seems to be that the English family Beebe descends from the two Norman knights, Richard and William deBoebe, to whom William the Conqueror granted manors in Warwickshire in recognition of their services. Many old English records list this family name in various spellings.

The American Beebe family is descended from John Beebe of Northamptonshire, England, who died enroute to America in 1650. His two sons, John and Samuel, had preceded him and had settled in Stonington, Conn. John married Abigail Yorke and later moved to New London. They had three children.

Members of the Beebe family married into such families as Graves, Lewis, Hlickox, Bowers, and many other early colonial families of distinction. Today, branches of this family, while still most numerous in New England, can be found in every state in the Union, and they are well represented in the arts, sciences and professions, as well as the world of commerce.

The exhaustive work, "The Beebe Family 1650-1950", by David C. Beebe, Jr. very thoroughly traces the descendants of Charles Beebe, Sr., (born Oct. 8, 1788) and his wife, Elisabeth Train Beebe, (born March 12, 1795). Other information concerning this, and other branches of the Beebe family may be found in such works as:

"Colonial and Revolutionary Lineages of America",
vol. 12, 1946 by American Historical Co.

"Lucius Beebe of Wakefield", by L.B. Wilder, 1930.

JOHN BEEBE, SR. (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, was the son of John Beebe of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England. He married Rebecca Ladd and had eight children, all of whom were baptized in the Church of St. Andrews at Broughton, Northamptonshire, England. These baptisms are duly recorded in the records of the Church and are still on file there where they may be inspected.

Children:	i	John Beebe	Baptized:	November 4, 1628
	ii	Rebecca Beebe		August 11, 1630
	iii	Thomas Beebe)		June 23, 1633
	iv	Samuel Beebe)	Twins	June 23, 1633
	v	Nathaniel Beebe		January 25, 1635
	vi	Mary Beebe		March 18, 1637
	vii	Hannah Beebe		June 23, 1640
	viii	James Beebe		1641

John Beebe, Sr. (1) and five of his children sailed for America in the spring of 1650 to join two of his sons, John and Samuel, who had preceded them by some two months. Those who accompanied John, Sr., on his voyage were: Thomas, Nathaniel, James, Rebecca, and Mary. John Sr. never reached America and died at sea, probably on May 18, 1650, the date of his WILL. His wife, Rebecca Ladd Beebe, and his daughter, Hannah, did not sail on this voyage and are presumed to have died sometime prior to the departure of the rest of the family. Under the circumstances, the Beebe family in America was led and founded by John Beebe, Jr. (2), who at the time, was some 22 years of age, and his younger brothers and sisters.

(The Beebe Family, pp. 1 and 2)

JOHN BEEBE, JR. (2), s. John Beebe (1) of Broughton, s. John Beebe of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, married about 1660 to Abigail Yorke, daughter of James Yorke, of Stonnington, Connecticut. He died April 14, 1714. They had three children.

Children:	i	John Beebe	b.	1661
	ii	Benjamin Beebe	b.	1663
	iii	Rebecca Beebe Shaw	b.	1665

I quote the following from page 11 of Clarence Beebe's Genealogy of 1904 as being of interest in our consideration of John Beebe (2):

"In 1675, John Beebe (2) was appointed Ensign by the General Court, in Captain George Denison's Company in New London County, over the 68 men raised in that County May 11, 1676, for the standing army, and a part of the 350 men raised in the Colony of Connecticut. In June 1676, during the King Philip's War, he went on several military expeditions against the Indians, to Rhode Island, to Tauton and beyond Westfield, on the road to Albany. On one of these expeditions, he went up the Connecticut River by water to Northampton, and from there joined Major Talcot with supplies, of which the army was in prime need. He was living in New London, January 21, 1707-8."

(The Beebe Family, pp. 2 and 3)

Dr. William Beebe, the famous scientist and naturalist, and Clarence Beebe, to whom we are all indebted for his genealogy, are direct descendants of Benjamin Beebe, son of John Beebe (2). (The Beebe Family, p.3)

The following in regards to William Beebe was taken from The World Book Encyclopedia (1956) Vol. 2, p. 722 and 690.

Beebe, William (1877-), American scientist and author, won fame for his deep-sea explorations. His popular book, "Half Mile Down", greatly increased public interest in the strange creatures of the deep sea. He went farther below the surface of the sea than any man had before. In 1934, he reached a depth of 3,028 feet.

Beebe was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was graduated from Columbia University. He became curator of ornithology for the New York Zoological Society and was one of the founders of the Tropical Research Department. His books include Jungle Peace; The Arcturus Adventure; Beneath Tropic Seas; and Book of Bays.

The first bathysphere, made in 1930, was used by William Beebe for studying and photographing deep sea life.

The following from Darwin's Islands - A Natural History of the Galapagos, by Ian Thornton, Natural History Press, 1971:

William Beebe, the great writer-naturalist and tropical biologist, journeyed to the Galapagos Island in the Norma in 1923, and again two years later aboard the Arturus. His entertaining books, Galapagos - World's End and The Arcturus Adventure, describing these voyages were the inspiration of many subsequent visitors to the islands and a number of settlers.

One of William Beebe's admirers, and a follower to the Galapagos Island, was a research scientist working for Hercules, Inc., in the Research Triangle Park in the 1970's. I, too, was working for Hercules at that time as the Librarian. Mr. Jurkiewitsch wanted to buy some of the books written by William Beebe, but had been unable to locate them. He explained that the books would probably be hard to locate and that he would very much appreciate my efforts in his behalf in trying to locate them. As I glanced at the list of books, I commented that the author, William Beebe, was descended from the same John Beebe as my mother. Mr. Jurkiewitsch all but saluted and clicked his heels saying, "My God, Mrs. Ohl, how do you know this"? He was very much impressed, but I was unable to locate the books at that time. However, since then, I have been able to purchase from Goodspeed's Book Store in Boston, the following books by William Beebe: Edge of the Jungle; The Log of the Sun, A Chronicle of Nature's Year and The Book of Naturalists.

JOHN BEEBE (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born in 1661. He was married and had four children.

Information of interest on the subject of both Lieut. Jonathan Beebe and his son, Capt. Ira Beebe, may be found in a book entitled, "Collins Genealogy - Ancestors of Rejoyce Ballance Collins and Constance Dorothy Van Etten Collins Who Participated in the Civil and Military Affairs of the American Colonies; and Those Who Were Soldiers in the Continental Armies During War of the Revolution and Those who Served in the War of 1812". This book was compiled by Holdridge Ozro Collins (born December 10, 1844) with a forward dated September 1, 1910, Los Angeles, California.

With respect to Lieut. Jonathan Beebe, the following is quoted from Holdridge O. Collin's book: "He (Lieut. Jonathan Beebe) was one of three men who applied in October 1723 to be a Society by themselves to be called "Millington", the boundary of which easterly was partly Colchester and partly on Lyme. In 1745, with his family, he moved to Waterbury. During the French and Indian War in February 1757, he was commissioned Second Lieutenant of the 13th Company of the 10th Connecticut Regiment. In 1759, he was promoted to First Lieutenant of Captain Amos Hitchcock's Company of the 22nd Connecticut Regiment organized for the invasion of Canada via Crown Point. In this campaign he distinguished himself in the battles around Lake George and attracted the attention of Colonel James Montrossor who mentions him several times in his journal. (The Beebe Family, pp. 4 and 5)

CAPTAIN IRA BEEBE (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born July 20, 1735 at Lyme, Connecticut. He married in August, 1758, to Jemima Hickox (b. 1736), a daughter of Gideon Hickox. They had five children.

Children:	i	Eli	b. January 20, 1759
	ii	Ursula	b. January 9, 1761
	iii	Achsa	b. March 9, 1762
	iv	Armenia	b. July 16, 1765
	v	Borden	b. September 5, 1767

The following is based on the Collins Genealogy previously referred to in regards to Lieut. Jonathan Beebe: "During the French and Indian War when young Ira's father was distinguishing himself in the campaign around Lake George, Ira was doing his part as a private in Captain Mead's Company of the 3rd Connecticut Regiment. In 1777, Ira Beebe was a member of the Waterbury Executive Committee to provide supplies for the Connecticut troops in the Continental Army and the same year he was commissioned a First Lieutenant of Captain John Lewis' Company in the 10th Connecticut Regiment. He participated in the raid of December 10, 1777 on Long Island and in the battles around New York and his services were recognized by his promotion to Captain in the 27th Regiment of Connecticut Troops, in which rank he served until the end of the war.

"Upon his discharge from military service, he returned to his home in Naugatuck, where he passed the remainder of his life in the quiet pursuits of a farmer."

"Jemima Hickox Beebe survived her husband by twenty-one years, and she was interred by his side in the family lot at Naugatuck. Their monument bears the following: Ira Beebe, died December 29, 1792, aged 59 Jemima, his wife, died April 9, 1813, aged 77"

Jemima Hickox was a daughter of Gideon and Sarah Upson Hickox who were married in 1734 in Waterbury. (The Beebe Family, pp. 5,6, and 7)

ELI BEEBE (7), s. Captain Ira (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born January 30, 1759 at Waterbury, Connecticut. He married April 6, 1776 to Elizabeth Baldwin. He died in Cazenovia, Madison County, New York. Seven Children.

Children:	i	Parley	b. abt. 1780
	ii	Eli	b. March 6, 1782
	iii	Charles	b. October 9, 1788
	iv	Polly	b. abt. 1790
	v	Hannah	b. abt. 1792
	vi	Dolly	b. abt. 1794
	vii	Rhoda	b. abt. 1796

CHARLES BEEBE, SR. (8), s. Eli (7), s. Capt. Ira (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born October 9, 1788 at North Adams, Massachusetts. He moved at an early age to Luddington, Vermont. He married August 19, 1811 to Elizabeth Train (b. March 12, 1795 at Greenwich, Mass.), dau. of Isaac Train (b. May 22, 1759 at Adams, Mass.). They had eleven children.

Children:	i	Hiram	b. December 12, 1812
	ii	Eliza Ann	b. January 11, 1815
	iii	Charles, Jr.	b. January 28, 1817
	iv	Florilla	b. October 1, 1819

	viii	DeWitt Clinton	b. October 22, 1829
	ix	Edna J.	b. March 28, 1834
	x	Frances M.	b. February 19, 1837
	xi	Wellington E.	b. January 28, 1839

There were several marriages between the Beebe family and the Cheney family. Eliza Ann Beebe married Nathan C. Cheney, Darius Beebe married Jane Marion Cheney and Frances M. Beebe married Walter Cheney.

Charles Beebe, Sr., lived to be 86; Elizabeth Train Beebe 87 years of age. Mrs. Elmer D. Gould advises that Charles Beebe, Sr. was smaller than the average man. His sons were all larger than he. Elizabeth Train Beebe was a large, tall woman. After leaving the farm, they lived in Arcade Village, N. Y., and their youngest son, Wellington, took over the farm.

An Old and Respected Citizen Gone: Mr. Charles Beebe, an old and respected citizen of this place died at his residence last Sabbath morning at the advanced age of 86 years. The deceased was born in Massachusetts but removed when a child to Luddington, Vermont, whence he came to Cazenovia in this state (N.Y.). In 1815 he came to this town and resided about three years and then removed to Freedom where he spent most of his days. Here eleven children were born of whom eight remain to mourn his death.

CHARLES BEEBE, JR. (9), s. Charles, Sr. (8), s. Eli (7), s. Capt. Ira (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born January 27, 1817 at Cazenovia, Madison County, New York. He married Harriet N. Mead February 23, 1847. They had six children.

Children: i Marian Elizabeth Beebe Pinney
 ii Willard Frank Beebe
 iii Verlett Carlton Beebe
 iv Ella Alice Beebe Gibson
 v Earl Augustus Beebe
 vi Mabel Laura Beebe Gould

Charles Beebe, Jr. was a widely known and prominent dairy farmer of Freedom Township, N. Y. His farm lay in the outskirts of Sandusky Village, Cattaraugus County, New York. He was one of the early settlers and pioneer farmers of this county. He bought forest land adjoining his father's farm on the south. This land he cleared and subdued with the aid of an axe, a yoke of oxen, and the sweat of his brow. By toiling early and late, teaching school in the winter, and working on his land in the warmer months, he succeeded. Here he built a log house to which he brought his bride, Harriet Mead Beebe, in 1847. Their five eldest children were born in the log house.

In 1867 the farm house was built which is standing now (1950). It was in this house that their youngest daughter was born in 1868 and married in 1890. Charles Beebe, Jr. owned a larger farm known as his "hill farm". He operated the two farms together, stocking them heavily with dairy cows in the time when producing milk and cheese was the principal industry of Cattaraugus County farmers. It was in the "homestead farm" that he died in 1890. His wife, Harriet Mead Beebe, preceded him in 1888.

(The Beebe Family, p. 25)

Probably my mother, Harriet Beebe Nicolls, was named after her grandmother, Harriet Mead Beebe. I know she was proud of her Grandfather Beebe and his work on his farm. Years later when working on our genealogy, I found she had written in the margin beside the name of Charles Beebe, Jr., "My Grandfather". However, she was only eight years old when he died.

THE BEEBE FAMILY

EARL AUGUSTUS BEEBE (10), s. Charles, Jr. (9), s. Charles, Sr. (8), s. Eli (7), s. Captain Ira (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born December 25, 1859 at Sandusky, New York. He married October 13, 1881 to Jennie Cheney, dau. George Cheney of Sandusky, New York. He died July 16, 1939 in his 80th year. They had five children.

Children:	i	Harriet E.	b. March 9, 1883
	ii	Arthur (d.y.)	b. January 1884
	iii	Elizabeth	b. August 4, 1886
	iv	Lewis (d.y.)	b. April 1889
	v	Gordon Cheney	b. July 3, 1898

I know very little about Earl Augustus Beebe, my grandfather. He evidently lived in Flint, Michigan, where it is thought he remarried after the death of his wife, Jennie Cheney Beebe, June 1, 1929, at the home of her daughter, Elizabeth Seward, near Conneautville, Pennsylvania.

The Earl Beebe family moved to Conneautville, Pa., prior to 1898. I have post cards from Jennie Beebe to Earl Beebe postmarked Conneautville, 1914. Two of the cards are addressed to Mr. E. A. Beebe, 1908 Cruyler Ave., Chicago, Ill., and the third was written by Elizabeth Beebe Seward, his daughter, and addressed to Mr. E. A. Beebe, Bath, Steuben County, N. Y. Pictures of a parade in Conneautville are on the fronts of the cards. On one of the cards, it states that, "Hattie's baby won the prize in the Baby Contest". Hattie was Harriet Beebe Nicolls and the baby was Geraldine Harriet Nicolls Cody. Another post card has a picture of the Rebekahs parading on Main Street in Conneautville, Pa., with Jennie Beebe designated in the handwriting of her daughter, Harriet Beebe Nicolls.

I believe the family lived in Michigan for a time for I remember my mother, Harriet Beebe Nicolls, telling about riding horseback to school through the woods in Michigan. Bears were common at that time so horseback riding was safer than walking to school. Mother was attending Conneautville High School in the spring of 1898 for I have a book of dried flowers she did for a class project in April and May of 1898.

Grandfather Beebe did not attend the funeral of his wife, Jennie Cheney Beebe, and I was unaware of his existence at that time. Later, in the 1930's, his sister, Aunt Mabel Gould, of Lima, Ohio, called Mother and said that Earl Beebe was at her home. He was in poor health, nearing 80 years of age and wanted to see his daughter, Harriet, and family. It was the only time I remember seeing him.

HARRIET E. BEEBE (11), dau. Earl Augustus (10), s. Charles (9), s. Charles (8), s. Eli (7), s. Capt. Ira (6), s. Lieut. Jonathan (5), s. Joseph (4), s. John (3), s. John (2), s. John (1) of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, s. John Of Great Addington, Northamptonshire, England, was born March 9, 1883 according to the Beebe Family, pp. 40 and 63. She married

March 4, 1899 to Sylvester Emmett Nicolls, s. Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls. She died October 1, 1968 at 86 years of age at Conneautville, Pennsylvania. They had twelve children.

Harriet Beebe was, according to my father's description when he first saw her sweeping the front porch in Conneautville, Pa., the prettiest girl he had ever seen. He proceeded to become acquainted by helping her find wild flowers and herbs for a school science project she was working on in the spring of 1898. The flowers were pressed and displayed in a book titled, "Herbarium and Plant Descriptions". A beautifully penned description accompanied each specimen. It is amazing how many flowers were found in the area two to three miles east of Conneautville, the location of the Nicolls' farm. I recall as a child spending many happy hours looking at the flowers; today, the flowers, brittle with age, have deteriorated and are nearly gone, but the penmanship, though faded, is still exquisitely beautiful.

I remember, and marvel, at the strength and strong will of my Mother. She needed both to give birth at home to twelve children; discipline and care for them; wash clothes by hand on a scrub board after first boiling them in a copper boiler on the wood stove; cleaning the eighteen room house and redecorating when needed by painting and wallpapering; ironing with a flat iron heated on a stove that always needed more wood from the wood pile; tending the garden and canning the extra produce; raising chickens and exchanging the extra eggs at the stores for sugar, oranges, etc., not raised on the farm; filling and cleaning oil lamps; sewing most of our clothes and, in her "spare" time, she enjoyed making quilts. She made each of her daughters a quilt when they married. Electricity was not available in the area of Thatcher Road in Spring Township until the late 1930's, so most of the cooking for the family and hired help was done on the wood stove. An oil stove was used sometimes in the summer when it was hot. During the harvest season, there were often two seatings of hungry workmen at the long dining room table loaded with home-made bread and rolls, cakes and pies fresh baked from the oven, vegetables she had raised in the garden, meat that had been raised, butchered and canned, or processed, to keep. Hams were usually salted as I recall. Chicken dinners were a favorite of both family and the hired workers. It was a family tradition to have a chicken dinner with biscuits and gravy when Dad finished haying.

The chickens were great, but, Mom liked a change once in a while so she raised a few ducks at one time and experimented with turkeys during another period. But, it was the chickens laying the eggs to fill her market basket that were rewarded with a new chicken-coop and top priority over the ducks and turkeys. They were only passing fancies!

Along with the eggs, Mom often had several pounds of fresh butter to deliver to her special customers in Conneautville. Occasionally, a few chickens were plucked and cleaned to go in her basket, too. One of the items often found in Mom's basket when she returned from her trip to town was jello. Before the days of electricity and refrigerators, jello would only "set" when the weather was cool, so it was a winter-time treat topped with fresh whipped cream and hickory nuts. She also made cottage cheese, which I detested as a child. When I would "put my nose up" at it, she would tell me I would learn to like it. I have. Today, it is usually what I eat for lunch and love it!

Mom baked stacks of pancakes each morning for breakfast and usually served them with fresh pork or sausage and our own maple syrup. The large wood stove in the kitchen was used to bake the pancakes, so Mom's first task of the day was to start a fire. The stove had two warming ovens above the cooking area and a huge oven for baking below. A water closet at one end of the stove and a tea kettle on the top of the stove furnished much of the hot water used in the kitchen.

Since the recent oil shortage, small wood stoves, bearing little resemblance to this one and used mostly for heating purposes, have become quite popular. Yes, history does repeat itself in many ways and for many reasons. When electrical appliances became available, Mom was slow to accept them, except for the washing machine, stove and sweeper. Small electrical appliances, such as a can opener, were gadgets she never accepted. There are some young moderns today who are using the old-fashioned can opener and their own energy. We may see more of this, too, in the future.

Life was never dull around Mom. I remember one sunny day after the men had returned to the fields in the afternoon, Mom told me to get cleaned up ---we were going to town. It was not her children's policy to ask why, or to question her decisions. We walked briskly to town. Mother, like most ladies of that era, always wore her hair long, parted in the center and pulled back in a neat bun, or twist, at the back of her neck. It was quite a shock to me when she walked boldly into the barber shop (no beauty salons in Conneautville in those days) and asked for a hair cut. Barber shops were frequented by men only and women around Conneautville did not wear their hair short. However, as I learned later, the short bob was high fashion for ladies in cities. The short bob surprised and, as I learned later after much kidding, pleased Dad. It was the topic of a telephone conversation between Mom and Anna Nelson that produced gales of laughter. They always had the best time talking on the old, wall telephones.

I often wonder how Mom and Dad had the energy, after a hard day's work, to go to the dances at Rundletown and Spring Center. They loved to dance and were considered good dancers. They won first prize for the best dancers in a waltz contest at Rundletown -- and, they were not young then! Dancing was a family activity we all enjoyed. Checkers and 500, a card game, produced some keen competition around the card table during the long winter evenings. The Grange was the source of much of the social life in that era. Mom and Dad were active members of Spring Grange and held many offices over the years. The Grange sponsored dances, card parties and an annual oyster supper on election night. They were always active in the PTA and school sponsored activities during the many years when they had children in school. After they sold the farm and moved to Conneautville, Mom belonged to the Rebekahs, as her mother had before her; she was a member of the Conneautville Methodist Church and attended Sunday School and Church regularly as long as she was able.

Mom was a good example of positive thinking. Late in life, it was found she was a diabetic and would have to have a shot each day. She could not administer the shot herself because of poor eye sight. She consented to allowing her daughter, Jennie Louise, to give her the shot for quite some time. Eventually her independent nature rebelled and she told Jen she was taking no more shots. Jen advised the doctor and he decided to let her try to take the medication orally. She did and it controlled the diabetes. Her independence, strong will and positive thinking were only a few of her good, admirable qualities that enhanced the lives of those around her. She was never one to complain. When it rained before she got the clothes off the line, or the kettle boiled over, her usual comment was "Oh, Shaw".

The following is from the Conneautville Courier:

Mrs. Harriet Nicolls, 86, of Conneautville, died at the Conneautville Nursing Home Tuesday, October 1, 1968, following a long illness.

She was born March 9, 1882, a daughter of Earl and Jennie Cheney Beebe. She married Sylvester Nicolls on March 2, 1899. Mrs. Nicolls was a member of the Valley United Methodist Church, Conneautville.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Howard (Ruth) Blair of Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Melvin (Erma) Connick of Conneautville; Mrs. Gertrude Dial of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Mrs. Bennett (Geraldine) Cody of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Mrs. Wilton (Marjorie) Ohl of Durham, N. C.; Mrs. William (Jennie) Stake of Conneautville; two sons, Lee Earl Nicolls of Tucson, Arizona, and Arthur Jay Nicolls of Conneautville; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Seward of Washington, D. C.; a brother, Gordon Beebe of Youngstown, Ohio; 17 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren. Preceding Mrs. Nicolls in death were a daughter, Mrs. Marian Shumaker and three sons, Carl, Glenn and Francis.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 Wednesday and from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Edward B. White Funeral Home. Services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Valley United Methodist Church with Rev. Richard Sanford, pastor, officiating. Interment will be at the Conneautville Cemetery. Family members ask that flowers be omitted and memorial contributions be made to Valley United Methodist Church.

MERRY CHRISTMAS & A HAPPY NEW YEAR and some information about your CHENEY and BEEBE ancestors.

Did you know that-----

1. In the records of the church of Roxbury, Massachusetts, written by the first pastor, who was the remarkable 'Apostle to the Indians' Rev. John Eliot, there is a very interesting list of the members, giving many personal sketches. The records show that William Cheney was a resident of Roxbury prior to 1640. (The Beebe Family, p. 15)
2. John Beebe of Broughton, Northamptonshire, England, and five of his children sailed for America in the spring of 1650, to join two of his sons who had preceded them by some two months. John never reached America. He died at sea, probably on May 18, 1650, the date of his Will. So the Beebe family in America was led and founded by the eldest son, John Beebe, Jr., who was 22 years of age, and his younger brothers and sisters. (The Beebe Family, p. 2)
3. Captain Ira Beebe fought in the French and Indian War and in 1777, he served in the Continental Army in the Revolutionary War.
4. Lieutenant Jonathan Beebe fought in the French and Indian War in 1757, with the 13th Company of the 10th Connecticut Regiment. He was the father of Captain Ira Beebe above.
5. Charles Beebe, Jr. was a widely known and prominent dairy farmer of Freedom Township, New York. (He was Harriet Beebe Nicolls' grandfather.) He bought forest land adjoining his father's (Charles Beebe, Sr.) farm on the south. He cleared the land with the aid of an axe, a yoke of oxen, and the sweat of his brow. By toiling early and late, teaching school in winter, and working the land in the warmer months, he succeeded in turning the forest land into a prosperous farm. Here he built a log house to which he brought his bride, Harriet Mead Beebe, in 1847. (The Beebe Family, p. 25)
6. William Beebe, American scientist and author, won fame for his deep-sea explorations. In 1934, he reached a depth of 3,028 feet in a bathysphere. (World Book, p. 722) Dr. William Beebe was Director of the Tropical Research Department of the New York Zoological Society and Honorary Curator of Birds. His bibliography includes 849 published items -- 24 books and 825 articles, reviews, and reports. Besides his Bibliography, I have collected the following books he wrote: A Log of the Sun, Edge of the Jungle, Book of Naturalists, and Nonsuch: Land of Water. The Book of Naturalists was dedicated to Laurance and Mary Rockefeller.
7. Lucius Beebe, elegant and outspoken author, gourmet and newspaper columnist, wrote for The New York Herald Tribune and the San Francisco Chronicle. He loved trains and owned a private railroad car which he furnished in the Victorian manner. I have three of the books he wrote on trains -- Highball, Trains in Transition, and Highliners. I also have a picture of his railroad car when he stopped in Youngstown, Ohio, on one of his trips west.
8. My Mother, Harriet Beebe Nicolls, rode a horse to school in Michigan because of the danger of bears in the woods.

THE TRAIN FAMILY

Time: 1634 - to a future date

Locations: Worcester County, Massachusetts
Hampshire County, Massachusetts
Urbana, New York
Greenwich, Massachusetts

Military Service: Isaac Train, was one of the "Green Mountain Boys". Revolutionary War.

Source of Information: The Beebe Family, 1650-1950, by David Chapin Beebe

The Connection: Elizabeth Train married Charles Beebe (8)

Note: I do not have enough information to give a lineage at this time. Elizabeth Train Beebe was a great-grandmother of Harriet Beebe Nicolls.

Further research produced this incomplete lineage of the Train Family:

Marjorie June Nicolls Ohl (8), dau. Harriet Beebe Nicolls (7), dau. Earl Augustus Beebe (6), s. Charles Beebe, Jr. (5), s. Elizabeth Train Beebe (4), dau. Isaac Train (3), s. ? Train (2), s. John Trayne (1), emigrant.

JOHN TRAYNE (1), the emigrant from whom our line comes, emigrated in 1634. The Trayne family moved about considerably in the area of Worcester and Hampshire Counties in Massachusetts. During this early period, the name was changed from Trayne to Train.

ISAAC TRAIN (3), probably a grandson of John Trayne (1), was born May 22, 1759 at Adams, Massachusetts. He married Elizabeth Cummings (or Cummins), who died January 18, 1857. Isaac died August 19, 1843 at Urbana, New York. They had nine children.

Children:	i	Sally Train	b.	November 11, 1780 at Gerry, now Phillipston, Mass.; m. Charles Beebe's older brother, Eli, Jr., and settled in Imlay City, Mich.
	ii	Heman Train	b.	July 2, 1782 at Adams, Mass.
	iii	Polly Train	b.	April 3, 1784 at Adams, Mass., m. John Stocking
	iv	John Train	b.	April 17, 1786 at Greenwich, Mass.
	v	Stephen Train	b.	August 31, 1788 at Greenwich
	vi	Rachel Train	b.	March 8, 1792 at Greenwich, m. John C. Caldwell
	vii	Susanna Train	b.	October 11, 1794 at Greenwich
	viii	Elizabeth Train	b.	March 12, 1795 at Greenwich, m. Charles Beebe, Sr.
	ix	Pamelia Train	b.	December 14, ?

Isaac Train served in the army during the Revolutionary War in the Massachusetts Troops and also as one of the "Green Mountain Boys". The Bureau of Pensions, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., issued a certificate November 17, 1904, describing his military service. Isaac Train was a Pensioner (authority, National Register of American Revolution, p. 223, no. 9430). Isaac Train's military service fixes the position of the descendants of Elizabeth Train Beebe with respect to eligibility in the DAR.
(The Beebe Family, pp. 10 and 11)

ELIZABETH TRAIN (4), d. Isaac Train (3), s. ? Train (2), s. John Trayne (1), was born March 12, 1795 at Greenwich, Mass., the eighth child of Isaac and Elizabeth Cummings Train. She married Charles Beebe, Sr., August 19, 1811. They had twelve children. Their third child, Charles Beebe, Jr., b. January 28, 1817, was the father of Earl Augustus Beebe, the father of Harriet Beebe Nicolls.

Part I of the Cheney Genealogy deals with William Cheney of Roxbury and his descendents; Part II is devoted to John Cheney of Newbury and his descendents. The Cheneys with whom we are concerned are descendents of William Cheney of Roxbury, Massachusetts. In the records of the Church of Roxbury, written by the first pastor, who was the remarkable 'Apostle to the Indians', Reverend John Eliot, there is a very interesting list of the members giving personal sketches.

The records show that William Cheney was a resident of Roxbury prior to 1640. John Cheney lived in Roxbury for a time prior to moving to Newbury, but there is no record of his having owned property in Roxbury. He may have lived for a time with William Cheney, who may have been a relative. Both families seem to have been illustrious. (The Beebe Family, p. 15)

JOSEPH CHENEY (2), s. William (1), was born June 6, 1647 at Roxbury, Mass. He married March 12, 1668 to Hannah Thurston, dau. of John and Margaret Thurston. She died December 29, 1690. Joseph married again, July 21, 1691 to Mehitable Plimpton, dau. of John and Jane Damon Plimpton. She died September 16, 1704. There were ten children by the first marriage and four by the second.

JOSIAH CHENEY (6), s. Ebenezer (5), s. Josiah (4), s. Josiah (3), s. Joseph (2), s. William (1)
 b. February 23, 1800 at Chesterfield, New Hampshire
 m. Harriet, dau. of Lyman Scott of Chesterfield, N. H.
 He resided in Chesterfield and had nine children. (p 127) The Beebe Book says they had seven children. Probably two died young.

GEORGE CHENEY (7), s. Josiah (6), s. Ebenezer (5), s. Josiah (4), s. Josiah (3), s. Joseph (2), s. William (1), was born January 15, 1824, probably at Sandusky, New York. He died June 10, 1886 at the age of 62. He married Maria Cornwell, dau. of Thomas J. and Elizabeth Cornwell, in 1859. They had two children.

Children:	i	Jennie Cheney	b. February 14, 1861 in Olean or Sandusky, New York, m. Earl Augustus Beebe
	ii	Ellsworth J. Cheney	b. 1862, d. 1918 at Olean, N. Y.

George Cheney was a veteran of the Civil War and was known as Captain Harry. (The Beebe Family, pp. 15 and 27)

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping, probably the Sandusky, New York paper:

Mrs. Maria Cheney died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl A. Beebe, in Conneautville, Pa., Wednesday, January 31, 1912, in her 78th year. The funeral was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Beebe, Friday afternoon. Rev. W. J. Small officiated. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot in the Sandusky Cemetery Saturday. Maria Cornwell (Cheney) was the daughter of Thomas J. and Elizabeth Cornwell and was born in the town of Freedom, N. Y., in 1834. She was united in marriage to the late George Cheney in 1859 and had always lived in the town of Freedom until about eight years ago when she went to live with her daughter.

Deceased was a member of the Baptist Church since early childhood and was an active church worker.

She leaves to mourn their loss one daughter, Mrs. E. A. (Earl) Beebe, of Conneautville, Pa., and one son, E. J. Cheney, of Sandusky, besides a large circle of relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth J. Cheney were at Conneautville, Pa., to attend the funeral and to accompany the family on their sad journey to this place. (Sandusky, N. Y.) Despite the bitter cold, relatives and friends gathered at the depot to take their last look at one who had been highly esteemed among them. They have many friends who sympathize with them in the loss of their dear mother. Mrs. Cheney and son of Franklinville, Chas. Cornwell of Olean, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. (Earl) Beebe of Conneautville, Pa., were here to attend the funeral.

I have Maria Cornwell Cheney's Bible. The leather cover is loose from the book and the pages show much wear. On the inside of the front cover her grand-daughter, Harriet Beebe Nicolls, wrote this message:

This Bible was the property of Mrs. Maria Cornwell Cheney and is 90 years old. When she passed away January 31, 1912, it became the property of Harriet B. Nicolls, her oldest grand-daughter. On this date, February 8, 1962, I purchased a new Bible and am putting this away for a needed rest. These pages have been read and reread. I trust someone will keep this as a keepsake. (Signed) Mrs. Harriet B. Nicolls

GEORGE CHENEY (7), s. Josiah (6), s. Ebenezer (5), s. Josiah (4), s. Josiah (3), s. Joseph (2), s. William (1)
 b. January 15, 1824, probably at Sandusky, N. Y. or Freedom, N.Y.
 m. Maria Cornwell, dau. of Thomas and Elizabeth Cornwell in

George Cheney was a veteran of the Civil War and was known as Captain Harry. He had two children, Jennie Cheney and Ellsworth J. Cheney. (The Beebe Book pp 15 and 27)

JENNIE CHENEY (8), dau. George (7), s. Josiah (6), s. Ebenezer (5), s. Josiah (4), s. Josiah (3), s. Joseph (2), s. William (1), was born February 14, 1861, probably at Sandusky, New York. She died June 1, 1929, at Conneautville, Pa. She married Earl Augustus Beebe, s. of Charles Beebe, Jr., October 13, 1881. They had five children.

Children:	i	Harriet Beebe	b. March 9, 1883, m. Sylvester E. Nicolls, s. Simon Chauncey and Louisa Shaw Nicolls
	ii	Arthur Beebe	b. January 1884; d. May 26, 1886
	iii	Elizabeth Beebe	b. August 4, 1886; m. William H. Seward
	iv	Lewis Beebe	b. April 1888; d. June 10, 1891
	v	Gordon Beebe	b. July 3, 1889; m. Helen Flickenger

The following was copied from a newspaper clipping dated June 5, 1929:

Mrs. Jennie Beebe died suddenly Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Will Seward in Summerhill Township near Conneautville, Pa., where she spent most of the time for the past several years. For some time she had been subject to heart attacks and it was one of these which she was taken and which resulted in her death after an illness of about an hour.

She was 68 years of age and was born in Sandusky, N. Y., coming here 34 years ago to make her home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Sylvester Nicolls, of Spring Township and Mrs. Seward, and one son, Gordon Beebe, of Poland, Ohio. There are thirteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Her only brother died about three months ago, and one nephew, Arthur Cheney, only survives.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Cheney Beebe were held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Seward, Summerhill Township, Tuesday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. A. M. Lockwood of Conneautville. A large attendance of friends and relatives was present and many floral tributes were in evidence.

Interment was made in the Conneautville Cemetery, the bearers being Arthur Cheney, G. W. Kysor, Gordon Beebe, Howard Blair, Melvin Connick, and Lee Earl Nicolls.

Jennie Cheney Beebe had one brother, Ellsworth J. Cheney. The following from a newspaper clipping tells of his death:

The funeral of Ellsworth J. Cheney, county superintendent of the poor, who died at the county home Friday night, was held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the county home at Machias, N. Y. Rev. Thomas Colley of Little Valley officiated. Burial was in the family plot at Curriers.

The funeral was attended by about 250 people including a delegation from the county Board of Supervisors and many other county officials.

This newspaper clipping is in regards to the death of the son of Ellsworth Cheney and the nephew of Jennie Cheney Beebe:

George Arthur Cheney, son of Ellsworth and Lillian Clark Cheney, was born at Sandusky, N. Y., August 28, 1885. Practically his whole life was spent in the town where he was born, with the exception of three years at Machias, N. Y., where he was associated with his father in the management of the County Home.

He was united in marriage July 15, 1908, to Lillie Farmer, Arcade, N. Y. They lived to the utmost a happy and devoted life. Failing health about three years ago caused him to retire from active life and move from the farm to the village of Sandusky. He was usually well until the night of December 21, 1932, when he was seized with a heart attack, dying immediately.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. R. Riley, LeRoy, N. Y. Interment in the family plot at Curriers, N. Y.

Surviving are his wife, a beloved aunt, Miss Blanche Clark, Rochester, N. Y., his stepmother, Alice M. Cheney of Little Valley, and an uncle, Arthur Clark, Hollywood, California.

The Cheney Genealogy, by Charles Henry Pope, was first published in 1897. The information I used on pages 259-265 of the Nicolls Family was taken from The Beebe Family book because I could not locate a copy of The Cheney Genealogy. The information in the Beebe Book was accurate because there were several marriages between the two families. Finally, in 1986, under the auspices of the Parker River Researchers, Newburyport, Mass., The Cheney Family was reprinted and I was able to purchase a copy from Goodspeed's Book Shop in Boston. The following information I found especially interesting and want to share it with you.

The word "chene" means oak in French, thus William of the oak. During the period when New England was being settled, there were a score, or more, families in England by the name of Cheney, or various modifications of the word "chene".

Two Pilgrims, William Cheney of Roxbury and John Cheney of Newbury, relationship unknown, were settlers in the Massachusetts Bay Colony in the late 1630s. (pp 17 and 199) Both families are recorded in the records of the Rev. John Eliot, the Apostle to the Indians. (pp 18 and 199) Our ancestor, William, owned 24 1/2 acres of land, showing that he was above the average in wealth. (p 17) His wife, Margaret, joined the Church of Roxbury several years before her husband according to the records of Rev. John Eliot.

The Roxbury Land records give detailed descriptions of other lands, bought and sold, by William Cheney. (pp19 and 20)

The town records reveal that William Cheney was a subscriber to the founding, in 1645, of the Roxbury Free School. He was chosen as a member of the board of directors of the school and he was elected to the board of assessors of the infant borough. Later, the inhabitants of Roxbury chose William Cheney as a Deacon and on January 19, 1656, he was elected to the board of selectmen. In May, 1666, he became eligible to colonel office and privileged to vote on matters relating to the general government.

The town clerk made this entry in the town records: "William Cheney, aged 63 yeares, died June the 30 day 1667". A similar entry was also made in the Roxbury Church records by the Rev. John Eliot.

A copy of his WILL is on pages 24, 25, and 26, followed by an Inventory of the Goods and Estate of William Cheney on pages 26,27, and 28.

Margaret Cheney, the wife of William Cheney, receives quite a bit of attention in the book and my sympathy. Life was not easy in those days!! Medical practice was very stupid in that period; and it is not astonishing that public opinion on the subject of sickness was very erroneous, often absurd, sometimes cruel. (p 28)

Even the pastors frequently applied their religious opinions to the sick in ways which appear grotesque and sad. The following item from the Roxbury Church record shows how an overworn and nervously prostrated Mother in the community was looked upon by those who truly loved her, but who completely misunderstood her case.

"1673, 24.3^m. Margaret Cheney, widow having been long bound by Satan under a melancholick distemper, (above 10 or 11 yeares) made her wholly neglect her Calling and live mopishly, this day gave thanks to God for loosing her chain and confessing and bewailing her sinful yielding to temptation. (pp 28, 29)

She appears to have recovered from the "nervous prostration" six years after her husband's death. During that time, her eldest son, Thomas, left his Cambridge farm to the care of others, and lived with his Mother in the Roxbury homestead. A few years later, Margaret married a Mr. Burge, or Burges. Their wedded bliss could not have endured long, for in a deed of some property in the latter part of 1679, she was described as a widow.

Margaret later moved to Boston, leaving the Roxbury Church April 9, 1682, and was received in the South Church, Boston, May 19, 1682. Each clerk recording her as the "widow Cheney". She died in Boston, but was laid by her former husband at Roxbury, July 3, 1686, with a suitable prayer offered, we may suppose, by the venerable "Apostle Eliot" for the Church has this entry: 1686 M. 5. d. 3. Aged Sist. Cheney buried. (p 31)

| 7. Joseph | b. in Roxbury, June 6, 1647, m. March 12, 1668, Hannah, dau. of John and Margaret Thurston. She died December 29, 1690, 2nd marriage July 21, 1691, to Mehitabel, dau. of John and Jane Damon Plimpton. Joseph moved to Medfield after his father's death. Described to have been a very upright and excellent man. He and his second wife were "received to full communion" in the church Sept. 26, 1697. He died Sept. 16, 1704. Joseph is our direct ancestor in the 2nd generation of the Cheney family in America. |

Joseph fathered fourteen children.

The WILL of Joseph Cheney of Medfield is found on pages 43 and 44, followed by an inventory of his estate showing that he owned 300 acres of land at the time of his death.

JOHANNAS HEINRICH VON DER OHLER (1), b. 1704, in Switzerland; d. 1785 in Northampton County, Pennsylvania, m. Nancy ? and had ten children. He was naturalized March 29, 1752. First settled in New York, staking claims to land granted to them by Queen Anne in what is now downtown New York City. They were later deprived of their lands by fraud on the part of the governor of New York. Because of this and other unfair practices, they went, on foot, in the winter to Pennsylvania where they found a haven and a welcome among the German settlers already there.

Between 1735-1740, Henry, as he was called in the Colony of Pennsylvania, served as an elder in the Reformed Church of Heidelberg, Pa. In 1741, he returned to Selicia and to Switzerland in a futile attempt to regain estates seized during religious persecutions. He returned on the ship Francis and Elizabeth and landed in Philadelphia in September 1742.

The Lehigh County history states that Henry Ohl owned all the land where Saegerville now stands and that he was the richest and most respected man in the settlement.

ULSTER EMIGRATION TO COLONIAL AMERICA by R. J. Dickson

Early in the 17th century with the plantation of part of Ulster, the most fertile lands passed by degrees into the hands of English and Scotch settlers leaving only the mountainous regions to the native Irish. (p.2)

The chief North Irish ports where Presbyterianism flourished were: Londonderry, Portrush, Larne and Belfast. The ports served counties of Londonderry, Antrim, the eastern part of Donegal and the northern part of Down. The fifth port, Newry, served the bulk of Ulster's non-Presbyterian emigrants. (p 4)

Large scale north Irish emigration to American colonies began in 1718. Emigration became an epidemic in localities (N.E. Ireland) if the minister sponsored it. Get book: Scotch-Irish Pioneers in Ulster and America, by C. K. Bolton. (p5)

Traditionally, Scotch-Irish are noted for keeping the Sabbath and everything else they can lay their hands on. (p6)

England restricted Ireland so that by 1715, the Irish woolen manufacture was but a memory. Irish linen manufacture was the only thing tolerated in the northern counties. During most of the 18th century, linen exports totaled half the value of all of Ireland's exports. By 1770, weavers in County Antrim and other N. Ireland counties produced 4/5 of all the linen marketed in Ireland. (p7)

1773 was a year of depression in the linen trade. Higher rents and land price increases resulted in poverty for many. (p9)

By 1775, flaxseed comprised half the value of Irish imports from the American colonies, including Newfoundland, Bahamas, and Bermuda. Custom records show linen exports from Belfast were 2,500; Newry 6,500 and Londonderry 6,000. (p10)

Wheat and oats, the main crops of N. Ireland, did not rise in price during the period of great increases in rents and land. (p11)
5 or 6 acres was considered "a good farm". (Family subsistence) (p12)

Between 1710 and 1770, the price of linen cloth advanced by only 20%. (p12)

Rents, prices and wages determined the extent of N. Irish emigration. Roman Catholic tenants were preferred by many landlords because of their docility and acceptance of the addition of more duties by the landlord which Protestants would not submit to. Thus the Papists got most of the farm lands. (p13)

Absentee Irish Landlords who went abroad in search of luxury angered the N. Irish tenants (The Hearts of Steel) causing them to protest in the 1770s against increasing rents. (p14)

In 1636, 140 persons set out from Belfast for New England on board the Eagle Wing. Atlantic storms persuaded them their journey had not divine favor and they returned to Ireland after having been more than half way across the Atlantic. (p19)

ULSTER EMIGRATION TO COLONIAL AMERICA by R. J. Dickson

From about 1680, a trickle of North Irish emigrants arrived in the American Colonies, mostly from the Laggan and Foyle valleys (County Donegal) and landing on lands bordering the Chesapeake Bay. (p20)

A small number from Northern Ireland arrived in Boston between 1715 and 1717. After 1717, emigration from northeastern counties of Ireland drained their protestant inhabitants during the next 50 years. (p21)

New England, Pennsylvania and New York were the destination of Scotch-Irish in 1720 (most to Boston, but a few even to islands off South Carolina. (p23)

Between 1715-1720, drought ruined crops, food prices were far above means of many; small pox and other diseases rampant. (p29)

3,500 from Ulster landed in America between 1725-1727 -- mostly at Newcastle and Philadelphia. (p32)

In July 1728, 25 ships were preparing to leave Londonderry for America with 3,500 emigrants. Over 4,000 Irish landed at Delaware ports in 1729. About 2/3 of Irish emigrants entered via Delaware ports. (p33)

5,655 Irish entered through Boston in 1729, but this info is considered doubtful by some. (p34)

Farmers deplored paying rents to the Landlord and tithes to the clergy. The rector had a person to collect the tithes causing tithes to be much higher than if the rector collected them himself. (p39)

1727-28-29 famine, rioting, poor crops, high rents, and starvation were rampant. Thousands left Northern Ireland for England looking for work. (p42)

A Mr. Browne established a settlement of north Irish weavers at Monilla in County Mayo, in 1732, and it was hoped that other gentlemen in south Ireland would do likewise since northern counties were so populated, that large numbers emigrated to America. (p47) 1730 they had a good harvest; less emigration. In the 1730s, the South Carolina colony paid passenger's fees, and gave them land to emigrant from Belfast to Charleston.

Severe winter 1740, ruined the potato crop; acute famine followed leaving tens of thousands dead in Ireland. Britain was at war; enemy fleets and privateers were an additional peril in crossing the Atlantic. Between 1740-1746, the privateer, William and Mary, advertised for passengers to sail from Belfast and Larne to Philadelphia. (p52)

Between 1741 and 1760, emigration was sporadic and local. (p53)

Emigration was heaviest from Northern Ireland in 1773. (p59)

ULSTER EMIGRATION TO COLONIAL AMERICA by R. J. Dickson

The term "passenger" was used in advertisements to distinguish emigrants who paid for their passage from those who emigrated as indentured servants, or redemptioners. Most of the North Irish emigrants in the early 1770s made the journey at their own expense. In 1774-75 families and friends were reuniting before the storm of the Revolution broke. (p65)

Much of the emigration was caused by the great turn over of land leases in 1769 and 1770, resulting in higher rents. (p73)

The Linen industry declined, high rents and starvation caused distress in N. Ireland. The linen industry break down had a great effect on emigration. Robert Stephenson, inspector to the trustees of the linen manufacture told a committee of the British House of Commons that almost everyone of the 30,000 emigrants from Ireland in 1772-73 were linen workers. The lack of food was also a reason for emigrating. (p78)

There were two classes of emigrants...voluntary emigrants and those sent as convicts. (p85)

N. Ireland counties served by northern ports were Antrim, Armagh, Down, Londonderry and Tyrone. (p85)

The decade before 1771 had been one of unprecedented prosperity in the linen trade and the fruits of those years of relative plenty enabled many N. Irish people to sail to the west in pursuit of a better life. Reports of Parliament in 1774 from Belfast, Lisburn and Newry were unanimous on one point -- those who were emigrating were paying passengers of the middle class. (p97)

Ports used by the majority of N. Ireland emigrants were: 1. Belfast, 2. Londonderry, 3. Newry, 4. Larne and 5. Portrush. (p)

Vessels carried flaxseed and flour from America in the spring and returned to America with linen and emigrants from N. Ireland in time for the flaxseed market in November and December. (p112)

The Providence and the Rainbow accounted for 16 of the 20 sailings from Portrush to the American colonies between 1762, when the vessels were built, and 1772, when the Rainbow made it's last voyage. The Providence sailed annually to N. Y.; the Rainbow to Philadelphia. (p112)

Vessels from Larne:	James and Mary,	12 sailings between 1764-1775
	William and George	8 "	" 1754-1762
	Jupiter	2 "	" 1770-1774
	Lord Dunluce	4 "	" 1772-1775
	Betty	4 "	" 1772-1775 (p113)

Vessels from Londonderry sailing in 1773:

King George	Betty	Henry
Phenix	Minerva	Prince of Wales
Marquis of Granby	Mary	Hannah	(p114)

Wallsworth	Alexander

Elliott	Newry	Newry Packet
Betsy	Britannia	Newry Assistance

Vessels from Belfast:

Prince of Wales	Liberty & Prosperity	Countess of Donegal
Friendship	Two Peggys	Earl of Donegal	(p115)

Bounty land, or grants, of 50 acres for each member of a migrating family was common in 1755. 100 acres per head of family - especially cheap land in Nova Scotia. Few N. Irish settled in Nova Scotia at that time because of hostile Indians and Frenchmen. (p135)

Sir William Johnston's lands in the Mohawk valley advertised at 50 S per 100 acres under lease, or 5 per 100 acres held in fee simple. (From Belfast News Letter, Nov. 12, 1754.) (p139)

Land promoters were common. Robert Edwards, land promoter, sought Irish settlers of Mass. to settle two townships in 1720. Samuel Waldo, adventurer and land speculator, and merchant of S. Boston, sought Irish settlers in 1733-1736. He owned 2/3 of the Lincolnshire Company. Arthur Dobbs served a term as Gov. of N. C. in 1752, owned part interest in 60,000 acres of what is now Mecklenburg and Cabarrus Counties; and with McCulloch, was granted 60,000 acres in New Hanover County, N. C.. He sought Irish settlers and servants for his land about 1745-1755. However, settlers from Pa. and VA were moving south "and set down any place they took a fancy", plant and live until the owner claimed the land. Then they would usually purchase it. Settlers were advised to bring over plenty of oat meal from Ireland to see them through the first winter. Most of his settlers were from County Antrim. (p130)

Vessels usually took 5 to 10 weeks to pass the Atlantic in the 1750s. (p132)

Alexander McNutt, native of Londonderry, emigrated to America 1750. He settled at Staunton, VA. Sought settlers for Nova Scotia, N. H., Mass., R.I., Conn., N. Y., PA, and VA in 1760. He sought settlers from N.W. Ulster around Londonderry in 1760-62. (p134) Philadelphia monopolized Londonderry emigrants in early 1760s. (p. 145) More emigrant vessels left the north Irish ports in 1773 than in any previous year. Debrissy sought passengers for vessel John & James from N. orthern ports to St. John Island -- Too cold, rats, unfavorable reports got back to Ireland in 1772. (p162)

Mathew REA lived near the village of Drumbo in County Down; little known of background; thought to have been a small land owner or substantial farmer; emigration agent for about 10 years; Brother, John REA, emigrated from Maghreenock, near Ballynahinch in County Down, to S.C. in 1729 or 1730 and thru Mathew advertised for servants in 1763. Indentured servants sailed on the FALLS or the PRINCE OF WALES from Belfast to Charleston. JOHN REA was granted 50,000 acres on Ogeechee River in Queensboro County, now Burke County, about 40 miles from Augusta. JOHN REA sought north Irish settlers for his lands offering 50 acres per settler and additional 50 acres to head of family. Vessels often stopped at Philadelphia on return trip to Ireland. 1769 was a successful emigration year for REA, ALSO 1773.. He sent a vessel to Philadelphia and NY in 1774 according to Belfast News Letter, 2-14-1774. Name of vessel was the Peace and Plenty; 400 emigrants aboard. (p172)

ULSTER EMIGRATION TO COLONIAL AMERICA by R. J. Dickson

Between 1763 and 1775, because of the threat of the French advancing down the Hudson and granting of huge blocks of land yet unsettled, New York became the hot spot for emigration. (p173) NOTE: According to the paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls, William Nicolls, wife, and two sons, Simon and William, were in New York when Howe took possession of New York. (1776)

Peter Vandervort went to Ireland to seek tenants for estates he acquired in the Hudson River Valley in 1764. Vessels John, Venus, Buchanan and Britania sailed in 1765-66. (p174)

No records of vessels leaving Londonderry for New York in 1774-75. William Smith encouraged emigrants in Ireland to go to New York in 1773. (From Newry) Vessel Needham sailed with 300 emigrants aboard from Newry to Philadelphia and New York in 1773. (p176)

June 7, 1773, about 2,000 emigrants aboard the Alexander, Hannah, Wallworth, and Jupiter sailed from Londonderry to Philadelphia. (p179)

Clearance papers for 1700-1800 emigrants were refused by George McCartney, collector for the Port of Belfast. He justified his action on the statutes forbidding the export of wool from Ireland. (Wool in this case were blankets for the immigrants voyage.) (p190)

Attempts by the Irish government and landlords to curb emigration ended abruptly and were not renewed until 1773, when France was such a power in America and growing unrest in the British colonies in America influenced the attitude in London regarding emigration. (p191)

In 1773, every check within the power of government was used to stop the flow of emigrants in the King's dominion. (p195)

Many hardships suffered by emigrants because of the unpunctual departure of ships. Some left a month late. (p203)

Pages 201-220 describe the voyages to America, the ships, space very limited, scarcity of food, diseases, etc. By 1774, 6 vessels had port holes between decks, a great help overcoming the stagnant air. Children and pregnant women suffered and died most often. When a ship was doomed, the crew took to a long boat and a yawl and left the passengers to do down with the ship. (p201-220)

Ship destination to "West Indies" was broad and inclusive in the 1700s. It often included Newfoundland, New England, and New York. Actually, Irish emigrants to the West Indies Islands were mostly Catholic Irish from south Ireland. (p221)

Most North Irish emigrants sailed to Philadelphia. On the eve of the Revolution, Franklin estimated the north Irish comprised 1/3 of ~~the population of~~ Pennsylvania's 350,000 people and occupied more than half the seats in the Assembly of the Pennsylvania Colony. New York was the 2nd largest N. Irish group of emigrants. (p224)

State papers relating to Ireland are disappointing. A few references to emigration between 1728-1731 and 1771-1774. Check British Colonial Office papers. British Museum's earliest list of Irish emigrants is 1803-1805. (p292)

In 1771, a vessel named Pennsylvania's Farmer, left Newry for Philadelphia carrying 300 tons and 300 passengers.

In 1772, a vessel named Friendship sailed.

In 1775, the Liberty sailed from Newry to Philadelphia carrying 500 tons. Agents securing emigrants for this sailing were Jas. Ogle, John Hoope, and John REA. John REA, Hoope's brother-in-law sailed on this voyage setting sail April 10th. (p279)

The name John REA causes me to wonder if the two sisters by the name of REAY that our two brothers, Simon and William Nicolls of the 2nd generation in America married could be part Irish, too. Their first names were Annatache and Catharina, which sounds Dutch. Their family was living in the Mohawk Valley in New York State, the area the Nicolls family traveled through after the Revolutionary War to get to Locke, N. Y., where they owned several 50 acre plots. (I wonder, too, if these plots of 50 acres were granted to them for emigrating. (See William Nicolls' WILL.)

Matthew REA, brother of John REA, lived near the village of Drumbo in County Down, North Ireland. See p164 for more info.

John REA sent a vessel named Peace and Plenty, to Philadelphia and New York in 1774, with 400 emigrants aboard. (P172) He offered 50 acres per emigrant plus 50 more acres to head of family.

I have encountered many references to the Nicolls family in America in the early 1600s. It is interesting to note the individuals who spelled the name "Nicolls" as we do were originally from England -- Gov. Richard Nicolls, Matthias Nicolls, William Nicolls, Edward Nicolls, Francis, etc. Perhaps, in the middle of the seventeenth century, one of our ancestors was one of the 20,000 English in the Ulster population in northern Ireland.

The name of our emigrant ancestor, William Nicolls, was a fairly common name during the Revolutionary War period. There are at least six men with the name "William Nicolls" listed in the DAR Patriot Index (1966).

William Nicolls, b. 1744, d. 1792, m. Martha Smith
William Nicolls, b. 1739, d. after 1795, m. Kezia Fitts, Pvt., Mass.
William Nicolls, b. 1756, d. 1795, m. Frances Smith, N. Y.
William Nicolls, b. 1754, d. 1804
William Nicolls, b. 1733, d. after 1787, m. Sarah Hall, Pvt., R. I.
William Nicolls, b. 1746, d. 1810, m. Thankful Barbour, R. I.

With the information I have now, I do not believe any of the above was our William Nicolls (1) or (2). However, Simon Nicolls (2), listed as follows, I believe to be our Simon (2):

Simon Nicolls, N. Y., See Am. State Papers, Class 9, p. 94. (Simon, N. Y., (S43077))

So far I have been unsuccessful in learning the background of William (1). I placed an ad in the Genealogical Exchange section of The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record requesting information about his background, parentage, etc. The ad was placed in August, 1980, and has just been published in the January, 1981, issue. His name has also been sent to The Genealogical Helper in Logan, Utah, to be entered in computerized "Roots" Cellar. Over 45,000 names have been entered, but because of the demand for this service, they have a backlog of names (about 1 year) to be entered. Hopefully, William's name will be entered this year!

Middle names were not commonly used; William Harrison Nicolls of our fourth generation in America was the first of our male ancestors to be so blessed.

To help future researchers of the Nicolls family, I am including a few of the references I have encountered.

September 18, 1979

Dear Bev and Don,

I was delighted to hear from you and to receive the list of Nicolls' families in America. I intend to send some forms to some of them this week to see if they are of the same ancestral background. Thank you for sending them to me. I'm sorry you are disappointed in the book you ordered. Pete received a letter from a lady in Pa. saying she had a list of all the Ohl families in the U. S. and was publishing a book @ $19.98. After reading her letter the second time we decided she was leaving most of the research up to someone else --like the buyer of the book. His family has a history published in 1951 for the years 1710-1951 so he didn't send for the book.

Gathering information on a large family for two hundred years is almost a full time job -- and, I'm enjoying every bit of it. It is like a large puzzle getting everyone in the right place. I am now in the process of making family trees hoping to have one for each of my Father's sisters and brothers families and one for each of my brothers and sisters families. I thought I was doing it the quick way by drawing it on drafting paper and having blueprints made but I noticed how quickly they were fading so I am having to go over each one with black ink. The result is definitely not a work of art but it will put some of the information into hands of each branch of the family. If anyone is interested in making a work of art out of a family tree they can copy the information.

Along with the family tree, I am working on gathering and compiling all the information I can find on each person on the family tree. I am pleased with the information I have found on some of our ancestors - like the will of William Nicolls of the second generation in America which verifies the information on a paper written by my Grandfather Nicolls in 1905. No trouble tracing our family back to 1775. However, I have names of Nicolls' in America prior to 1775 that I believe are family but unable to prove it at this point.

I never fully appreciated Mom's family background until I started poking around in history books, etc. As a result, I have collected three books on trains by Lucius Beebe and have just recently received Edge of the Jungle by William Beebe from Goodspeed's Book Store in Boston. In checking the in-print books at the library, I discovered the 1904 history of the Beebe family is available again - so, I ordered it.

Duke Power Company just arrived to cut down a couple large pine trees in our front yard that hang over their lines so I better skip this chatter about our family tree and make sure they cut the right trees in our yard.

Hope all is well with you. Many thanks for the list of names.

Love,

Marge All

Dear Alan and Bev,

Since much of my spare time this past year has been used to gather information about the Nicolls family, I decided to share some of the information this Holiday Season in the shape of a family tree. As you will see, it is not a work of art. The drafting was a bit messy and started to fade when exposed to light so I went over each copy with black ink.

The three primary sources of information about our early beginnings in America are:

1. A paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5) dated July 20, 1905
2. The WILL of William Nicolls (2), Cayuga County, New York, Will Book A: 319, Box 6, dated 12-23-1809. This gives the names and ages of his children and verifies the information in the paper by Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5).
3. A family tree belonging to Jennie Nicolls Coursen Woodard (6) which I copied in the early 1930's.

Newspaper clippings, correspondence and forms returned with requested information about the living generations are the main sources for generations (7) through (10).

The story of the Nicolls family is an interesting one. Presently, I am researching a Rev. Matthias Nicolls; his son, Matthias Nicolls, b. March 29, 1626, at Plymouth, England, and d. circa 1688, in New York City; his son, William Nicolls, b. 1657 in England, married Anne Van Rensselaer (famous Hudson River Dutch family) in 1693 and d. in May, 1723, at Long Island, N. Y. He came to America in 1664 and was Attorney General, State of New York, 1687, and New York Provincial Agent to England to discuss the colony's defenses in 1695. He had nine children. Could he be the grandfather of our William Nicolls (1)?

Your enclosed copy of the Nicolls Family 1775-1979 is Copy Number 21. I would appreciate receiving additional information, thoughts, memories, etc. Corrections and additions, too, please!

Have a Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!

Love, Marge

January 28, 1980

Dear Don and Bev,

In regards to your letter of January 2nd questioning the "Ireland trunk", all I can do is quote from the paper of Simon Chauncey Nicolls (5) dated July 20, 1905 as follows: "William Nicolls and wife and two sons came from Ireland. He and the two sons, Simon and William, were in the army when Howe took possession of New York." I, too, do not understand it. In researching the background of our family, I have found many William Nicolls' with English backgrounds. I can almost put together a very desirable ancestral background except for one missing link, which I am working on, as follows:

Rev. Matthias Nicolls (1) m. Martha Oakes Matthias Nicolls (2), s. Rev. Matthias (1), b. March 29, 1626, Plymouth, Eng.
d. Circa 1688 in N. Y.
m. Abigail Johns
William Nicolls (3), s. Matthias (2), b. 1657 in England
d. 1723 at Long Island, N. Y.
m. 1693 to Anne Van Rensselaer
William (3) and Anne had nine children. Presently, I am waiting for requested information about their nine children.

I have heard my Father say we are Scotch-Irish and Dutch on the Nicolls side. The Van Rensselaer family was a famous Hudson River Dutch family that would take care of anyone's dutch ancestry nicely. Maybe we will be so lucky!

I feel the paper by Simon (5) is probably correct regarding coming from Ireland. The WILL of William (2) verifies most of the rest of the paper in regards to names of children, etc. If the above background proves to be ours, it may be because of the turmoil in England, Scotland and Ireland during the middle of the 17th century when there were about 100,000 Scotch and 20,000 English in the Ulster population of northern Ireland. Both the native and recently imported stock seemed to multiply vigorously and became known as "Scotch-Irish".

All the three men above were involved in governmental work for England in the American colonies and were definitely of the "upper class". Londonderry was the nearest port of embarkation for the Scotch-Irish leaving for the colonies and I hope to research more ship lists on my next trip to Duke or the N. C. State Library in Raleigh. Saturday, I checked the N. Y. census records for 1800 and 1820 and came up with more William Nicolls's!!! Very confusing.

In checking Burke's General Armory, I learned the surname Nicolls appears to be patronymical in origin, and is believed to be associated with the English and Irish, meaning, "son of Nicol, a form of Nicholas, (people, victory)." Variations of spelling are Nicoll, Nicolle and Nicol.

Anyway, as you can see, I have a lot of research to do before I can hope to put the whole thing together. However, I'm enjoying it --- and, perhaps by the end of this year it will be ready to publish.

I can't sign off before I tell you about my most recent find. In trying to verify more of the Simon Nicolls' paper and also hoping to get some books published by some of the Beebes, I sent a list of books wanted to Goodspeed's Book Store in Boston. One of the books requested was the Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909. They were able to obtain a copy for me. It has over 600 pages and gives the background of Simon Nicolls (3) wife, Polly Gleason. I also got three books by William Beebe, the famous naturalist. I love to see the mailman come with all the goodies!

I think a Nicolls Reunion would be great. It would be so nice to see everyone. We had a pleasant surprise last week when Karen Cody called me from Atlanta where she was helping with a trade show at the Omni. She flew into Raleigh/Durham airport Tuesday night, had dinner with us and spent the night with us, and then went on to a meeting at Chapel Hill at the University of N. C. the next day. We had not seen Karen for 13 years. She, too, is very interested in our history and family tree. I know she was exhausted when she left Wednesday morning for her meeting for we talked until late, late into the night and she read some of the history.

Hope all is well with you and your family. Pass the word around to please keep me informed of family news. If I should get it ready by the end of the year, I want it to be up-to-date.

Love,
Dorothy

THE NICOLLS FAMILY

Fillmore - Nicolls Relationship

In the letter on page 33 of Ten Generations of the Nicolls Family in America, Wm. Porter states in the last paragraph that 'one of the nephews (of Simon Nicolls) is a remote connection of our worthy President'. The letter was dated October 9, 1850, only a short time after President Taylor died suddenly of typhoid fever July 9, 1850, and Vice President Millard Fillmore became President of the United States.

A possible solution to this remote connection (indeed!) may be on page 192 of The Gleason Genealogy, 1607-1909. Susanna Gleason (6), dau. Joseph (5), s. Isaac (4), s. Joseph (3), s. Joseph (2), s. Thomas (1) b. May 7, 1766; m. Simeon, s. Nathaniel and Hepzibah Fillmore.

According to The World Book Encyclopedia, page 2536, Millard Fillmore was the son of Nathaniel and Phoebe Millard Fillmore. He was born January 7, 1800, at Locke, Cayuga County, New York. The family had moved to New York State from Bennington, Vermont, where the Fillmores had lived for several generations. Susanna Gleason Fillmore died December 31, 1825, at Bennington, Vermont. If this is the connection, it is through the relationship of Susanna Gleason Fillmore and Polly Gleason Nicolls, wife of Simon Nicolls (3).

+ I-William Nicolls b. c. 1730 { was Scotch/Irish} in Northern Ireland known as Ulster, Presbyterians/Protestant and Revolutionary War veteran m. left had two sons: 1- Simon Nicolls 2-William Nicolls. (see Marjorie Ohls paper page 10-) According to Simon Chauncey Nicolls paper dated July 20, 1905, William, wife and two sons Simon and William came from Ireland page 18. William (1) ^{was} Scotch-Irish and were referred to as Irish when they immigrated in the 1700's. The hyphen was used later to distinguish them from the Catholic Irish who immigrated in the nineteenth century. It is believed that they left from Londonderry. Most went to Pennsylvania.

Copied from The History of Crawford County, Pa. pg. 1037

Seneca Nicolls; farmer, blacksmith, and dealer in pressed hay, P.O. Conneautville, was born in Locke, Cayuga County, New York, November 18, 1817; son of Simon and Polly Gleason Nicolls, natives of New York State and parent of five children; the former, a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church Died in 1844; the latter, who was Presbyterian, died in 1823. Simon Nicolls was a soldier in the War of 1812; his father William Nicolls was in the Revolutionary. Sylvester his oldest brother was a soldier in the Mexican War and for a further five years after termination of that was served in the United State Army. He moved to present farm of some 400 acres in 1856. Besides farming, he carries on a wagon and blacksmith shop. He is a member of the E.A.U.; and is a republican.

The will of Seneca Nicolls, recorded May 20, 1897, Will Book "H", p. 714, Crawford Co. Court House, Meadville, Pa. See Marjorie Ohlms notes. pg. 60.

9. Larry born 25 Aug 1956 in Sioux City, Ia. He married Liz Anderson.

Ardith divorced Harold 15 Jun 1951 because he had a bad alcohol problem and wouldn't go get help. Harold lived with other women, then he married a few other times, but I don't know their names. The last woman he was living with him in a mobil trailer caught on fire. The propane tank had a leak-killing them both in the fire.

Person 150. Theodore married 16 May 1936 to Leota Allen. He died while working on his car it fell on him. The car crushed his head & chest-killing him. They had one son: Theodore Charles-born 1940 in Sioux City, Ia. He was 2yrs. old when his dad died.

Person 151. Virgil married 28 Apr 1936 to Louise Jensen. They had two children: 1. Earl born in Sioux City, Ia. Now living in Omaha, Neb.

2. Hazel (her nickname is Cookie) born in Sioux City, Ia. She now lives in Virginia Beach, Va.

Person 152. Orville and Theodore married with a double wedding at Elk Point, S.D. Orville died 12 Aug 1990 in Sioux City, Ia.

Page 146. Person 154. Elgie (my father), 1st married Lorraine. She had been married once before to Gus A. Paklonsky. They had one child: Richard Lee born 6 Mar 1942 in Sioux City, Ia? Then (Rich) was two yrs. old when his dad died in the service of alcohol. After the death of Gus, Elgie married Lorraine. Never adopted Rich. Lorraine was born 22/27 Dec 1928 in So. Sioux, Dakota, Neb.

They married 17 Dec 1950 in Merville, Woodbury, Ia. They had four children and when she was nine months pregnant with this fourth child, she and Elgie were in the back seat of a car wreck which put her in labor. While she was in the hospital she asked to see Rich. She told him that she was not coming home. (Rich was eight years old). He finally broke down and told her that Elgie had been molesting him. She told him to tell everyone, in which he did. But no one would believe him, except Great Grandma Isabell Austin. She took him in and then she raised him and so we didn't ever see much of Rich. Two days after the baby was born she died of cerebral hemorrhage. This was so difficult for Elgie to handle (even he was hurt in the wreck-with smashed up legs) he blamed the baby for the death of Lorraine. So his brother Virgil raised him till he was five, then Elgie finally realized he was wrong and took the child back. Virgil at this time was ready to adopt the boy but Elgie wouldn't let it happen. To this day, the two brothers fight over the boy trying to win his love.

The four children are:

Page 185. Person 238. Lenice Marie born 27 Jul 1951 in Sioux City, Woodbury, Ia. When she was about 4-5 yrs. old, she had heart sygery. Never has had trouble since. She married 1. Charles Hagestrom Jr. 29 May 1970 in Sioux City, Ia. She divorced him 1977 cause to a bad gambling problem. One day he pointed a gun to her head and said give me your money. This was all she could take so she divorced him. They had one son: Nicholas George born 18 Mar 1977 in Sioux City, Ia. Then she married 7 Jul 1978 to Kenneth Wayne Mercer who was Charles' best friend. Kenneth was born 2 Aug 19? He was married once before to Trudey Townsey. They couldn't have kids so they adopted: Alfred Leroy (Fred) born 1 Dec 19?

Person 239. Stillborn born 1953 in Sioux City, Ia.

Person 240. Is out of order.

Person 241. Is next: Rene' Christine (Myself). born 26 Dec 1955 in Sioux City, Woodbury, Ia. We have six children. Look at the top of this letter on page 1.

Person 240. Is next: Kevin born 1 Jun 1959 in Sioux City, Ia. He married Stacy Ann Catherine Knight (a very Catholic name). 17 Aug 1985 in Sioux City, Ia. She was born 9 Mar 1963 in Sioux City, Ia. Dau. of Larry Willard Knight and Linda Louise Jean White. They have three children:

1. Samantha Rae born 13 May 1985
2. Danielle Rose born 27 Jan 1987
3. Alex Jordan born 13 Aug 1989

All born in Sioux City, Ia.

2nd wife-Lois Alma Peterson Sanchez Larkin. They married 16 Sep 1961. She was born 11 Dec 1937 in Sioux City, Ia. They had one child: Abbie Lynn born 25 Sep 1962 in Denver, Adams, Co. When she was about 6-7yrs. old she was adopted by Perry Larkin 17 Mar 1968 in Denver, Co. We never saw her after she moved to Denver, Co. We wrote her letters but her mother would just throw them away retending not to receive them. When she was older, she found us after 25yrs. had passed away. When Abbie was full grown, she moved away from her home and found a man inwhich she lived with for five year. Then she married him 15 Jun 1985, in Los Vegas Nev

They have two children: 1. Stephanie Lynn born 6 Jun 1986
2. Christopher Denay born 25 Feb 1988

Both born in Denver, Co. Her hus-Dennis Denay Stoppel

3rd wife-Dorothy Ann Heck Smith Howe. They married 19 Oct 1966 in Denver, Arapahoe, Co. She was born 15 Feb 1935 in Wilton, Mercier, No. Dak. She was married twice before Elgie. James Smith & had one child-Rebecca Patricia born 30 Jan 1954 in Dinuba, Tulare, Ca. 2nd to Wilson Howe and had two children: 1. Steven Lawrence born 28 May 1955 in Kremmling, Grand, Co. 2. Sherriee Lyn born 25 Nov 1956 in Kremmling, Grand, Co. In Aug of 1968 Elgie adopted these three children and in Jul of 1968 Dorothy adopted Elgie's children.

Dorothy divorced Elgie 26 Feb 1970 for the cause of rape he had done to Rebecca and then 2 May 1970 she married Theodore Walker Hurd in Sioux City, Ia. He was married once before and had five children from Betty Jane Andress.

4th wife-Virginia Ruth Christopher Doane. She was born 16 Sep 1928 in Homer, Dakota, Neb. She was married once before and had a son: Robert. His dad died when he was two yrs. old in the service of alcohol. Elgie never adopted Robert.

5th wife-Florence Woten Rager was born 28 Dec 1921 in Rosaline, Neb. She was married once before and had three girls:

1. Lovella Jean born 27 Oct 1938
2. LaVonne Carol born 10 Oct 1940
3. Kathleen Kay born 5 Aug 1948

Elgie & Florence have no children together for they are up there in years. Elgie is abt 65yrs. & Florence is abt 72yrs. old.

well thats all I know, you take care, & god bless ya.

Love.
